12 PERSONS INJURED AS CUBAN STUDENTS BATTLE WITH POLICE

Guns and Machetes Used to Stop Outbreak Against Machado.

CASUALTIES DIVIDED EVENLY IN CONFLICT

Wounds of Trio Believed Serious; Professor, 41 Pupils Jailed.

FIRING DURING RIOT LASTS 25 MINUTES

Havana, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Twelve policemen and students were wounded, three seriously, when a group of university youths staged an anti-government demonstration in the streets shortly before noon today.

Guns, machetes and sticks were used by police in breaking up the demonstration when the students, numbering about 300, shouted threats against the administration and started the march on the presidential palace to demand the resignation of President Machado.

The shooting began shortly before 11 o'clock and lasted 25 minutes.

Casualties Evenly Divided.

Casualties were evenly divided between the bluecoats and the students, reports indicated, and one university professor was under arrest along with 41 students for alleged participation in the disturbance. He is Juan Marinero, head of the language department of the National University.

Rafael Trejo and Pablo de la Torriente, both students, received wounds which are believed will result fatally. Of the police casualties, Officer de la Cruz Benitez was the most seriously wounded.

Reserves of mounted police were dispatched to the scene as soon as the demonstration opened. Streets leading to the latter were kept clear of traffic throughout the day.

President Calls Conference.

No statement regarding the occurrence was forthcoming from the government, but President Machado was known to have called a conference with Rafael Carrera, chief of police of Havana, this afternoon.

A thorough investigation of the anti-government student riot was ordered tonight by the department of the interior. Dr. Augusto Saladrigas, judge of instruction, was appointed special judge to preside at the trial of about 40 arrested students.

Quiet reigned tonight after several hours of tenseness that followed the disturbance. Students stated that the main reason for their demonstration was the six weeks' postponement of the opening of the fall term, to November 15, which they said would "inconvenience" them at the end of the semester.

The term was scheduled to open tomorrow. The postponement was intended to insure tranquility at the university until after the November elections.

Aware of Trouble.

Dr. Ricardo Martinez Prieto, dean of the university, told the Associated Press that he had "been aware that something was going to happen" and that he had "taken all possible means to avert any trouble."

Government protection had been asked, Dr. Prieto said. He stated that in answer to his request police reserves and ambulances were placed at the university at an early hour today.

The students learned of this, however, and assembled in another part of the city for a "mass demonstration of protest against the dictatorship."

Cuban Outbreak Causes Surprise in Capital

(Associated Press.)

As the State Department awaited last night a complete report on the students' outbreak in Havana against the regime of President Machado, officialdom speculated on the possible ramifications of this active demonstration in opposition to the government.

News of the outbreak caused surprise among department officials. Throughout the last six weeks the State Department has been careful in every instance to emphasize its belief that the situation in Cuba should cause no alarm.

11 Killed, 14 Wounded In Jugoslavian Blast

Saloniki, Greece, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Three officers and eight men of the Jugoslavian army were killed by an explosion today in an ammunition dump at Guevgueli, Jugoslavia, close to the Greek frontier.

Fourteen soldiers were wounded.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

Even if the gift of $10,000,000 by Edward S. Harkness to British charity stood alone it would have important significance in the development of philanthropy. This great sum given for the promotion of human welfare in a foreign nation will emphasize again the common brotherhood and the interdependence of all people irrespective of national boundaries.

But this is only one of the generous responses reaching hundreds of millions made by the people of the United States for relief from suffering and for general improvement of conditions in nearly every country of Europe and Asia. These gifts are not only from the great philanthropists of our land but, through the Near East Relief, have come to include benefactions created by the general public.

Nothing like it has occurred in all past history. The only approach to it in our own experience was the legacy of the British subject, James Smithson, of over half a million dollars to the United States for the foundation of the Smithsonian Institution. Such philanthropies draw the world closer together and demonstrate the power of the human race to rise above international antagonisms.

COURT WRITS HALT DANVILLE STRIKE

VALID UNTIL DECEMBER 1

Special to The Washington Post.

Danville, Va., Sept. 30.—Two temporary injunctions alike in character, enjoining strike pickets in the Danville and Schoolfield textile dispute from preventing persons from entering or leaving the gates of the Riverside and Dan River Cotton Mills, were issued this afternoon, one by Judge Turner Clement, of Chatham, to the Dan River division, which is in Pittsylvania County, and the other by Judge Henry Leight, of the corporation court of Danville, to the Riverside division in this city.

The injunction had been served on union officials tonight and copes posted at each of the mill gates. It was learned from mill officials that in view of the injunction the mills tomorrow will send between fifteen and twenty men in to finish work in process of bleaching in order to save it and that workers will be sent in to unload coal to supply boilers. At the Riverside division it was planned to send half a dozen men in to weigh and remove cotton now standing on platforms. It was stated that four truck loads of cotton arrived from North Carolina points this afternoon and were unloaded at the mills without interference by pickets.

The Danville strike, which began yesterday, began a new phase with the court actions. The injunctions will stand, unless changed, until December 1. They recognize the right of union strikers to resort to peaceable persuasion, but enjoins against activities on private mill property in interfering with nonunion workers or others who may wish to enter the

ECUADOR PRESIDENT WILL NOT QUIT POST

Ayora Withdraws Resignation, Heeding Pleas of Cabinet Aids and Citizens.

ALL TRANQUIL IN NATION

Quito, Ecuador, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—President Isidro Ayora of Ecuador tonight withdrew his resignation as chief of state, which he had sent to congress yesterday as "irrevocable." A message announcing his change of decision was read before a full session of congress this evening.

Late this afternoon all the cabinet officers called in a body at the chief executive's mansion in Quito and urged Dr. Ayora to withdraw his resignation.

Congress met in joint session today to receive the message of its special committee, which called on Dr. Ayora shortly after midnight.

When the president's determination to leave office became known, long lines of people called at the presidential palace, including diplomats and journalists, to all of whom Dr. Ayora said he was determined to give up office. Hundreds of telegrams from all parts of the republic protested his resignation.

Dr. Ayora did not attend a meeting of the cabinet scheduled for today, an incident interpreted as meaning that he considered himself no longer president, and otherwise acted as if he were definitely going out of office. He informed the Diplomatic Corps that his decision to resign was irrevocable and also bade farewell to all the members of his secretariat, who had served with him for his five years of office.

Meanwhile, the functions of the chief executive had been taken over by Col. Carlos A. Guerrero, minister of war, who became ranking cabinet officer after the resignation last Sat-

HITLER FASCIST THREAT DEFIED BY CHANCELLOR

Bruening's Ultimatum to Deputies Insists on Program.

ARMED MARCH HINTED BY GRAY SHIRT CHIEF

PRESIDENT SCORNS IMPEACHMENT TALK

Government's Measures to Be Declared Law Should Reichstag Falter.

Berlin, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—With the firm backing of President von Hindenburg, Chancellor Bruening today confronted German parliamentarism with a choice of either saving its own life by speedy action in the hour of the country's dire need, or committing suicide and being sent home indefinitely.

Decision of the government to come out boldly with its financial reform program and force a showdown was decided upon in the face of threats by Adolf Hitler, National Socialist (Fascist) leader that any attempt by the president and chancellor to eliminate Reichstag interference with their program might lead to President von Hindenburg's indictment or to a Fascist putsch.

Ever since September 13, when the election was held which placed 107 Fascists in the new Reichstag, the Bruening cabinet has been working on a program of essential reforms to put the Reich's finances in order.

Final Touches to Program.

Final touches were put to this program late in the night. These consisted of slashing salaries, a bold halt to mounting taxes and a rigid economy in public administration.

No sooner had President von Hindenburg returned today from a few days' outing at the presidential hunting lodge in Schorfheide than the chancellor laid the complete program before him. The veteran chief executive not only approved the measures but pledged himself to back his cabinet to the limit, emphasizing, however, that there must be no dilly-dallying.

It is up to the Reichstag membership, Conservatives, Liberals and Radicals, business interests and farmers to take the Hindenburg-Bruening program or leave it. In other words, the president and his financial aid are willing once more to follow the constitutional method of securing or attempting to secure the Reichstag's approval of the program admittedly rigorous and drastic and demanding vast sacrifices.

Officials' Salaries Studied.

Not the least of the reforms falls directly upon heads of administrative officials from the president down the line to the ranks of civil service. The president will take a salary cut of 20 per cent. He will share this with cabinet ministers and Reichstag members. Civil service salaries will shrink 6 per cent, as will incomes of Reichsbank and other state employes.

A saving of 1,000,000,000 marks under the 1930 budget is estimated. One of the drastic provisions made known was the plan of a special law prohibiting for three years any increase in reich or communal expenditures. With an eye to assisting in checking unemployment, the government proposes to build 215,000 houses and flats. This act will relieve a shortage of dwellings and provide labor to make up in a measure certain decreases in government in-

POLICE TAKEN TO CACHE OF 17 STOLEN AUTOS

Roundup in Woods Near McLean, Va., Is Record for Capital Force.

PRISONERS LEAD TO SPOT AFTER GRILLING

Confession Laid to Two Brothers, Held With Third Suspect.

OWNERS' NAMES ARE GIVEN AFTER CHECK

Identification Made Difficult by Many Alterations on Vehicles.

Seventeen stolen motor cars cached in woods near McLean, Va., were recovered by police yesterday, following the arrest of three men suspected as members of a national auto theft ring.

The roundup of stolen cars is the largest recovery of its kind in the annals of the Washington police. All of the cars had been taken from the city's streets since September 1, Seventh Precinct police said.

The investigation of the theft of numerous expensive automobiles in the past few days led to the detention of Marshall B. and Howard V. Goding, brothers, 26 and 38 years old, respectively, of Pennsylvania avenue near Nineteenth street northwest. They were arrested by Lieut. L. E. Kelly and Policeman G. H. Russell, of the Seventh Precinct, who first noticed them on Twenty-ninth street in a car bearing Florida tags. Statements by them brought about the arrest of Oley W. Jackson, 23, of V street near Thirteenth street northwest. All three were booked for investigation.

Suspects Lead to Cache.

In the woods where the stolen cars were found police also discovered equipment for changing tires, motor numbers and other marks of identification. The machines were returned to the District late yesterday. The investigation will be carried further, Lieut. Kelly said last night.

The Goding brothers were arrested last Friday by Seventh Precinct police. They are said to have been caught siphoning gas from a parked car. Both confessed to stealing a car owned by a Dr. Yost, police said, and after lengthy grilling they agreed to lead their captors to the auto cache near McLean. Here authorities found seventeen cars of various makes and sizes.

Car Allegedly Stolen.

Jackson denied knowledge of the "ring," but was detained when police reported finding a number-changing stencil in his possession.

Howard V. Goding, the elder brother, is from Tampa, Fla., police said. He left there some weeks ago. Numerous District of Columbia and Florida license tags were found in the car he drove, which had been stolen in Florida, according to police.

A confession which police say they obtained from the Goding brothers came after hours of grilling to which the pair were subjected. Among those to whom credit is given for bringing about the "break" which led to the woodland retreat are Patrol Driver J. T. Nash, Precinct Detective F. E. Stroman and Policeman E. J. La Force, al lof the Seventh Precinct.

Cars Considerably Altered.

Members of the automobile squad at headquarters checked up on lists of cars reported stolen in an effort to restore the cars to their owners. They were hampered in this work by the numerous changes made in the appearance of the recovered vehicles.

(Sports Editor of The Post).

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—The eve of another world series caught up with America again tonight and on the morrow the Athletics and the Cardinals plunge into the classic game that will determine major league supremacy for 1930, with 40,000 persons, headed by President Hoover and guests, witnessing the opening-game proceedings at Shibe Park and a Nation awaiting the result.

Winners of 35 out of a stretch of 60 games in a kaleidoscopic whirl of events at the fag end of the season that carried them from the ruck of fourth place through the opposition of heavy favorites to the National League pennant in a "miracle" dash, the St. Louis Cardinals can regard their feat now as only an anticlimax for there are still the Athletics to be beaten back, and the Athletics are quoted as the favorites at odds of 7 to 5 to win the series.

Not since the memorable days of 1924, when the boy manager, "Bucky" Harris, led a surprising Washington team and Walter Johnson into their first world series experience, has a postseason series captured the imagination of the fans and supercharged the interest like the edition of baseball's annual October opus now to be unfolded.

Gabby Street vs. Connie Mack.

And no opening game in recent series has carried the promised significance of tomorrow's clash when the gnarled and knotted hands of Manager Gabby Street, for five years on the receiving end of the "ghost balls" of Walter Johnson's heyday, pull the strings that will direct the attack of his Cardinals, arrayed against the sagacity of the 67-year-old Connie Mack, who will be seeking his second consecutive world's championship for his Athletics.

Mack and Street will shoot with their aces tomorrow. Street definitely committed himself to his spitball ace, Burleigh Grimes, two days ago and by all the laws of baseball logic, Connie Mack has no alternative but to send the peerless Grove in the opening game. But the sage of the

STOCKS AGAIN DROP AS SISTO CO. FAILS

Share Prices Plunge Down for Sixth Successive Trading Session.

LOFTUS FIRM CLOSES

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Share prices on the New York Stock and Curb exchanges plunged downward for the sixth consecutive trading session today, as the decline gained fresh impetus from the first failure of a prominent Wall street investment house since the great bull market came to grief a year ago.

Not in recent stock exchange history has the market closed lower for so many consecutive days. During the terrific crash of last November the market closed persistently lower on no more than four consecutive days, although, compared to that crash, the current decline has been a mere flop.

During the middle of the afternoon, President Whitney, of the Stock Exchange, mounted the rostrum and announced that J. A. Sisto & Co. has been suspended for insolvency. The firm was later suspended by the New York Curb and Philadelphia Stock exchanges. The New York Stock Exchange has had but four financial casualties among its members since the crash of last autumn, and the first three were regarded as of minor importance. In the past five years there have been only seven failures.

Earlier in the session, what appeared to be powerful support had been thrown into the market, and many traders felt that one of the sharp automatic upturns such as normally punctuate protracted declines was in the making. These were soon lost, however, and a hectic flurry of selling accompanied the Sisto announcement. The market made partial recovery, however, before the closing gong.

The Sisto firm was founded in 1922. It maintained offices in Boston and Philadelphia, and had correspondents in several cities in Europe and Latin America. For a time the Dresden Bank of Germany was interested in the firm. Mr. Sisto, the son of an Italian immigrant, was born in Newark, N. J., 41 years ago.

ROOSEVELT PLACES STATE ISSUES FIRST

Renominated for Governor, He Challenges Stand Taken by Tuttle.

SMITH RAPS CORRUPTION

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Renominated unanimously for a second term by the New York State Democratic convention today, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in his speech to the delegates declared that the campaign must be fought out on State issues rather than on conditions in New York City.

The governor did not refer specifically to the grand jury investigation of alleged judicial scandals in the Greater City. His reference was to the acceptance speech of his Republican opponent, Charles H. Tuttle, in which the latter, after dwelling upon alleged judicial corruption in New York, declared that the issue was whether the Governor of the State "is bigger than Tammany Hall."

Gov. Roosevelt declared he would not allow the Republican candidate to evade State issues, but would withhold his program until his acceptance speech two weeks hence.

"At that time I shall try to make clear not only to the members of my own party, but to all the voters of the State my position on those tremendous problems which confront us in these dark hours of 'Republican prosperity,'" he said.

Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in his speech renominating Gov. Roosevelt today declared office holders unfaithful to their trust should not only be removed from their posts but should be driven from the ranks of the Democratic party and be prosecuted in the courts. The declaration was an amplification of the plank adopted by the convention last night.

The former governor's statement regarding corruption came in the course of his criticism of the platform adopted by the Republican State convention at Albany last week.

"The Republican platform," he said, "speaks of corruption in the government of the cities of New York and Albany and stresses improper and corrupt practices with respect to the judiciary. Certainly that plank can not be aimed against the Democratic

Girl, 14, and 'Steady,' 18, Elope, Wed and Disappear

Parents of Western High School Bridegroom, Believed Hiding With Friends, Will Seek Annulment; Bride "Not at Home" After Rockville Ceremony.

An elopement and secret marriage Saturday in Rockville by a 14-year-old Washington girl and her 18-year-old Western High School sweetheart came to light yesterday when the couple went into hiding, apparently aware that the parents intended to seek speedy annulment.

The girl is Dorothy Strieby, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Strieby, a trained nurse, of 3904 Northampton street northwest, and her husband is Reginald Hereford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hereford, of 4335 Chesapeake street northwest.

Slipping away quietly, from their homes Saturday, they held a rendezvous and with several friends drove to Rockville, where they obtained a license, the girl giving her age as 18 years, and the boy declaring himself 21 years old. They were married at the parsonage of the First Baptist Church in Rockville.

They went to their homes and gave no inkling of the ceremonies, the suspicion of the families not being aroused until the disappearance of the two on Monday. Hereford left home to attend classes at Western High School, but has not been seen there this week, while his bride left her home on the pretext of shopping.

The boy's parents declared last night that they intended to seek annulment at once.

"We know that Reginald and Dorothy were married, but we are confident that they are not living together," declared Mrs. Hereford. "Although we don't know exactly where Reginald is, we are convinced that he is staying at the home of one of his friends, as he probably doesn't want to come home for a day or two, knowing that we have received word of the wedding.

"The two children have been going together for about a year, and we knew Dorothy. She is a very nice little girl, but she's very young. Since Reginald didn't have a car, some of his friends must have helped him do this. We know that Mrs. Strieby is as anxious as we are to have this marriage annulled."

Inquiries at the Strieby home last night brought only the reply that Mrs. Strieby was "not at home" and that Dorothy had not returned. The girl last year was a student at Holy Cross Academy.

Follow the World Series On The Post's Scoreboard

Washington fans need not go to Philadelphia or St. Louis to see the world's series games, which start today in the Quaker City with the Mackmen and Cardinals as the contending teams. As usual, The Washington Post will present the progress of each game, almost simultaneously with the actual play, on its fascinating magnetic scoreboard. This shows the actual progress of the ball, pitch-by-pitch and play-by-play, and presents the game almost as interestingly as do the players themselves on the diamond.

In addition to the scoreboard, radio loud speakers have been installed so that fans may hear as well as see the doings at all of the series games. Besides giving a play-by-play description, any unusual happenings and interesting sidelights will be put on the air, these details coming direct from the field of battle by special wires.

Play in the games scheduled at Philadelphia today and tomorrow starts promptly at 1:30 Washington time, while the contests listed in the National League city Saturday, Sunday and Monday get under way at 2:30 Washington time. Traffic will be stopped on E street so that there will be plenty of room in front of The Washinton Post Building for fans who want to take advantage of the opportunity offered them—of both seeing and hearing what goes on in the baseball classics.

Mrs. Margaret Pou Moran Obtains Divorce in Reno

Papers in Case Sealed, But Charges Against Financier Mate Are Understood to Be Mental Cruelty; Action Once Started in Capital.

(Picture on Page Seven.)

Mrs. Margaret Pou Moran, daughter of Representative Edward W. Pou, of North Carolina, yesterday was granted a divorce in Reno, Nev., from her husband, Carleton Edward Moran, head of the well-known Washington financial house of C. E. Moran & Co., Inc., 1716 H street northwest.

The papers in the case were sealed, according to Associated Press advices from Reno which stated that it was understood the charges were mental cruelty.

Mrs. Moran on December 31 had filed a suit in District Supreme Court for limited divorce from her husband, charging cruelty. The couple was married January 17, 1925, and separated last December 10. They have two children, 4-year-old Margaret Pou Moran and 1-year-old Edward William Pou Moran.

Mrs. Moran, in her suit here charged that her husband was habitually addicted to the use of intoxicants and that at times he has lain in bed for a day or more in a drunken stupor, while at other times he has been in such a nervous condition as a result of such alleged indulgence in intoxicants that it has been necessary to call in a physician to quiet him.

She alleged further that her husband has been harsh and cruel to her and that at times he has been abusive and profane to her in the presence of her friends and her servants. To set out the profanity, she stated in the suit, "would be to spread indecent matter upon the records of the honorable court."

The alleged use of profane epithets has been so frequent, she charged, that the small daughter has learned them and has repeated them.

Mrs. Moran in her suit here asked that she be awarded the custody of the two children, that her husband be restrained from attempting to interfere with her custody of the children, and that she be given adequate alimony, making statements to prove her contention that Mr. Moran had an annual income aggregating between $25,000 and $75,000.

She last made her home with her two children at the Burlington Hotel, the residence also of her parents when Congress is in session.

NEWS of SUBURBAN Washington and the Surrounding States

Appears on Pages 3 and 24 Today

Philadelphia dugout can never be anticipated and custom of making no announcement of his pitchers has again been rigidly observed. But the consensus points to Grove, always with the mental recollection of the strategical insertion of Howard Ehmke in the opening game of the 1929 series against the Cubs with such devastating effect on the Cubs.

What fears there are for the success of the Athletics' cause hinge about the scarcity of effective pitchers in the Macklan fold, with Grove and Earnshaw alone ranking with the "big five" of the Cardinal staff, or outranking them. Grove must be used twice if not three times in the series to serve the Philadelphia cause best, is the indication as a result of Mack's apparent lack of mound talent and his nomination for the opening game is taken as almost a foregone conclusion.

Frisch Confined to Bed.

Paramount among the late developments in Philadelphia was the announcement that Frankie Frisch, Cardinal captain and second baseman, is confined to his bed with a recurrent lumbago attack that has troubled him for more than a month, and a statement from Frisch close upon word of his illness that he was prepared to take his place in the infield tomorrow at all costs, but believing himself ready to play.

World series developments of the past three years has almost converted the 1930 classic into a trial of the National League. Since the Cardinals beat the Yankees in the seven-game series of 1926, the National League has been able to win only one game of the thirteen played in succeeding series—the victory of the Cubs over the Macks in the fourth game of 1929.

The Cardinals themselves figured in four of these routes when they lost four straight to the Yankees in 1928, but they are looked to salvage National League honors this week, doubtless the more popular of the two contenders as a result of their fighting National League finish that has captured the fancy of the fans.

Grove vs. Grimes.

There is the prospect of a world series pitching epic. The ace of the American League pitchers against the star and brilliant Cardinal staff. The fire-ball heaver of the junior circuit against one of the four remaining legalized spit-ball pitchers in organized baseball with sixteen service stripes in the majors, mainstay with the Robins, Giants and Pirates of former years who also saw service with the Braves before being traded to St. Louis early in the season.

Ironical it is that champions of a "pitcher's" league, the Mackmen have failed to develop a staff comparable to that of the Cardinals, champions of a league known as "hitter's paradise." But in Grove Connie Mack boasts the man recognized as the best of all the big league pitchers and on Grove rests with increasing weight the burden of the Athletics and the cause of the American League.

National League batters in recent years have never gazed at the speed or the curve of a Grove and that these propensities of the tall left-hander of the Mackmen are effective, the Cubs of 1929 will testify so eloquently under the heading of "strikeouts."

Earnshaw, his lone other consistent winner, and Walberg are destined to bear with Grove the brunt of Mack's pitching burden with the possibility always that Rommel, Mahaffey or Shores will find their way to the mound, or even start a game.

Mack is like that.

In nominating Grimes so confidently, Street is taking advantage of past performances of spitball twirlers against the Athletics, pointing to the uniform good success with which Urban Faber, moist-ball veteran of the White Sox, has turned back the Macks over the regular season. Grimes, too, pitches with his head as well as his arm and is best calculated of the St. Louis staff to circumvent the threat of Simmons, Foxx and Cochrane in the A's batting line-up, whose penchant for breaking up ball games in world series and out is very well established.

In support of Grimes, Street is able to throw into the breach four other capable moundsmen in "Wild Bill" Hallahan, his probable choice for the second game; Jesse Haines, Flint Rhem, and Sylvester Johnson, all of whom boast impressive percentages, and who virtually pitched the Cards to the National League flag.

Cardinal Hitting Strength.

Cardinal hopes are based, too, on a superior infield in both hitting and fielding, and a harder hitting outfield. Two regular members of the Athletics, "Bing" Miller, in right field, and "Mule" Haas, in left, have fallen from their high-hitting pace of last season, both barely batting .300, and lowering considerable the impressive average that the team carried into the series of 1929.

Whereas, Simmons, Foxx and Cochrane form the spearhead of a Philadelphia attack that otherwise is far from impressive, sluggers sprout throughout the St. Louis line-up from Douthit, leading-off through Watkins, batting sixth and averaging .379, and Mancuso, hitting seventh and boasting an average of .370.

But the Cubs of 1929 also carried a theoretical hitting age into the series against the Athletics when with Wilson, Cuyler, Stephenson, Hornsby and Grimm having pounded National League hurling with such great eclat only to learn that Howard Ehmke, Grove, Walberg and Earnshaw had the talent to reduce their attack to an almost irreducible minimum.

Figures count for little in a short series when the comparatively weaker hitters, known not as great, but as "dangerous," are prone to take the play away. And the Athletics have such hitters in Bishop, Dykes, Miller and Haas.

The victor tomorrow, needless to repeat, will have a tremendous advantage. If the Cardinals win they will be pronounced favorites. Defeat for Grove will send Philadelphia hopes crashing, but a victory turned in for Grove might well foretell the ultimate result of the series in no uncertain terms. Twice in the series, and may be three times, he will be given a chance to exert the mastery of his fire-ball. The Cardinals tomorrow must hurdle the specter of Lefty Grove. Two doses, or may be three doses of him before the series is over. And the Cardinals face another hurdle—no National League Club has won the opening game of a world series since 1924, when the Giants beat Washington.

This correspondent banks on Grove to justify his leaning toward the Athletics by winning the first game of the series and mayhap two more, unless the Macks complete the business in hand in such short order that Grove's third appearance on the mound will be rendered unnecessary.

Two Killed, One Injured As Three Planes Crash

Brundel, Sussex, England, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A heavy fog today caused three planes of the Royal Air Force to strike tree tops and crash, resulting in two deaths and one injury. Lieut. Armstrong was killed immediately, Sergt. Birkenshaw died late this afternoon, and Officer Pawson was slightly injured.

The planes were flying low over the Arundel Park home of the Duke of Norfolk when they struck the tops of some tall beech trees.

CHAMBER SPEAKER OUTLINES PROGRAM

Expansion of Activities Is Explained at Meeting by T. P. Littlepage.

LEASURE IS ALSO HEARD

The expansion program of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, in which a more active participation of the chamber is proposed in civic and Federal affairs and the extension of industries was outlined last night by Thomas P. Littlepage at a meeting of the organization in the Willard Hotel.

In civic and Federal affairs it was proposed that the organization strive for national representation for the solution of the fiscal-relations problem and to work before Congress for more legislation for schools, libraries, parks, health agencies, highways and bridges.

Mr. Littlepage also told his listeners that national advertising for the city is suggested by the chamber to secure more conventions and attract tourists by providing for their welcome and preparing itineraries for them.

In industrial affairs, he said, the chamber will survey and advertise present local industries, encourage home patronage, expand industrial exhibitions and strive to attract appropriate industries.

In regards to traffic and transportation it will be the intention of the organization, he said, to study and improve street traffic, parking and garaging. In addition to this it will attempt to secure advantageous freight rates, improve the port of Washington and promote air mail, passenger and freight service.

To further the trade extension a "Buy in Washington" movement will be promoted.

Brooklyn Man Seeks His Son, Is in Capital

John Rosman, of Brooklyn, N. Y., arrived in Washington yesterday to aid police in searching for his 15-year-old son, Erich, reported missing from his home since September 26.

Police were told that the boy had registered at the local Y. M. C. A. annex, but had checked out several days ago, leaving no forwarding address. Third Precinct police broadcast a lookout.

STRIKERS AT DANVILLE ENJOINED BY COURTS

mills. Attorneys for the mills, while of the belief that one injunction would suffice, decided to eliminate possibility of argument, obtained separate bills applying to city and county territory.

The court action was the first major development of the strike. It came upon the heels of two incidents, in which nonunion members were prevented by union pickets from entering the mills ostensibly for the purpose of completing work which would save goods in process in chemical vats from spoiling.

One such incident was yesterday and the other this morning. L. J. Rushworth, superintendent of the Riverside division, sought to take through the gates three nonunion men ot do such work. He warned pickets that they were on mill property and as such were trespassers, but this failed to cause the pickets to give in. Rushworth sought police intervention, but was told by Chief J. H. Martin that as no warrant had been issued and that there had been no violence the police would not intervene. Rushworth then commanded the trio to leave the scene.

These incidents revealed a stern tug of war between the union and the mill management involving differences of opinion as to rights of strikers and those of workmen willing to perform certain duties to save goods in process and to maintain heads of steam sufficient to enforce fire insurance regulations.

Picketing has been carried on by verbal argument, with no effort by either side to resort to force.

17 STOLEN AUTOS FOUND IN WOODS

Motor numbers have been altered and tires changed. Ten sets of tags were found in a car said to have been taken by the band. Many of the machines at the camp were found to be without tags. Practically all of them are 1930 cars, it was said.

Names of Owners.

Ownership of the stolen autos was later established and the following list was given out last night at police headquarters:

Irvin T. Donohue, Fourteenth and P streets northwest; Ralph H. Williams, Tilden Apartments; Dorothy Lorraine, 3900 Connecticut avenue; Thomas C. WHARF GROUP HEAD RAPS WATER FRONT

District Commissioners Are Told Improvement Is Needed at Once.

CALLS DOCKS UNSIGHTLY

Washington's river front is widely known for its unsightly and unsatisfactory condition, and steps should be taken immediately to improve it, Roland M. Brennan, chairman of the District wharf committee told the District Commissioners in the annual report of the committee made public yesterday.

"Persistent efforts should be made to remove this blot from the National Capital," Mr. Brennan said, "not only because of the proximity of East Potomac Park, one of Washington's most popular recreation centers, which attracts thousands of visitors, but because of the economic betterment of the general community. The wharf committee can not urge too strongly that steps be taken as soon as practicable to begin work on the long-delayed project for the development and improvement of this part of Washington's water front."

Administration of wharf affairs, the report said, "has been troublesome because of the uncertainty as to when the general improvement of the water front will be begun. Wharf tenants naturally decline to make improvements on rented property because of short-term leases. Recurring requests for funds for reconstruction and maintenance of wharves used for municipal purposes must be made due to deterioriation and decay of water-front structures. Further delay in general improvement only adds to the cost of maintenance."

The report was signed by C. R. Whyte, engineer of bridges, and Lieut. E. T. Harney, commander of the Police Harbor Precinct, as well as by Mr. Brennan, and called attention to the fact that there is pending before Congress a program of water-front improvement over a five-year period. The program has been approved by the Army chief of engineers. It calls for an expenditure of $8,691,000, of which the Federal Government would pay $2,392,280 and the District government would pay $1,299,320.

Montgomery County Registration Heavy

Returns from approximately one-half of the 24 Montgomery County voting precincts last night showed a fairly heavy registration, with Republicans slightly in the lead. Yesterday's registration, however, was far behind the record set by the registration held prior to the Democratic primary.

The twelve precincts which had reported at 11 o'clock last night showed 546 Republicans and 430 Democrats registered. In the last registration approximately 4,400 Democrats and 400 Republicans were registered. The voting strength of the two parties now is approximately 20,000 Democrats and 8,000 Republicans.

Have Courage to Spend

Deposits in banks have increased from $8,916,000,000 in 1906 to $53,852,000,000 in 1930, and in savings banks from $2,908,000,000 to $9,145,000,000. Here is incredible wealth piled up and only waiting for a little courage to release a measure of it that will speed up business in all lines and kill the bugaboo of unemployment . . . We have had too much of reckless extravagance in the past, but now the pendulum has swung to the opposite extreme. The motto for every business and every individual today should be: Spend wisely, but spend, and stop hoarding . . . Let Post advertising aid you in establishing standards of true value!

Maj. Pratt Makes Shifts After Several Elevations Are Approved.

BECKETT NEW CAPTAIN

Promotions incident to the retirement of Capt. William E. Sanford, veteran commander of the Fifth Police Precinct, were approved yesterday by the District Commissioners and immediately Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, announced shifts in commands of three precincts and in the duties of several privates.

Capt. Sanford's retirement became effective at the end of yesterday's police day and Lieut. James F. Beckett, of the First Precinct, was promoted to captain. Capt. Beckett will take command of the Third Precinct. Capt. William G. Stott, who has commanded that precinct for some time, taking over command of the Sixth Precinct. Capt. J. M. Walsh, who has been in command of the Sixth Precinct, will take over command of the Fifth Precinct.

Sergt. James C. Holmes, of the Harbor Precinct, was made a lieutenant and assigned to the Tenth Precinct. Lieut. F. A. Varney, of that precinct, was assigned to the First Precinct to fill the vacancy caused by promotion of Lieut. Beckett.

Private Robert C. Pearce was promoted to sergeant and assigned from the Third to the Fifth Precinct.

Private Wallace M. Suthard was dismounted and transferred from the Traffic Bureau to the Sixth Precinct. Private Kenneth M. Greenlow was mounted on a motorcycle and assigned from the Third Precinct to the Traffic Bureau. Private George M. Patton was mounted and assigned from the Fourteenth Precinct to the Traffic Bureau. Private W. I. Griggs was transferred from the Second to the Sixth Precinct. Private J. H. Calk was transferred from the Thirteenth to the Second Precinct, and Private J. W. Shimon was mounted on a bicycle in the Third Precinct, succeeding Pearce.

Street Car Riders Fewest Since 1913

August Traffic of Both Lines Shows Sharp Falling Off.

Revenue passengers carried by the two street car companies of Washington were fewer in number than in any other month since 1913, with the exception of the summer of 1917 when the Washington Railway & Electric Co. was having a bitter labor battle with its employes and the Washington public forsook it to ride on Capital Traction cars or walk or ride in jitneys which sprang into being.

The two companies carried only 8,447,179 pay passengers in August, figures filed with the Public Utilities Commission show. Earl V. Fisher, executive secretary of the commission, translated the figures to a graphic chart which shows that the number is less than ever before carried with the exception of the strike period. In August last year the companies carried 9,866,629 and in August, 1928, they carried 9,794,100.

Although the number of revenue passengers carried has dropped more or less steadily since 1920, the higher carfares which the companies got the court to enforce are responsible for at least a part of the drop in August, traffic, experts agree.

CATHOLICS ADVISED ON MEXICANS IN U.S.

Immigrant Problem Is Told to Delegates Attending Charities Parley.

MONTAVON IS SPEAKER

The problem presented by the Mexican immigrant in this country was studied by a special committee of the National Conference of Catholic Charities yesterday. The conference is in session at the Willard.

Speaking before the committee on Catholic action among Spanish and Mexican people in the United States, William A. Montavon, director of the legal department of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, declared that the Mexican immigrant problem presents a challenge to the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

Mr. Montavon showed that immigration of Mexicans to this country has doubled in the last ten years until there are now not less than 1,000,000 aliens of Mexican nationality in the United States.

Recommendations by Speaker.

The speaker recommended that the Mexican problem be studied by the conference with a view of adopting a program of action which would tend to a solution of the situation in a permanent way.

The ultimate purpose of charity is justice, the speaker pointed out, and justice calls for the removal of those conditions out which arises the inability of men and women to provide adequately through their labor the conditions indispensable for right living.

Little progress in naturalizing the Mexican immigrant will be made as long as his status is allowed to remain as it is in this country, the conference was told by the Rev. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau in Los Angeles and chairman of the committee.

Treated Unfairly, Claim.

"His rights," Father Dwyer said, "are not given recognition, and even when he becomes a citizen he is still treated as a foreigner."

Pointing out that there are many fine traits in the Mexican, Father Dwyer suggested that it be the duty of beneficial organizations to aid the Mexicans in this country and to seek a deeper understanding of the people and their problems.

Miss Rose J. McHugh, of the National Catholic Welfare Conference of this city, was another speaker at the committee meeting on Spanish and Mexican people. "We need to show these people," she said, "that better days are before them. The problem, as it is, is founded on economic unequality. Our task with the Spanish-speaking group is that of giving to the immigrant an environment in which he may have some chance of self-realization.

Program for Jobless.

A constructive program for the remedy of unemployment and business depressions was presented to the conference yesterday morning by J. Rogers Flannery, Pittsburgh manufacturer and prominent lay social worker.

Mr. Flannery recommended that President Hoover create a national employment stabilization council, representative of all business and industrial interests; also a commission on public improvements to develop a plan whereby Federal, State and municipal governments might lay out a definite program of ten years or more on public improvements to be available for operation in times of depression.

The council, Mr. Flannery suggested, should be made up of employes of every grade and class of business and industry, both public and private.

Telegram Is Made Basis Of Suit Filed by Woman

A telegram was made the basis of a libel suit filed yesterday in District Supreme Court. Carlotta M. Holtz, of 2721 Fourteenth street northwest, is the plaintiff, while the National Furniture Co., of 801 Seventh street northwest, is the defendant.

The woman alleges that the company sent her a telegram to the effect that unless she visited its offices immediately drastic action would be taken. She declares that the telegram injured her good name and reputation.

1,027 SEEK CHANGE IN COUNTY REGIME

Petitioners Ask Election on Question at Present Agitating Arlington.

MAY VOTE NOVEMBER 4

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

With a total of 1,07 signers, to the petitions for an election on the question of a change in the form of county government, the Arlington County Civic Federation committee last night brought to a successful conclusion an intensive two weeks' campaign, during which the petitions were circulated in every section of the county. Robert N. Anderson, chairman of the committee in charge of the work, was highly elated when the final returns indicated that the total number of signers would exceed the goal of 1,000 which had been set by the committee at the beginning of the campaign.

Maintaining its early lead, Lyon Park, under the chairmanship of C. K. Lewis, had a final total of 198. Second on the list the Virginia Highlands Precinct, under the leadership of Mrs. Claude S. Semones reported 110 signres. Following in close order, East Falls Church, led by Harry A. Fellows, had 101; Fort Myer Heights, Robert E. Plymale, chairman, 100; Ashton Heights, Hugh J. McGrath, chairman, 96; Clarendon Citizens Association, E. L. Bennett, chairman, 95.

Other communities and organizations reporting are, Lyon Village, William D. Medley, chairman, 81; Livingstone Heights, John A. Petty, chairman, 47; Arlington Citizens Association, Mrs. Florence E. Cannon, chairman, 41; Arlington Ridge, Gilson Gardner, chairman, 25; Cherrydale Citizens Association, Julian D. Simpson, chairman, 23; Parent-Teacher Association, James Monroe School, Monroe H. Stockett, chairman, 22; Arlington County Bar Association, Walter U. Varney, chairman, 18; Organized Women Voters of Arlington County, Mrs. Florence E. Cannon, chairman, 11; Leeway Citizens Association, William C. Hull, chairman, 9; Walker's Chapel, John K. White, chairman, 8; Ballston Citizens Association, Grover E. Payne, chariman, 6; Parent-Teacher Association, Patrick Henry School, George F. Cook, chairman, 4, and miscellaneous, 12.

Walter U. Varney, a member of the Federation committee, has prepared the court order calling for the election and expects to present the petition to Circuit Court udge Walter T. McCarthy some time today. He will request the judge to fix the day of the election on Tuesday, November 4, the regular election day, that date having been recommended by the Arlington County Civic Federation at its last meeting.

Pursuant to the request of Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, executive officer of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, as set forth in his letter to the county board of supervisors, the board at its meeting yesterday appointed Keith A. Brumback, former president of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce and president of the Brumback Realty Co., as the county's representative on a board of appraisers for the purpose of valuing land in Arlington County for the construction of the George Washington Memorial Parkway.

The appraisal board, as pointed out by Col. Grant, would consist of three members, one from Arlington County, a second appointed by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission and the third by the first two members appointed.

As stated by the county board of supervisors, Mr. Brumback will act for Arlington County as far as the land from the Key Bridge to Great Falls is concerned.

The letter from Col. Grant reads, in part:

"I hope that this commission may assume you are interested in carrying out the project for the George Washington Memorial Parkway provided for in section 1 of the Capper-Cramton bill. Certainly this is a project of great interest to your county, not only from the standpoint of making it a more delightful place to live in but also from the economic advantages that may accruete the county in increased assessed values and improvements.

"This commission has been studying intensively the ways and means of initiating purchases within the limits of the project. Some proposals have been received, which would enable the commission to buy considerable aeas if it could take advantage of the provision for advancing the funds that the law requires be contributed by the local interests."

This proviso reads: "Provided, that in the discretion of the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, upon agreement duly entered into by the States of Maryland and Virginia or any political subdivision thereof to reimburse the United States as hereinafter provided, it may advance the full amount of the funds necessary for acquisition of the lands and the construction of said roads in any such unit referred to in this paragraph, such agreement providing for reimbursement to the United States to the extent of one-half of the cost thereof without interest within not more than eight years from the date of any such expenditure."

"If, therefore," the letter continues, "any arrangement can be entered into by your board which will satisfy you that you can give some sort of a binding guarantee for ultimately paying the second half of the purchase price of any unit, this commission would be at liberty to go ahead with the purchase of property so covered. We would welcome your cooperation in this regard.

"In connection with the purchase of any property in Virginia, the commission would wish to arrive at a fair value for it in advance of entering into a binding agreement. Since the assessed values do not always afford a criterion of the actual value, detailed appraisals for each unit of the project should be undertaken as soon as practicable. The question naturally arises as to how such an appraisal can be arrived at fairly and justly. I have had in mind that, as far as concerns Arlington County property, a board might be set up consisting of a representative of your board and a representative of this commission, the two men to select the third member competent to advise them on real estate values. I believe a board so constituted would arrive at a conclusion likely to be fair to the public authorities as well as the land owners."

It was stated by Chairman Edward Duncan that Mr. Brumback will report to the board as to his opinoin as to the real values of the land which will have to be acquired to carry out the provisions of the Capper-Cramton bill.

Following the definite policy adopted at a recent meeting, the board yesterday approved applications for extensions of the lateral water lines totaling 5,367 feet.

The extensions as approved will be made on the following streets: Virginia and Park avenue, in Clarendon, 736 feet; Alexandria avenue, in Clarendon, 635 feet; Brookvale avenue, in Lyon Park, 180 feet; Colonial tareet, in Rosslyn, 500 feet; Cherry Valley road, in Ballston, 1,500 feet; South Oak street, Lyon Park, 400 feet; Cedar street, Mulhall, 281 feet; Clements avenue, Cherrydale, 650 feet; Azalia street, Arlington, 335 feet, and Maryland avenue, Clarendon, 1,150 feet.

From announcements from the office of County Engineer C. L. Kinnier it was reported that a total of four cars of pipe has been ordered, which it is hoped will be delivered within the next ten days, at which time work on these extensions will be started.

After considerable debate on the part of counsel for both sides, Emery N. Hosmer, for the opposition, and J. Hammond Brewer, representing the Lee Boulevard Association in the question of the application by the Alexandria Park Association for enlargement to the cemetery owned by it, the board granted the permit.

It was pointed out by Attorney Brewer that the owners of the cemetery property were ready to give to the Boulevard Association six acres of land for rights of way providing the extension be allowed, and if not that within ten days condemnation proceedings would be started by the State Highway Department. He further declared that all provisions of the law as to notice to property owners had been complied with.

Attorney Hoamer declared that the provisions of the law as to notice and to give the opposition an opportunity to be heard at a public hearing had not been given.

Mr. Hosmer noted an appeal from the decision of the board.

Sheriff Howard B. Fields raised the question that it was more expensive ot have to travel 4.2 miles every time a member of the police force needed gasoline, which is now the case since the board ordered the removal of the delivery of gasoline to the courthouse. Chairman Edward Duncan stated that the board will consider this question at its next meeting, which will be held Tuesday morning, October 7, at the courthouse.

A meeting sponsored by the committee on boys' work of the Arlington Rotary Club to organize the Boy Scout work in Arlington County was held last night in the rooms of the Arlington County Chamber of Commerce with more than 25 representative men from all sections of the county attending.

Among the speakers were Harry B. Caton, of Alexandria, district chairman of Northern Virginia Boy Scouts; Lynn C. Drake, Scout executive of the District of Columbia, and William Leitch, Scout executive of Northern Virginia.

It was pointed out that the purpose of the gathering was to arouse an interest among the citizens that would result in the raising of funds to carry on and support the Scout movement in Arlington County. Heretofore Scout activities including camp privileges of the county have been paid by other counties, Alexandria City and the District of Columbia. It was planned to form a committee with representatives from all county organizations to raise a fund of $1,200.

The Woman's Society of the Clarendon Presbyterian Church announces it will hold a benefit supper tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Rex Hunt, 108 North Hamilton avenue, from 5:30 to 7. The proceeds will be applied to the manse fund.

A reception to the teachers of the Matthew Fountaine Maury School at Clarendon will feature the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association to be held at the schoolhouse tomorrow night.

The reception will follow the holding of a short business session.

Archbishop Curley Is Returning Home

Expects to Reach Baltimore Saturday After Visit to Ireland.

Archbishop Michael J. Curley, of Baltimore, will arrive in Baltimore Saturday after visiting his 79-year-old mother in Athlone, Ireland. Archbishop Curley reached New York Monday aboard the liner Scythia. It was his twenty-fifth crossing of the Atlantic.

He was accompanied by Mgr. David O'Dwyer, assistant chancellor of CathoHc University; the Rev. Philip E. McGuire and his niece, Delia Maken. The archbishop in New York yesterday said that conditions in the Irish Free State are sound and there is no visible signs of poverty.

He also paid a tribute to George W. Russell, the Irish poet who is now in this country. "We are not of the same church," he said, "but I am glad to say that I know of no one in Ireland who has done more to advance the cause of the farmer."

Mere $500 Theft Charged to Jacobs

Former Paramount Cashier Indicted; Shortage Held $70,000 in Suit.

Although Edgar Jacobs, former cashier of the Paramount Publix Corporation and the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation, is being sued in District Supreme Court for the recovery of $70,000, which he is alleged to have embezzled, the grand jury in two indictments returned yesterday charges him only with the embezzlement of approximately $500.

Jacobs is indicted on a charge of embezzling approximately $400 from the Paramount Famous Lasky Corporation and $100 from the Paramount Publix Corporation. Jacobs at present is under bond of $10,000, and it was understood that upon arraignment the bond would be continued.

Jacobs is alleged to have carried on his embezzlements over a period of three years and to have accomplished the extraction of $70,000 through indorsement of money orders and express orders received by the corporation. Such charges are contained in the civil suit, which was filed through Attorneys Frank F. Nesbit and L. H. Mercier.

surance. Federal payments to state treasuries will be cut sharply and poor relief limited.

Simplification of government bureaus will be effected and the personnel heavily reduced. A revaluation of lands will eliminate farms listed at less than $5,000 entirely from taxation.

Search for Majority.

Although nobody could be found today who seemed to know where the parliamentary majority for this program is to be found, Chancellor Bruening nevertheless hopes that all well-wishers of the German Republic may rally to the platform.

Should the Reichstag, however, refuse is support, then it is understood that President Hindenburg will authorize his chancellor to declare the program law, by virtue of a section of article 48 of the constitution, which provides: "If safety and order in the German commonwealth is materially disturbed or endangered, the president may take measures necessary to restore public safety and order and, if necessary, intervene by force of arms. To this end he may temporarily suspend, in whole or in part, fundamental rights guaranteed by the constitution."

There is a possibility, however, that the Reichstag might itself invoke another provision of the same article, revoking these measures "at the demand of the Parliament."

Corespondent Named In Action for Divorce

Naming a corespondent, Mrs. Cleo Keyser, of Montello avenue northeast, near Fourteenth street, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court seeking an absolute divorce from her husband, Earl Keyser.

The woman charges that her husband deserted her on December 13, 1926, on the pretext that he was going to attend a wedding. The couple was married March 6, 1923. There are two children, whose custody the wife seeks in addition to alimony. Many acts of alleged infidelity involving the husband and the corespondent are charged in the petition.

Secretary Hurley Sued By Federal Attorney

Assistant United States Attorney Rebekah H. Greathouse and her husband, Lucien H. Greathouse, both of 5329 Sixteenth street northwest, appeared yesterday as litigants in a suit against Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley.

Both seek to compel the Secretary of War to permit them to construct a wharf with fence piles near their Arlington County property above Key Bridge and near Rosslyn, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Greathouse tell the court that they have negotiated with an oil company which agreed to lease their property if they could construct a wharf.

Grundy Secretary Leaves Hospital

Sister, Also Hurt in Crash, Returns to Her Home in Washington.

Special to The Washington Post.

Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—Leighton C. Taylor, of Washington, D. C., secretary to Senator Grundy, who, with his mother and his sister, was injured in an automobile accident near here September 22, today was resting at the home of Assistant Postmaster George P. Black, following his discharge from the Warner Hospital here last night.

Mr. Taylor suffered several broken ribs and lacerations and was in the hospital exactly one week. His sister, Miss Edna C. Taylor, also was discharged as a patient from the hospital yesterday and immediately returned to her home in Washington. Taylor's mother, Mrs. Josephine C. Taylor, who suffered fractures of both legs in the crash, today was reported to be resting as comfortably as could be expected. She is 82 years old.

The Taylors were on their way to Harrisburg to attend the dedication of a statue of the late Senator Boies Penrose, whom Taylor served as secretary for sixteen years, when the accident occurred at a narrow bridge.

SECURITY DEMANDS REPEATED BY BRIAND

Foreign Minister Alludes to German Upheaval While Defending Policy.

1931 ARMS PARLEY ASKED

Geneva, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Aristide Briand cast a glance toward Germany and Italy tonight and asked the League of Nations Assembly to try to understand why France insists upon a greater degree of security before she can agree to a drastic reduction in armaments.

In carefully guarded language, the veteran foreign minister of France called attention to the result of the German elections and to the armed conditions in other neighbor states, asking the leaders of some 50 countries if there were not good reason for France to be prudent.

1931 Parley Asked.

M. Briand's address was interpreted as having immediate connection with the domestic situation arising out of the resurgence of nationalist spirit and Hilterism in Germany. He reiterated the French formula of "arbitartion, security—then disarmament," and declared that France since the World War has made large contributions to the cause of disarmament. Indeed, he continued, the French policy has been and continues to be fully consistent with Article VIII of the League of Nations covenant, which stipulates that league members should enter into a general scheme for reduction and limitation of armaments.

Dr. Julius Curtius, of Germany, followed Briand and explained why his government favored the definite fixing of a general disarmament conference for 1931. He said his delegation would refuse to vote on any disarmament resolution which did not set a conference for next year.

Lord Cecil asserted for Great Britain that his country was eager to hasten disarmament work, but reiterated his warning that a general conference must not be held until it can be sure of success.

Says Ballot Cries of Hatred.

The debate was upon the report of the disarmament committee, presented by Jose Matos, of Guatemala. It invited the league preparatory disarmament commission to finish its work in November and authorized the council to call a general conference "as soon as possible."

Sir Robert Borden, of Canada, opened the discussion, charging the league had failed to make real progress in its efforts to achieve disarmament.

Then M. Briand opened up.

"I long for disarmament," he said, "but only a short while ago, when from my lips words of concord were falling, there arrived rumors from the ballot boxes. They brought me cries of hatred, cries of death.

Warns Against Dupes.

"Can we neglect such phenomena? Can we fail to hear them? When persons most interested in keeping the peace in their country feel anxiety on that score and take precautions in order to guarantee the future, must not those who are menaced by that future also themselves reflect? Must they not turn to peoples who have nothing to fear and merely discuss events in a theoretical manner and say to them: 'We are brothers. Leave your summits of security, come near to us and tell us, are we not right to be prudent?' I am certain that from the very bottom of their consciences they would be the first to answer 'Yes.'

"A doctrine based on security and disarmament is the most solid, the only one which a country worthy of the name can envisage. * * * But peoples must not disarm in order that new wars may be prepared and new dangers created. They must combine their efforts for disarmament in such a way that there may be no dupes.

"Would it not be horrible if the most generous and most fraternal nations were because of their generosity, crushed and reduced to defeat? In such a case would not those who had been the first to council disarmament without security be smitten with cruel remorse?"

HOOVER BROADCAST GIVES WAY TO GAME

Boston Address Monday Will Go on Air After World Series Contest.

(Associated Press.)

President Hoover, himself a baseball fan, will not interrupt the broadcasting of next Monday's world series game with his speech in Boston.

The Chief Executive has asked William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to read the speech he will make before the labor organization to the radio listeners after the game.

Mr. Green's rendition of the President's speech will be broadcast by the National Boadcasting Co.

President Hoover leaves today to discuss in fuor major addresses problems facing the country.

At World Series Today.

Before inaugurating his speaking program tomorrow at Cleveland, however, he is to take a holiday and see the opening game of the world series today at Philadelphia. He will leave immediately afterward for Ohio.

The next seven days will take him into three sections of the Nation—the Midwest, the East and the South—giving him the fullest opportunity for intensive discussion of the questions of his office he has had since entering the White House.

In addition to the crowds that will hear him in person, three of the addresses will be broadcast over Nationwide hook-ups. The first, in Cleveland before the American Bankers' Association; the second, next Monday morning to the American Legion in Boston, and the final one, at Kings Mountain Battlefield, S. C., are to be broadcasts.

50 to Accompany Hoover.

More than 50 persons will board the special train with the Chief Executive when he departs today just in time to reach Philadelphia before the game starts. Four members of his Cabinet, Secretaries Hurley, Hyde, Wilbur and Davis, will see the game with him, returning afterward with Walter Hope, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Lawrence Richey, one of the President's secretaries, who also will go only as far as Philadelphia.

Postmaster General Brown, David S. Ingalls, of Cleveland, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Aeronautics; George Akerson, another member of the White House secretariat; Col. Campbell B. Hodges, military aid to the President; Capt. Russell Train, Naval aid, and Capt. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, will continue with the party to Cleveland.

At the ball game, Mr. Hoover also will have as his guests Jeremiah Milbank, of New York, Eastern treasurer of the Republican national committee in 1928; Daniel E. Pomeroy, vice chairman of the Republican national committee and national committeeman for New Jersey, and Jay Cooke, a Philadelphia banker, who entertained the President last spring at his hunting lodge near Williamsport.

Address in Cleveland.

Leaving shortly after the game, the President will arrive in Cleveland in the forenoon and after a 4-mile parade through the city will be the guest of the bankers and local business men at luncheon. The address is to be delivered in the Cleveland Auditorium at 8:30 o'clock (Eastern standard time).

Mrs. Hoover, who is in Indianapolis attending the national Girl Scouts meeting, will join the President at the station in Cleveland before the parade.

The Chief Executive is to leave Cleveland tomorrow night, arriving in the Capital early the next day to remain until Sunday night, when he goes to Boston and directly from there late Monday to Kings Mountain.

party as a whole or against Gov. Roosevelt or his associates in the State administration."

Turning to national affairs he said he wanted "to give the Republicans all the sympathy they can get from the administration of President Hoover."

When Mr. Smith announced his next topic as "prohibition" the audience laughed. The Republican plank would "knock the spots off the leopard," he said. "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde haven't got a thing on them." "The Republican platform provides for a repeal of the eighteenth amendment 'when, if'" and Mr. Smith paused while the crowd laughed.

With Gov. Roosevelt were nominated the rest of the ticket selected yesterday; For lieutenant governor, Herman H. Lehman, of Westchester; for comptroller, Morris S. Tremaine, of Erie; for attorney general, John J. Bennett, of Kings; for associate judge of the Court of Appeals, Cuthzert W. Pound, of Niagara.

When the nominees appeared on the platform cries of "three cheers for the next President of the United States" greeted Governor Roosevelt.

Two Youths Badly Hurt Aiding Woman in Crash

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Sept. 30.—Raymond L. Bowly, 20, and Vincent Hollis, 18, are in a hospital, both with skull fractures and brain concussions and the latter with legs broken, resulting from being hit early today by an automobile while assisting Mrs. Eleanor Walter, young Winchester and Washington widow, up an embankment after a machine driven by E. C. Johnson, Washington, had been damaged by crashing into a post.

Johnson, Hollis and Mrs. Walter were returning from a dance at Jordan Springs. Bowly stopped his car to help the young men when another machine, driven by George Snyder, swerved toward them, knocking Hollis and Bowly against Johnson's car. Mrs. Walter, Johnson and Snyder were uninjured. The latter two were booked on charges of reckless driving.

TWO QUIZZES BEGUN IN OIL LAND CHARGES

Department of Justice to Head Investigation Into Kelley's Accusations.

NYE LAUNCHES INQUIRY

(Associated Press.)

Two investigations were begun yesterday into charges by Ralph Kelley, head of the Interior Department's General Land Office at Denver, that large oil companies were attempting to obtain Colorado oil shale lands from the Government illegally.

At the request of Secretary Wilbur, of the Interior Department, the Department of Justice moved to investigate immediately Mr. Kelley's charges and it was believed Mr. Kelley would be one of the first witnesses in this inquiry.

On Capitol Hill, Chairman Nye, of the Senate lands committee, wrote to Mr. Keley inviting him to place his evidence before him, and promised a "genuine interest in any facts you may afford."

Statement by Wilbur.

Secretary Wilbur, who administers the public domain, said he expected the Department of Justice to "give full opportunity to establish any charges and to seek explanation of the origin of these reckless and false statements."

Mr. Wilbur has refused to accept Mr. Kelley's resignation pending investigation of his charges. He said the Interior Department had contested all claims for oil shale lands and had allowed claims for only 9,000 acres out of a total of several million after the supreme court had overruled the Government's objections.

Salt Creek Leases Cited.

Senator Nye, a Republican of North Dakota, manifested interest in the Kelley charges because of their possible relation to the old charges that the Government was defrauded in leases on the Salt Creek Oil fields in Wyoming. After a Senate investigation, the inquiry into the Salt Creek leases was closed.

Senator Nye evpressed "surprise" at that Kelley charges "because of the confidence which I have had that the present administration of the public domain was doing all that possibly could be dne to insure divorcement from those influences which have looted the public domain in the past." He explained his inquiry of Mr. Kelley was a personal one with a view to determining if Senate action should sought.

Mr. Kelley meanwhile, was out of the city. Senator Nye sought a conference with him on Friday or Saturday.

Black Tom Claim Arguments Ended

American and German Representatives Now Go to Hamburg.

The Hague, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Argument over American claims for damages alleged to have been committed in America by German secret agents prior to the United States' entry into the World War were concluded here today before Umpire R. W. Boyden, of Boston.

Robert Bonynge, American commissioner, and the German counsel completed their arguments relative to Germany's innocence or complicity in the Black Tom and Kingsland munitions factory explosions.

Mr. Bonynge wound up by declaring that to Americans, including President Wilson, it had seemed incredible in the beginning that any nation could commit such crimes against a friendly power as Germany was charged with. The commissioners will now go to Hamburg, where other cases will be heard.

"FRAMING" ALLEGED IN CHICAGO BY NYE

Campaign Funds Committee Head Tells of Incidents Noted by Group.

LATER QUIZ IS PROMISED

(Associated Press.)

Chairman Nye, of the Senate campaign funds investigation committee, said yesterday that members of the committee were led to believe at Chicago that the committee had been "framed" and for that reason it did not propose to go into the wire-tapping charges of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Illinois Republican senatorial nominee, until after the election.

The chairman made this statement in reply to the complaint of Senator Patterson (Republican), of Missouri, a member of the committee, that it had refused to receive testimony relating to alleged misconduct by its investigators in Illinois.

Senator Patterson was the only member of the committee who did not sign the statement yesterday which branded these charges by Mrs. McCormick as "false and libelous."

"The action taken in Chicago in closing that phase of the inquiry," said Mr. Nye, "was not the action of the chairman, but of a majority of the committee and it was not objected to by any member of the committee. It was taken because the committee declined to set itself up as a stage to be played upon for the rest of the campaign.

"We were driven to the conclusion that we were being framed and we did not want to have to spend weeks in Illinois bringing in reliable witnesses to disprove these things. After the election is over the committee will be ready to hear any evidence which may be available to brace up these contentions."

Senator Nye said such evidence of wire tapping by committee investigators as came to the attention of the committee led it to the conclusion of the "frame."

Bishop Rice, Colorado, Will Run for Senator

Dover, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Bishop Frank Rice, of the Liberal Church, advocate of repeal of the eighteenth amendment and legal sanctioning of birth control, has entered the Colorado senatorial campaign.

Secretary of State Charles W. Armstrong announced today Bishop Rice's petition for placing his name on the ballot had been accepted for filing, together with that of Bishop Walter Moore, also of the Liberal Church, who is a candidate for governor. Acceptance of the filings will put five tickets for governor and United States senator in the field as the Socialists and Communists also will contest for those offices with the major party candidates.

Coage Takes Over Post of Recorder

Froe Presented by Group of Employes With Two Gifts.

Exercises incident to the turnover of the office of recorder of deeds by Arthur G. Froe, of West Virginia, to Jefferson S. Coage, of Wilmington, Del., were held yesterday at the recorder's office, all of the employes and friends of the retiring recorder having been assembled by the second deputy, who will succeed to the office this morning.

Addresses were made by Robert W. Dutton, first deputy recorder; by Mr. Coage and by Mr. Froe. A briefcase and suitcase were presented by employes to Mr. Froe. Others who participated were Mrs. Ellis Yost, Republican national committeewoman from West Virginia; Cecil Fee, of Wheeling; Charles J. Farrington and C. N. Nicholson, secretary to Senator Hatfield.

Mr. Froe indicated that he would return to his home in Welch, W. Va., to continue the practice of law with the firm of Froe, Capehart & Miller. The incoming recorder of deeds resides at 1911 Eleventh street northwest, where he has made his home for the past twenty years.

GANGSTER QUINTET FEELS LAW'S HAND

Stanton Arrested at Door of Courtroom, Charged With Zuta's Murder.

DARROW CLIENTS HEARD

Chicago, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Danny Stanton, Jack Guzick, Terry Druggan, George ("Red") Barker and William ("Three-Fingered Jack") White—"public enemies" all—wrestled with authorities today before the bars of justice.

Stanton walked out of a courtroom, where charges of vagancy were continued until October 16, and into the arms of detectives who presented a warrant charging him with the murder of Jack Zuta at Delafield, Wis., last August 1.

Guzick was arrested by Federal agents for alleged evasion of tax on $642,000 of income in 1928.

He pleaded not guilty and was released under $50,000 cash bond, posted by Ike Roderick, who yesterday had counted out 25 $1,000 bills to release Jack's brother, Sam, on a like charge.

No sooner had Guzick left the Federal courtroom, however, than he was arrested by police on a vagrancy charge and taken to the Detective Bureau.

Druggan was sick in bed with at least a dozen ailments and he sent attorneys to Federal court to explain that he could not be present to answer charges of income-tax evasion. The Government ordered its own physician to make an examination.

Barker and White, with Clarence Darrow as attorney for the former, appeared before Judge John H. Lyle, who set hearing on their petition for change of venue for tomorrow. They were picked up on Judge Lyles' vagrancy warrants directed against all 26 of the "public enemies" named by the Crime Commission.

While Wisconsin waited for Stanton, police waited for Druggan, and the Government waited for Barker and White. At least summons were issued for the latter two, who face questioning about their incomes.

Stanton was linked with the Zuta slaying by ballistic tests made on bullets fired from a gun which was taken from him two weeks ago. Experts said the bullets matched some of those found in the body of Zuta. Zuta was reputed to be the brains of the George "Bugs" Moran gang in Chicago. Stanton is said to be the head of Al "Scarface" Capone's labor racket department.

Pope Receives Seven U. S. Jesuit Priests

Vatican City, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Seven American Jesuit priests were among the 50 leaders of that order throughout the world presented to the Pope today.

They were the Revs. Francis Dillon, Province of California; Bernard J. Otting, Chicago; William J. Duane, Maryland and New York; Francis X. McMenamy, Missouri; John Hynes, New Orleans; John B. Creeden, New England. The Rev. Emile Mattern, who represents the American Jesuits in Rome, was with them.

Spouse Hid Her Clothes, Says Wife; Asks Divorce

Alleging that her husband had hidden her clothes in order to prevent her from going to church, Mrs. Florence C. Macina, of Evarts street northeast, near North Capitol, filed suit yesterday in District Supreme Court seeking a limited divorce from her husband, Louis DeR. Macina, of E street northwest, near Tenth street.

The couple, according to the wife, were married January 26, 1925, and separated on March 16, 1930, when the wife alleged the husband deserted her. The wife also alleges that since their marriage the husband has contributed very little to her support.

Girl 12, Hit by Taxi; Bruised and Lacerated

Clara Veronica Mortzolis, 12 years old, of 1019 Twentieth street northwest, was treated at Emergency Hospital yesterday afternoon for bruises and lacerations about the legs, received when she was struck by a taxicab at Twentieth street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

Bante P. Gentilucci, of 73 K street northwest, driver of the cab, took the girl to the hospital. She was treated and sent home.

Manslaughter Indictment Returned.

James Colston, Negro, was indicted by the District grand jury yesterday on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Daniel Brown, colored. Colston is alleged to have killed Brown with a knife last July 27 at a house on Fenton place northwest.

Hawks Sets Speed Record Between Detroit, New York

Flies 640 Miles in 2 Hours and 41 Minutes for New Mark.

Valley Stream, N. Y., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Frank Hawks, who holds transcontinental air speed records in both directions, flew here from Detroit today in 2 hours and 41 minutes, which is believed to be the fastest time ever made over such a distance.

Hawks estimated he flew 640 miles, giving him an average speed of 234.7 miles an hour. He said he had flown faster for a short distance but never so fast over such an extended course. He was flying the little scarlet monoplane in which he established the two cross-country records.

Three weeks ago he flew from here to Detroit in 3 hours and 3 minutes, beating the best previous time for that flight, which was made by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. It was from Col. Lindbergh that Hawks took the West-East transcontinental records.

Hawks flew at 10,000 feet today to get the benefit of a brisk tail wind and was above the clouds most of the way.

He said the weather at 10,000 feet was extremely cold. Over an ordinary brown suit he wore a parka of caribou hide, presented to him by citizens of Edmonton, Alberta, when he landed there as referee for the national Ford air tour.

District Delegation To Tax Parley Chosen

Eight men were named by the District Commissioners yesterday to represent the District at the twenty-third annual conference on taxation of the National Tax Association to be held in Kansas City, Mo., from October 20 to October 24.

The District delegation comprises the same personnel as last year and is as follows: Edward P. Colladay, Dr. Thomas W. Page, William L. Beale, Joshua Evans, jr., Robert V. Fleming, Frank J. Coleman, Robert J. Cottrell and John T. Bardoff. The District will pay $100 of the expenses of Mr. Bardoff to attend the convention.

Approximately 10,000 Are Tax Delinquents

Approximately 10,000 persons became tax delinquents yesterday when they failed to pay real estate and tangible personal property taxes due in September. Yesterday was the last day of grace for the first half of the current fiscal year.

Several hundreds of persons went to the District Building yesterday to pay their taxes to avoid the 1 per cent per month penalty on taxes due but not paid last month.

X-Ray Researches Cost Savant's Arm

Dr. Deetjen to Undergo Eighth Operation in Baltimore Today.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Known to his associates as "the last of the old guard," along with Dr. Frederick H. Baetjer, of Johns Hopkins Medical School, Dr. Christian Deetjen tomorrow is to give an arm to his devotion to the healing and revealing science of the roentgen, or X-ray.

Already marked by a number of operations, one of which took a finger, Dr. Deetjen is one of a long line of martyrs who have undergone operation after operation as a result of dangerous exposure to the rays, and then have returned to their work with the courage of men who consider it more important than their own lives.

The "last of the old guard" has often been applied to Dr. Deetjen and Dr. Baetjer because so many of their predecessors among the early students of the comparative new science have given their lives. A dozen times Dr. Deetjen has been under the knife purposely. Older than Dr. Baetjer, Dr. Deetjen is in the later sixties and is short, plump and silver-haired. His left arm will be amputated at the elbow.

Internal Revenue Cafe Will Be Opened Today

The new cafateria in the Internal Revenue Building, maintained and operated by the Welfare and Recreational Association of Public Buildings and Grounds, will be opened today. Bureau officials were luncheon guests yesterday and were received by Capt. F. W. Hoover, general manager of the association.

The cafeteria, which was equipped at a cost of approximately $85,000, provides seating accommodations for 440 persons, and maintains a staff of more than 40 employes. The association is a nonprofit making organization.

32 Changes in Zoning Of Properties Sought

Thirty-two changes in zoning of properties are to be considered at a public hearing before the District Zoning Commission in the District Building beginning at 10 o'clock this morning.

The hearing is expected to last all of today and may go over into tomorrow. Many of the proposed changes are expected to develop battles between property owners of the neighborhoods affected.

Suspect in Robberies Faces New Indictment

Another indictment charging Cal Benjamin Davis with robbery was returned yesterday in District Supreme Court. The new indictment charges that the man held up the Gulf Refining Co.'s filling station at 1101 Potomac avenue southeast last July 20 and at the point of a pistol robbed the manager of $56.08.

Davis was indicted several weeks ago on a charge of robbing a collector of the Lord Baltimore filling stations of $2,116.83. At the same time he, Paul C. Embrey and Morris C. Beck were jointly indicted on a charge of robbery in connection with the holdup August 1 of a runner for the Mount Vernon Savings Bank. Embrey pleaded guilty recently to the charge of robbing the savings bank employe, but as yet has not been sentenced. Davis and Beck pleaded not guilty.

ROOSEVELT AND 1932.

Franklin Roosevelt's speech placing Gov. Al Smith in nomination for the Presidency was the gem of the Houston convention. Now Gov. Smith returns the compliment by making a most effective speech in renominating Roosevelt for Governor of New York. He very properly ridiculed the Jekyll and Hyde tactics of New York Republicans in adopting a prohibition repeal plank. He held that corruption in New York City could not be laid at the door of the Democratic party of New York State, or at the door of Gov. Roosevelt. This is a fair defense, and is identical with the defense made by Republicans when an attempt was made to saddle upon it the sins of individuals in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal. The country refused to indict the entire party for that scandal, and no doubt the voters of New York will refuse to indict the Democratic party of that State for the misdoings of individuals.

The Democratic attacks upon President Hoover for the business slump have no force with voters, for the same reason. He can not be reasonably charged with responsibility for the excessive gambling in Wall street and its aftermath of adversity. Neither can Gov. Roosevelt be held responsible when crooks in New York City buy and sell judgeships. Reckless political charges which are directed at the innocent are worse than wasted breath. If New York Republicans are wise they will not base their campaign on an attempt to discredit Gov. Roosevelt on account of the New York City scandals. If New York Democrats are wise they will not try to discredit President Hoover because of the business depression.

Gov. Roosevelt enjoys a great advantage over Charles H. Tuttle in the race for the governorship. Gov. Roosevelt is not a turncoat on the prohibition question, while Mr. Tuttle is. Voters who are bent upon repeal of the eighteenth amendment will support a genuine wet in preference to a counterfeit. Drys will not support either one. The dry Republicans having arranged to put a candidate in the field against Tuttle, the election of Roosevelt seems to be a foregone conclusion. He will get New York City, and Tuttle will lose the up-State dry vote.

Success in November will place Gov. Roosevelt well in the lead for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932. The party in wet States is concentrating upon him. Delegations from those States will outnumber the Southern dry delegations. There is danger of another Madison Square fiasco because of the fact that the dry South, while outnumbered, can still block a nomination through the force of the two-thirds rule.

The Republican party may be badly split by 1932 on the prohibition question, but it seems highly improbable that the wetward swing will be strong enough to force the nomination of a wet. Moreover, the Republicans have a President, and it is to be supposed that he will be renominated, without much regard to the wet and dry issue. But the Democrats do not enjoy such an advantage, and must fight out the wet and dry question in choosing a candidate. No one has a prior claim to the Democratic nomination, but Mr. Hoover unquestionably has the inside track on the Republican side.

Comparative harmony could be maintained by the Republican party under the Hoover banner. Inevitable discord faces the Democratic party under the banner of any one who may be nominated. The two-thirds rule is a curse which embitters Democrats in convention and perpetuates their feuds through the campaign. Now that the wet controversy is superimposed upon the two-thirds rule the Democratic party need not expect to make any capital over the minor dissensions in Republican ranks.

ATHLETICS VS. CARDINALS.

Over in Philadelphia two superb ball teams will meet this afternoon in the first of the series of games that will decide the world's championship. The American League is represented by the Philadelphia Athletics, the National League by the St. Louis Cardinals. Throughout the summer American fandom has been anticipating this heroic day.

The faithful legions are gathered in the Quaker City. From far and wide they have come to participate in the spectacle with which baseball champions are crowned. It is expected that the Athletics will win the series, but the Cardinals are not without loyal followers. They point to the well-balanced pitching staff of the St. Louis team, which will stand it in good stead if the series should go to the seven-game limit. They insist that Philadelphia has only two first-class pitchers; namely, Grove and Earnshaw, and they claim that the Cardinal infield is unmatchable. But Connie Mack is a canny manager. He will try to make the series short and sweet.

From the Golden Gate to Hell Gate, America's attention focuses on Philadelphia. From the President down to the humbliest citizen, crowds at the park and before loudspeakers will follow the progress of the battle. In developing clean and alert sportsmanship the great American game has no equal.

DIPHTHERIA CONQUERED.

The striking success of the campaign against diphtheria in New York City leads to the conclusion that this dread disease will be conquered if parents will cooperate to the extent of having their children immunized. Since 1929, when the New York campaign was inaugurated, the reduction in the number of cases and the mortality has been remarkable. Only 333,000 children have been given the treatment, and some 1,000,000 under 10 years of age have not been immunized, but in the first eight months of this year the number of cases and of fatalities have each been reduced by 57 per cent as compared with the corresponding figures for the preceding year. From January 1 to September 1, 1930, there were 3,000 cases as compared with 7,000 in the same period of 1929, while there were but 158 deaths as compared with 374 in the first eight months of 1929.

The immunization treatment is not painful, nor is it accompanied by distressing or unpleasant after-effects. Moreover, although it takes six months for the toxin to develop its full strength in the child's system, once the child is completely immunized he remains so for life. The treatment is easy to obtain and inexpensive. More than 12,000 family doctors in New York have agreed to administer the treatment complete for a total charge of $6. For those who can not afford even this small fee, the free dispensaries of the health department are equipped to render the service.

The New-York campaign against diphtheria points the way to eradication of one of the most dreaded diseases of childhood. Despite the apathy and opposition of parents the disease has been reduced to a remarkable extent. The success of this campaign should give impetus to a movement looking toward a country-wide campaign against diphtheria.

COMMERCIALIZED GOLF.

It may be that George Von Elm, runner-up to Bobby Jones for medal honors in the amateur golf championship tournament at Merion, will have opened up the old amateur-professional controversy by his withdrawal from amateur ranks. As every one knows, it costs a good deal of money to be an outstanding amateur golf player; Von Elm says that it has cost him $10,000 a year for the last five years. In his letter of withdrawal he characterizes amateur tournaments as "commercialized," points out that the golf governing body is enabled to keep its coffers filled from the proceeds of such affairs, and announces that in the future he will enter such open competition as he chooses, gambling his skill on such occasions against the prize money. He does not intend to turn professional. He will be a "business-man golfer," treating the proceeds of golf matches just as any business man would treat the proceeds of an ordinary business deal.

Mr. Von Elm, in becoming a "business-man golfer," has not provided a solution for a difficult problem. Something should be done, of course, to make the amateur's financial pathway a bit easier. It is probably necessary to retain the present definition of "amateur" as "any one who accepts, directly or indirectly, compensation for his play." The effect of this rule, however, is that only the wealthy can become simon-pure amateurs. The man of moderate means must resort to subterfuge to obtain enough money to carry him through a tournament.

Possibly if clubs were permitted to stand the actual expenses of amateurs in tournament play, or if amateurs were allowed to accept compensation from any source to the extent of traveling and living expenses in tournament play, the situation of which Von Elm complains would be ended. It would be a decided wrench for the golf association to liberalize its regulations to this extent, but certainly any situation that would do away with the subterfuges that are employed by amateurs to make their expenses would be desirable.

BRITISH IMPERIAL PROTECTION.

For a lucid analysis of the British Empire free trade movement it would be hard to improve upon the radio address delivered Sunday in London by John Rumney Remer, M. P., Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, is generally looked upon as founder of the empire crusade and its principal exponent, but Mr. Remer is chief lieutenant of the movement and his pronouncements have weight. The speech was rebroadcast in the United States. It should serve to correct in a measure the erroneous popular impression that British Empire free trade would strike a severe blow to American business.

"Empire free trade," said Mr. Remer, "aims not at the destruction of our competitors but the restoration of our own prosperity, not only in the British Isles but wherever the union jack is unfurled, and the protection of the standard of living of all British citizens against devastating competition." The empire crusade is not inimical to the interests of the United States. It contemplates applying to the British Empire the tariff policies that have enabled the United States to grow to a position of commercial supremacy. "It is under a system of free trade within an economic empire," said Mr. Remer, "that the thirteen colonies developed into the mighty power that is now the pride of the American Nation."

In the laboratory of time America has tested and proved the efficacy of the protective tariff in guarding and improving the economic well-being of a great nation. If other nations now seek to borrow from the experience of the United States no valid objection to their program can be found. A protective tariff should work as well for the British Empire as it has for the American commonwealth. As it has played a fundamental part in making the United States the outstanding customer in the family of nations, so should it result in improving the purchasing power of the British commonwealth. Thus the economic well-being of the world would be improved.

When Britons speak of "Empire Free Trade," however, they set up in the minds of others the idea that Britain seeks to be entirely self-supporting and that she seeks advantages at the expense of the rest of the world. The phrase, "Empire Free Trade," has this unfortunate effect. If another phrase were coined for describing the project, which has as its purpose "the development of the economic resources of the British Empire," the rest of the world might be less inclined to view the movement with suspicion. Mr. Remer said: "Who does not see that unless the thirteen States of 1784 had come together in economic unity, the United States in the last half century could not have contributed as it has done to the wealth and prosperity of the whole world?" Why should any person or any nation look askance upon a similar movement on the part of the British Empire?

WHAT I BELIEVE

By ALBERT EINSTEIN,
In the Forum.

Strange is our situation here upon earth. Each of us comes for a short visit, not knowing why, yet sometimes seeming to divine a purpose.

From the standpoint of daily life, however, there is one thing we do know: that man is here for the sake of other men—above all for those upon whose smile and well-being our own happiness depends, and also for the countless unknown souls with whose fate we are connected by a bond of sympathy.

To ponder interminably over the reason for one's own existence or the meaning of life in general seems to me, from an objective point of view, to be sheer folly. And yet every one holds certain ideals by which he guides his aspiration and his judgment. The ideals which have always shone before me and filled me with the joy of living are goodness, beauty and truth. To make a goal of comfort or happiness has never appealed to me; a system of ethics built on this basis would be sufficient only for a herd of cattle.

Without the sense of collaborating with like-minded beings in the pursuit of the ever-unattainable in art and scientific research, my life would have been empty. Ever since childhood I have scorned the commonplace limits so often set upon human ambition. Possessions, outward success, publicity, luxury—to me these have always been contemptible. I believe that a simple and unassuming manner of life is best for every one, best both for the body and the mind.

My political ideal is democracy. Every one should be respected as an individual, but no one idolized. It is an irony of fate that I should have been showered with so much uncalled-for and unmerited admiration and esteem. Perhaps this adulation springs from the unfulfilled wish of the multitude to comprehend the few ideas which I, with my weak powers, have advanced.

It seems to me that the distinctions separating the social classes are false; in the last analysis they rest on force. I am convinced that degeneracy follows every autocratic system of violence, for violence inevitably attracts moral inferiors. Time has proved that illustrious tyrants are succeeded by scoundrels.

For this reason I have always been passionately opposed to such regimes as exist in Russia and Italy today. The thing which has discredited the European forms of democracy is not the basic theory of democracy itself, which some say is at fault, but the instability of our political leadership, as well as the impersonal character of party alignments.

I believe that you in the United States have hit upon the right idea. You choose a President for a reasonable length of time and give him enough power to acquit himself properly of his responsibilities. In the German government, on the other hand, I like the state's more extensive care of the individual when he is ill or unemployed.

It is enough, for me to contemplate the mystery of conscious life perpetuating itself through all eternity, to reflect upon the marvelous structure of the universe which we can dimly perceive, and to try humbly to comprehend even an infinitesimal part of the intelligence manifested in nature.

HOT DOG.

'Twas 2 o'clock when he came in, and rising in my bed,
"Where have you been till such an hour?" to him I sadly said.
"Oh, she was hungry," he replied.
"She had a sandwich yen.
And so we hopped into the car to find a hot dog den."
"And did you find one?" I inquired.
"Of course I did," said he,
"There's one just twenty miles away—
an Indian tepee!"

There was no harm in such a trip. So
do our customs change.
That youngsters view with no concern
what older minds think strange.
This hot dog craze is modern stuff.
The car is at the door,
And when a girl wants frankfurters,
what's twenty miles or more?
Distance and time are different now
and taste has altered, too;
When girls in our day hungry were, a
hot dog wouldn't do.

We took the trolley home at night, no
motor cars had we.
Who stayed till after midnight knew
an angry dad he'd see.
But, is it fair to judge them now by standards long outworn?
The modern girls, it seems, like food
their mothers viewed with scorn.
Though twenty miles seem far to us,
it's just a hop to them
Who yearn for hot dog sandwiches at 2 o'clock a. m.

All Reform Seems a Threat to the Man Who Sits on Cushions.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

It isn't true that clothes make the man, but it is quite true that property makes him.

If you know what a man's possessions are, you can make a shrewd guess concerning his opinions.

The commonly accepted opinion that a man is born to be a liberal or a conservative is true only in the sense that he is born to be poor or rich.

When America's first government was organized, it was organized by and for the well-born and the well-to-do. The aristocratic Hamilton was its dominating influence, and its pets were the merchants, the money lenders, the manufacturers and the clergy.

It was a conservative government, loving money more than men, and it not only refused to ally itself with the radicals who controlled France, as it was by treaty pledged to do, but actually dismissed their ambassador.

Jefferson led the opposition—the poor and the despised, the laborers and the debt-burdened small farmers. He was a radical—a liberal if you prefer—because his people had been poor farmers and he had absorbed the viewpoint of the underdog before he was breeched.

Philosophers of that day tried to explain the two parties by saying that the members of one were by nature disposed to favor rule by the aristocracy while members of the other as naturally trusted the common people—one preferring and the other fearing a strong central government—but the two parties in fact represented those who had and those who had not.

Money and responsibility made the difference, then as now.

As Mussolini the socialist became Mussolini the dictator and the enemy of liberty when a new order gave him power and responsibility—as revolutionists who battled for freedom and equal rights in Russia became the most tyrannical of masters when they seized the reins—so the possession of property and the job of protecting it transform the wildest capital-baiter into a paunchy conservative who shudders at the thought of change.

Conservatism is fondness for a feathered nest.

Radicalism is dissatisfaction with a meatless bone.

America remains a conservative Nation because it is a Nation of property owners. It toys with radical ideas only when times are hard.

A full stomach sees only good in the world, and an empty one hates the whole sorry scheme.

PRO AND CON

Various Aspects of Political Issues Discussed by the Press.

Jack Garner's Accusations.

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

There could be no more striking proof of the poverty of the national Democratic organization with regard to a real issue this year than Representative Garner's attempt to connect the administration's tax-refunding policy with campaign contributions from leading Republicans. This latest of a long series of attacks put forth by the exceedingly active Democratic publicity bureau breaks the record for misrepresentation.

It has long been an obsession of Mr. Garner that there is something suspicious, if not crooked, in this procedure by the Government of paying back money to which it is not entitled.

All tax settlements involving more than $50,000 must be approved by the general counsel of the Treasury. Any claim necessitating a payment of more than $75,000 must have the O.K. of the joint congressional committee on finance. And the appropriations for refunds are, of course, made by Congress.

The Democratic leader of the House is desperately hard up for an issue when he descends to such tactics. What he means to say, without making the charge directly, is that for a few thousand dollars in the form of a campaign contribution Republicans are buying tax refunds. Such an insinuation would indict the Secretary of the Treasury and his legal advisers, the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the joint bipartisan committee of Congress which passes upon all large claims, to say nothing of the courts whose rulings have directed substantial payments to claimants.

Mr. Garner's ridiculous attack, following the summer-long barrage of the Michelson press bureau against President Hoover personally and his Administration, deserves attention only as a sample of the campaign methods to which the Democrats are reduced in a year when they can not conjure up a shadow of an excuse for their restoration to power in Congress.

Tammany Under Fire.

New York Herald Tribune.

Tammany again is in the public eye and by the stupidity displayed by Big Chief Curry and a string of his lieutenants is playing directly into the hands of United States Attorney Tuttle and the other State candidates of the Republican Party. The facts concerning the sale of an office to a magistrate are plain enough. There is a settled belief that this sort of thing has been carried into judicial places.

A special grand jury is undertaking to investigate. Tammany leaders from Curry down were summoned to tell what they knew. All of them asserted that they had been "insulted" when asked to waive immunity. Each one may be personally innocent, but refusal to submit to questioning creates grave suspicion that Tammany methods and Tammany graft and corruption are being studiously hidden.

It is a trying situation for Gov. Roosevelt. To be elected he must receive a very large majority in New York City. He must depend upon Tammany to do its utmost. His disinclination to intervene is readily understood. But the necessity for some action on his part is apparent, especially so when it is remembered that his Republican rival for the governorship, United States Attorney Tuttle, has been delving into the Tammany mess and intends to make Tammany corruption a prominent issue in the campaign. So the governor has invited Mayor Walker to advise the Tammany leaders that they change their attitude and tell what they know to the grand jury. In addition he proposes a law that will deny the immunity plea to public officials.

But it is too late to remove the impression made upon the public that Tammany is concealing something that is very rotten.

"Roosevelt and Reed."

Atlanta Constitution.

The suggestion is heard that the Democrats can make a well-balanced and persuasive presidential ticket for 1932 by making it read "Roosevelt and Reed"—meaning the Governor of New York and the former senator from Missouri.

There are angles from which that ticket could be viewed with both approval and hope. The Governor of New York, very sure to be re-elected in November, is a fine Democratic figure. He is an out and out Jeffersonian, showing strongly the philosophy and equitable principles of the immortal founder of our immortal American democracy. Former Senator Reed comes as near to showing the temper, courage and indomitable devotion to the people's rights, of Old Hickory Jackson as any Democrat now in the public eye. The two men joined in a party campaign would leave little more of statesmanship and Democratic principles to be demanded.

Of course, the suggestion of "Roosevelt and Reed" ticket is only tentative. Neither of those gentlemen might agree to the combination and it is certain that a great deal of argument would be needed to secure it a howling welcome throughout the national party.

South and West Coalition?

Richmond Times-Dispatch.

If the West continues dry in the Republican convention of 1932 and refuses to follow the lead of the East an interesting political development may ensue. The South, perhaps, will be equally unwilling to fall in line with Democratic wet sentiment. There is a possibility, then, remote as it may be, of a coalition between the two sections to preserve the integrity of the eighteenth amendment, against which recently there have been many vicious and uncompromising onslaughts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Rudolph Spreckels Holds That Short Selling by Americans Creates Internal Crisis—Proposes a National Conference.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In the September 25th issue of The Post I read two editorials, one entitled "Soviet War Methods," the other "Spreckels' Panacea."

In the first editorial you say, among other things, "The United States will be compelled to meet the communist challenge. American industry, agriculture and labor will not permit the Government to stand idle while a gigantic organized war is waged against them." . . . "A little more pain in the pocket nerve will cause American citizens to change this situation."

In your second editorial you say, "His first step would be to call a great conference in which every industry would be represented. These delegates would meet with a committee to be named by President Hoover from the two branches of Congress and the executive departments. Presumably it would be the duty of this body to 'allocate to each manufacturing company its legimate share of the existing demand' and to require every company 'to sell at a price fair to consumers which will insure a reasonable profit.' When that simple program shall have been carried out, Mr. Spreckels is convinced that 'confidence will be quickly restored.' The only preparation that would be necessary to usher in this industrial Utopia would be a revolution in American business methods and careful destruction of the Constitution, together with all the rights of private property."

It seems to me that you are quite inconsistent in suggesting in the first editorial that "American industry, agriculture and labor will not permit the Government to stand idle while gigantic organized war is waged against them" and in the second editorial disapprove my suggestion that "it is the duty of Government to bring industry out of kinks" and my idea that "a great conference should be called in which every industry would be represented. These delegates would meet with a committee to be named by President Hoover from the two branches of Congress and the executive departments."

You seem to think that American industry, agriculture and labor should demand that our Government act in the case of Russia's short sales of wheat, though small in comparison with short sales by American citizens, but that American industry, agriculture and labor should not require our Government to interest itself in the greatest internal crisis this country has faced since the Civil War.

Unemployment and widespread discontent offer a fertile field in which to propagate Soviet theories. Bread lines and riots throughout the Nation may awaken in you a better understanding of our internal problems and make you wish that you had encouraged the holding of such a conference as I suggested to formulate constructive plans by which the hardships of unemployment and business, agriculture and financial difficulties could have been avoided. It is not likely that you or I could offer a panacea, but it is unthinkable that the combined efforts of the representatives of American business, agriculture, labor and Government, in common conference, would be incapable of working out a solution. If you have a better plan to suggest, I would be among the first to offer you my support.

R. SPRECKELS.

Dry Brooklynite Pays His Respect to G. O. P. and Sounds Battle Cry for 1932.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The Republican party of New York has run counter to President Hoover, ignored him, in fact, and cast its future anchor in a sea of booze. What a spectacle! The Empire State sailing forth in a schooner of beer to battle the Constitution of the United States! Roosevelt holds aloft a bung starter as an emblem, while Tuttle rattles a corkscrew in one hand and a bottle opener in the other. Both are appealing to the lowest elements in New York State.

On the sidelines the Tammany Hall boys laugh merrily, while the Tiger winks and cries, "more meat," as the band blares forth, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

The Republican party will meet a well deserved defeat, in which it will be my pleasure to participate by voting for independents or dry candidates, as the G. O. P. has sacrificed principle for political expediency. Drys all over the country will now buckle on their armor and get ready to clean out the whisky and beer makers for good and all in 1932.

E...ESE REBEL HEAD ...IES PLAN TO QUIT

...M. Feng Directs Battle as ...0,000 Nationalists Are Rushed to Honan.

REDS PERIL FOREIGNERS

Shanghai, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Contradicting Nationalist statements that he was about to surrender, Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang, colorful war lord, was reported today leading his rebel forces in sharp fighting against government troops in Northern Honan Province.

Although President Chiang Kai-Shek asserted Feng, leader of several revolts against various governments, was about to retire once more to private life, Chiang ordered 50,000 men rushed to Honan to reinforce his troops worn by six months of battle south of the Yellow River.

Chiang and Feng, China's outstanding generals, personally commanded their opposing troops in the struggle which Nationalists predicted would end in Feng and his army being driven across the river into the mountains of Shansi Province, terminating at least temporarily the civil war.

Meantime, taking advantage of the absence of Nationalist troops to repel northern insurgents, large forces of Communists pillaged towns along the Yangtze River. Firing on ships running the rapids between Ichang and Hankow continued.

Forty thousand Reds, after despoiling Hunan Province, advanced into Kiangsi, threatening Nanchang. The 2,000 defending troops hurriedly dug trenches while many well-to-do Chinese fled to Kiukiang.

The government promised troops to oppose the Red advance.

Changsha, looted and burned in July by Communists, was again surrounded by Reds. The city was reported helpless to repel attack. Foreigners were said to be unable to depart because of low water in the Siang River.

Unconfirmed reports from Hankow today said American and British residents of Changsha were planning to evacuate for the winter because of the persistence of the Communist menace there, but that the level of the Siang River was too low to permit unhampered boat traffic to Hankow.

With the river level so low, neither foreign gunboats nor commercial ships have been able to reach Changsha, thereby leaving the foreigners isolated there. The river offers virtually the only means of transportation between Changsha and Yangtze ports.

Two Reported Flogged By Enraged Floridians

Brooksville, Fla., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Chief of Police W. D. Clark, jr., said today that he had received reports of mob action near here last night in which a white man was flogged and another beaten and then tarred and feathered. He said he was informed that a group of men abducted J. W. Springhead, 60, a dairyman, and C. E. Berry, 30, a merchant, and lashed them heavily and put a coat of tar and feathers on Springhead as additional punishment.

He quoted officials in the office of Sheriff John Cobb, of Hernando County, as saying neighbors of the men reported Springhead had been accused of whipping his wife and that Berry had aroused the displeasure of many in the community because they suspected him of selling liquor.

Sales Gain 5 Per Cent On Chicago Stock Mart

Chicago, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The volume of trading on the Chicago Stock Exchange during the first nine months of 1930 has exceeded that of any similar period in the history of the exchange.

It was announced at the close of trading today that the nine months' total was 56,931,300 shares, against 54,144,000 for the first nine months of 1929, an increase of 5 per cent. Stock trading today was the largest since June 18 of this year and amounted to 430,200 shares.

members of the California Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade, failed to open today. The action was followed with announcement of its suspension from the exchange membership, and suspension of its brokerage license by the State corporation commissioner.

Harold G. Ferguson, president of the exchange, announced the suspension was due to the firm's refusal to submit its books for examination by the exchange committee.

"J. J. Loftus & Co.," said the corporation commissioner, "has been under investigation two or three months because of its financial condition. The circumstances of the firm are such that we considered it was not safe for the company to deal further with the public. An investigation now is underway to determine definitely the status of the firm. The license of the company will remain suspended until such time as sufficient capital has been put in to make the firm sound."

EARL OF BIRKENHEAD DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Former Chancellor Gained Admiration of All by His Rise to Power.

KING SENDS CONDOLENCE

London, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The Earl of Birkenhead, great lawyer, brilliant politician and one of the most romantic and colorful figures in British public life, died from pneumonia today at the age of 58.

His crowded political life included a role as prosecutor of Sir Roger Casement, Irish leader, who was hanged after conviction for treason; lord high chancellor and secretary of state for India.

The announcement by his physician said:

"The Earl of Birkenhead passed peacefully away at a quarter past eleven this morning. There had been a further increase in the pneumonic infection and the heart muscles, feeling the effect of this, dilated and failed."

Lord Birkenhead had been ill for some time and grave alarm was felt yesterday when it was announced that he was suffering from a recurrence of the lung trouble which troubled him in the summer.

King George and almost all the prominent figures in Great Britain today sent messages of sympathy to the bereaved family or otherwise paid tribute to the man who at the early age of 47 became lord high chancellor of England, and even statesmen who experienced the full bitterness of his political opposition testified to their warm affection for him as a personal friend.

To the man in the street, who even now is disposed to think of "Frederick Edwin Smith," or of "F. E." rather than the Earl of Birkenhead, it seems as if the world will be more drab for his passing.

"The Smith of my own fortunes," is the translation of the Latin motto he adopted when raised to the peerage, and Birkenhead's career will long be held an example of what brilliant intellect and hard work will do for a man who started with no advantages.

Lord Birkenhead's body was taken tonight to the chapel of Gray's Inn—one of the four famous "Inns of Court"—of which he was a member. It will remain there until the funeral, which will be held Saturday at the dead statesman's country home, Charlton. This is near Banbury, in Oxfordshire.

DOMINION LEADERS FETED IN LONDON

Banquet Tendered to 1,000 Guests by Government on Eve of Parley.

SESSION OPENS TODAY

London, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A Government banquet and reception tonight at Lancaster House, with a thousand guests attending, marked the first of the festivities which will attend the labors of the British Imperial Conference opening tomorrow.

All the statesmen participating in the conference attended the affair tonight, a gathering remarkable for the number of powerful dominion leaders present.

Canada has sent her recently elected Conservative premier, R. B. Bennett; J. H. Scullin, Australia's Labor prime minister, is paying his first visit to the motherland. From South Africa comes Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, who fought against the British forces in the Boer war. New Zealand's premier, G. W. Forbes, is present, as is Sir Richard Squires, prime minister of Newfoundland.

The Maharajah of Bikaner is the chief native member of the group from India, although Wedgwood Benn, secretary of state for India, officially heads the delegation.

The conference will be officially opened tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain welcoming the visiting statesmen in the reception room at the foreign office. He will indicate the lines the conference will follow and the heads of the various delegations also will speak.

The proceedings will be private but an official report will be issued.

FINANCIERS DRAFT BRANCH BANK PLEA

Banking Association to Be Urged to Drop Opposition; Rural Crisis Cited.

INDEPENDENTS HARD HIT

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The increasing difficulty of some banks, especially smaller ones, to operate profitably as independent units, held the attention of the resolutions committee of the American Bankers Association tonight.

The committee had before it a recommendation that the association modify the stand it has taken in opposition to branch banking. The recommendation was made by the association's economic policy commission, which is the association's chief advisory body.

As an indication of the advisability of giving recognition to the branch banking movement, the report of the commission, presented by R. S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank & Trust Co., of New Orleans, and chairman of the commission, cited the increasing number of failures of unit banks and the growth of the group banking movement.

No Menace Seen.

The commission took into consideration opposition of many to large banking monopolies and said that while the question should not be ignored, it did not believe it presented a menace.

Hecht said that the movement of group banking is not a measure of Wall Street or any financial region to wrest control of this country's finances, but it arises out of present-day economic necessities.

"Official records show that in the year ended June 30, this year, there were 758 bank suspensions, with deposits of $353,500,000," Hecht said. In point of numbers this is the highest mortality in any year since the war except 1925, when there were 915 suspensions, and in 1927, when there were 831. In point of deposits it was the highest, even exceeding the $297,900,000 reported in 1924."

He said that during the last ten years about 5,700 banks have suspended, mostly in the agricultural districts, tying up gross deposits of almost $2,000,000,000.

Economic factors have recently arisen to hamper the operation of the small independent, Hecht said. "One is the constant shift of business from smaller to larger centers. Under the Federal Reserve System the small bank has lost a source of revenue as an intermediary in the making of mortgage loans," he said.

Farm Aid Felt.

Federal farm aid with the multiplication of facilities of agricultural credits was cited as an indirect cause of the small banks difficulties.

The report was considered the most important to be presented at the convention. The resolutions committee is expected to announce its action on it at Thursday's session when it will come up for vote.

There have been some recent signs that business is on the upgrade, John G. Lonsdale, president of the Mercantile Commerce Bank & Trust Co. and president of the association, told the convention. He said there are numerous adjustments to be made in business operations before permanent prosperity is assured.

Copper at Lowest Price Level of Last 30 Years

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Custom smelters today reduced the price of copper for domestic delivery one-quarter of a cent to 10 cents a pound, the lowest quotation for the metal in more than 30 years.

Some producers also quoted the metal at 10 cents, compared with the level of 10½ cents at which they had been holding the metal.

A cut of one-half of a cent a pound to 10.30 cents, C. I. F. European base ports, also was made by Copper Exporters, Inc., bringing the export price to a parity with the domestic level.

State Curb on Oil Production Upheld

Oklahoma Federal Judges Deny Injunction Asked by Company.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A court of three Federal judges late today in effect upheld the constitutionality of State regulation of oil production. The request of the Champlin Refining Co., of Enid, for an interlocutory injunction against the Oklahoma corporation commission was refused.

The Champlin Co., in seeking to restrain State limitations of its production of oil in the Oklahoma City and Seminole fields, charged that the corporation commission was without jurisdiction and that its action countenanced price fixing by oil companies participating in the proration agreement.

The proration plan, intended to curb flush oil production and hold it to market needs, originated in Oklahoma about two years ago, and since has been adopted in other States, including Kansas, Texas and California.

Order Is Restored As Suspects Leave

Two Prisoners in Slayings Taken From County Jail to Birmingham.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Order was restored in this harassed city tonight as two companies of Alabama National Guardsmen were demobilized and the two Negroes they were called to protect were removed from the Madison County Jail to Birmingham for safe keeping.

The Negroes, C. E. Henderson and Rufus McCoy, were sought by a crowd which gathered around the jail and was dispersed only after the guardsmen loosed tear gas bombs and advanced with fixed bayonets.

Henderson is held as a suspect in the slaying of H. E. Ross, prominent Huntsville business man, Saturday night, and McCoy is held for the slaying of J. C. Mathes, Phoenix, Ariz., traveling salesman. McCoy is said by police to have confessed to killing Mathes and throwing his body into the Tennessee River near here.

ROOSEVELT AND 1932.

Franklin Roosevelt's speech placing Gov. Al Smith in nomination for the Presidency was the gem of the Houston convention. Now Gov. Smith returns the compliment by making a most effective speech in renominating Roosevelt for Governor of New York. He very properly ridiculed the Jekyll and Hyde tactics of New York Republicans in adopting a prohibition repeal plank. He held that corruption in New York City could not be laid at the door of the Democratic party of New York State, or at the door of Gov. Roosevelt. This is a fair defense, and is identical with the defense made by Republicans when an attempt was made to saddle upon it the sins of individuals in connection with the Teapot Dome scandal. The country refused to indict the entire party for that scandal, and no doubt the voters of New York will refuse to indict the Democratic party of that State for the misdoings of individuals.

The Democratic attacks upon President Hoover for the business slump have no force with voters, for the same reason. He can not be reasonably charged with responsibility for the excessive gambling in Wall street and its aftermath of adversity. Neither can Gov. Roosevelt be held responsible when crooks in New York City buy and sell judgeships. Reckless political charges which are directed at the innocent are worse than wasted breath. If New York Republicans are wise they will not base their campaign on an attempt to discredit Gov. Roosevelt on account of the New York City scandals. If New York Democrats are wise they will not try to discredit President Hoover because of the business depression.

Gov. Roosevelt enjoys a great advantage over Charles H. Tuttle in the race for the governorship. Gov. Roosevelt is not a turncoat on the prohibition question, while Mr. Tuttle is. Voters who are bent upon repeal of the eighteenth amendment will support a genuine wet in preference to a counterfeit. Drys will not support either one. The dry Republicans having arranged to put a candidate in the field against Tuttle, the election of Roosevelt seems to be a foregone conclusion. He will get New York City, and Tuttle will lose the up-State dry vote.

Success in November will place Gov. Roosevelt well in the lead for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1932. The party in wet States is concentrating upon him. Delegations from those States will outnumber the Southern dry delegations. There is danger of another Madison Square fiasco because of the fact that the dry South, while outnumbered, can still block a nomination through the force of the two-thirds rule.

The Republican party may be badly split by 1932 on the prohibition question, but it seems highly improbable that the wetward swing will be strong enough to force the nomination of a wet. Moreover, the Republicans have a President, and it is to be supposed that he will be renominated, without much regard to the wet and dry issue. But the Democrats do not enjoy such an advantage, and must fight out the wet and dry question in choosing a candidate. No one has a prior claim to the Democratic nomination, but Mr. Hoover unquestionably has the inside track on the Republican side.

Comparative harmony could be maintained by the Republican party under the Hoover banner. Inevitable discord faces the Democratic party under the banner of any one who may be nominated. The two-thirds rule is a curse which embitters Democrats in convention and perpetuates their feuds through the campaign. Now that the wet controversy is superimposed upon the two-thirds rule the Democratic party need not expect to make any capital over the minor dissensions in Republican ranks.

ATHLETICS VS. CARDINALS.

Over in Philadelphia two superb ball teams will meet this afternoon in the first of the series of games that will decide the world's championship. The American League is represented by the Philadelphia Athletics, the National League by the St. Louis Cardinals. Throughout the summer American fandom has been anticipating this heroic day.

The faithful legions are gathered in the Quaker City. From far and wide they have come to participate in the spectacle with which baseball champions are crowned. It is expected that the Athletics will win the series, but the Cardinals are not without loyal followers. They point to the well-balanced pitching staff of the St. Louis team, which will stand it in good stead if the series should go to the seven-game limit. They insist that Philadelphia has only two first-class pitchers; namely, Grove and Earnshaw, and they claim that the Cardinal infield is unmatchable. But Connie Mack is a canny manager. He will try to make the series short and sweet.

From the Golden Gate to Hell Gate, America's attention focuses on Philadelphia. From the President down to the humblest citizen, crowds at the park and before loudspeakers will follow the progress of the battle. In developing clean and alert sportsmanship the great American game has no equal.

DIPHTHERIA CONQUERED.

The striking success of the campaign against diphtheria in New York City leads to the conclusion that this dread disease will be conquered if parents will cooperate to the extent of having their children immunized. Since 1929, when the New York campaign was inaugurated, the reduction in the number of cases and the mortality has been remarkable. Only 333,000 children have been given the treatment, and some 1,000,000 under 10 years of age have not been immunized, but in the first eight months of this year the number of cases and of fatalities have each been reduced by 57 per cent as compared with the corresponding figures for the preceding year. From January 1 to September 1, 1930, there were 3,000 cases as compared with 7,000 in the same period of 1929, while there were but 158 deaths as compared with 374 in the first eight months of 1929.

The immunization treatment is not painful, nor is it accompanied by distressing or unpleasant after-effects. Moreover, although it takes six months for the toxin to develop its full strength in the child's system, once the child is completely immunized he remains so for life. The treatment is easy to obtain and inexpensive. More than 12,000 family doctors in New York have agreed to administer the treatment complete for a total charge of $6. For those who can not afford even this small fee, the free dispensaries of the health department are equipped to render the service.

The New York campaign against diphtheria points the way to eradication of one of the most dreaded diseases of childhood. Despite the apathy and opposition of parents the disease has been reduced to a remarkable extent. The success of this campaign should give impetus to a movement looking toward a country-wide campaign against diphtheria.

COMMERCIALIZED GOLF.

It may be that George Von Elm, runner-up to Bobby Jones for medal honors in the amateur golf championship tournament at Merion, will have opened up the old amateur-professional controversy by his withdrawal from amateur ranks. As every one knows, it costs a good deal of money to be an outstanding amateur golf player; Von Elm says that it has cost him $10,000 a year for the last five years. In his letter of withdrawal he characterizes amateur tournaments as "commercialized," points out that the golf governing body is enabled to keep its coffers filled from the proceeds of such affairs, and announces that in the future he will enter such open competition as he chooses, gambling his skill on such occasions against the prize money. He does not intend to turn professional. He will be a "business-man golfer," treating the proceeds of golf matches just as any business man would treat the proceeds of an ordinary business deal.

Mr. Von Elm, in becoming a "business-man golfer," has not provided a solution for a difficult problem. Something should be done, of course, to make the amateur's financial pathway a bit easier. It is probably necessary to retain the present definition of "amateur" as "any one who accepts, directly or indirectly, compensation for his play." The effect of this rule, however, is that only the wealthy can become simon-pure amateurs. The man of moderate means must resort to subterfuge to obtain enough money to carry him through a tournament.

Possibly if clubs were permitted to stand the actual expenses of amateurs in tournament play, or if amateurs were allowed to accept compensation from any source to the extent of traveling and living expenses in tournament play, the situation of which Von Elm complains would be ended. It would be a decided wrench for the golf association to liberalize its regulations to this extent, but certainly any situation that would do away with the subterfuges that are employed by amateurs to make their expenses would be desirable.

BRITISH IMPERIAL PROTECTION.

For a lucid analysis of the British Empire free trade movement it would be hard to improve upon the radio address delivered Sunday in London by John Rumney Remer, M. P., Lord Beaverbrook, British publisher, is generally looked upon as founder of the empire crusade and its principal exponent, but Mr. Remer is chief lieutenant of the movement and his pronouncements have weight. The speech was rebroadcast in the United States. It should serve to correct in a measure the erroneous popular impression that British Empire free trade would strike a severe blow to American business.

"Empire free trade," said Mr. Remer, "aims not at the destruction of our competitors but the restoration of our own prosperity, not only in the British Isles but wherever the union jack is unfurled, and the protection of the standard of living of all British citizens against devastating competition." The empire crusade is not inimical to the interests of the United States. It contemplates applying to the British Empire the tariff policies that have enabled the United States to grow to a position of commercial supremacy. "It is under a system of free trade within an economic empire," said Mr. Remer, "that the thirteen colonies developed into the mighty power that is now the pride of the American Nation."

In the laboratory of time America has tested and proved the efficacy of the protective tariff in guarding and improving the economic well-being of a great nation. If other nations now seek to borrow from the experience of the United States no valid objection to their program can be found. A protective tariff should work as well for the British Empire as it has for the American commonwealth. As it has played a fundamental part in making the United States the outstanding customer in the family of nations, so should it result in improving the purchasing power of the British commonwealth. Thus the economic well-being of the world would be improved.

When Britons speak of "Empire Free Trade," however, they set up in the minds of others the idea that Britain seeks to be entirely self-supporting and that she seeks advantages at the expense of the rest of the world. The phrase, "Empire Free Trade," has this unfortunate effect. If another phrase were coined for describing the project, which has as its purpose "the development of the economic resources of the British Empire," the rest of the world might be less inclined to view the movement with suspicion. Mr. Remer said: "Who does not see that unless the thirteen States of 1784 had come together in economic unity, the United States in the last half century could not have contributed as it has done to the wealth and prosperity of the whole world?" Why should any person or any nation look askance upon a similar movement on the part of the British Empire?

WHAT I BELIEVE

By ALBERT EINSTEIN,
In the Forum.

Strange is our situation here upon earth. Each of us comes for a short visit, not knowing why, yet sometimes seeming to divine a purpose.

From the standpoint of daily life, however, there is one thing we do know: that man is here for the sake of other men—above all for those upon whose smile and well-being our own happiness depends, and also for the countless unknown souls with whose fate we are connected by a bond of sympathy.

To ponder interminably over the reason for one's own existence or the meaning of life in general seems to me, from an objective point of view, to be sheer folly. And yet every one holds certain ideals by which he guides his aspiration and his judgment. The ideals which have always shone before me and filled me with the joy of living are goodness, beauty and truth. To make a goal of comfort or happiness has never appealed to me; a system of ethics built on this basis would be sufficient only for a herd of cattle.

Without the sense of collaborating with like-minded beings in the pursuit of the ever-unattainable in art and scientific research, my life would have been empty. Ever since childhood I have scorned the commonplace limits so often set upon human ambition. Possessions, outward success, publicity, luxury—to me these have always been contemptible. I believe that a simple and unassuming manner of life is best for every one, best both for the body and the mind.

My political ideal is democracy. Every one should be respected as an individual, but no one idolized. It is an irony of fate that I should have been showered with so much uncalled-for and unmerited admiration and esteem. Perhaps this adulation springs from the unfulfilled wish of the multitude to comprehend the few ideas which I, with my weak powers, have advanced.

It seems to me that the distinctions separating the social classes are false; in the last analysis they rest on force. I am convinced that degeneracy follows every autocratic system of violence, for violence inevitably attracts moral inferiors. Time has proved that illustrious tyrants are succeeded by scoundrels.

For this reason I have always been passionately opposed to such regimes as exist in Russia and Italy today. The thing which has discredited the European forms of democracy is not the basic theory of democracy itself, which some say is at fault, but the instability of our political leadership, as well as the impersonal character of party alignments.

I believe that you in the United States have hit upon the right idea. You choose a President for a reasonable length of time and give him enough power to acquit himself properly of his responsibilities. In the German government, on the other hand, I like the state's more extensive care of the individual when he is ill or unemployed.

It is enough, for me to contemplate the mystery of conscious life perpetuating itself through all eternity, to reflect upon the marvelous structure of the universe which we can dimly perceive, and to try humbly to comprehend even an infinitesimal part of the intelligence manifested in nature.

JUST FOLKS

HOT DOG.

'Twas 2 o'clock when he came in, and rising in my bed,
"Where have you been till such an hour?" to him I sadly said.
"Oh, she was hungry," he replied.
"She had a sandwich yen,
And so we hopped into the car to find
a hot dog den."
"And did you find one?" I inquired.
"Of course I did," said he,
"There's one just twenty miles away—
an Indian tepee!"

There was no harm in such a trip. So
do our customs change.
That youngsters view with no concern
what older minds think strange.
This hot dog craze is modern stuff.
The car is at the door,
And when a girl wants frankfurters,
what's twenty miles or more?
Distance and time are different now
and taste has altered, too;
When girls in our day hungry were, a
hot dog wouldn't do.

We took the trolley home at night, no
motor cars had we.
Who stayed till after midnight knew
an angry dad he'd see.
But, is it fair to judge them now by
standards long outworn?
The modern girls, it seems, like food
their mothers viewed with scorn.
Though twenty miles seem far to us,
it's just a hop to them
Who yearn for hot dog sandwiches at 2 o'clock a. m.

All Reform Seems a Threat to the Man Who Sits on Cushions.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

IT isn't true that clothes make the man, but it is quite true that property makes him.

If you know what a man's possessions are, you can make a shrewd guess concerning his opinions.

The commonly accepted opinion that a man is born to be a liberal or a conservative is true only in the sense that he is born to be poor or rich.

When America's first government was organized, it was organized by and for the well-born and the well-to-do. The aristocratic Hamilton was its dominating influence, and its pets were the merchants, the money lenders, the manufacturers and the clergy.

It was a conservative government, loving money more than men, and it not only refused to ally itself with the radicals who controlled France, as it was by treaty pledged to do, but actually dismissed their ambassador.

Jefferson led the opposition—the poor and the despised, the laborers and the debt-burdened small farmers. He was a radical—a liberal if you prefer—because his people had been poor farmers and he had absorbed the viewpoint of the underdog before he was breeched.

Philosophers of that day tried to explain the two parties by saying that the members of one were by nature disposed to favor rule by the aristocracy while members of the other as naturally trusted the common people—one preferring and the other fearing a strong central government—but the two parties in fact represented those who had and those who had not.

Money and responsibility made the difference, then as now.

As Mussolini the socialist became Mussolini the dictator and the enemy of liberty when a new order gave him power and responsibility—as revolutionists who battled for freedom and equal rights in Russia became the most tyrannical of masters when they seized the reins—so the possession of property and the job of protecting it transform the wildest capital-baiter into a paunchy conservative who shudders at the thought of change.

Conservatism is fondness for a feathered nest.

Radicalism is dissatisfaction with a meatless bone.

America remains a conservative Nation because it is a Nation of property owners. It toys with radical ideas only when times are hard.

A full stomach sees only good in the world, and an empty one hates the whole sorry scheme.

Various Aspects of Political Issues Discussed by the Press.

Jack Garner's Accusations.
Philadelphia Public Ledger.

There could be no more striking proof of the poverty of the national Democratic organization with regard to a real issue this year than Representative Garner's attempt to connect the administration's tax-refunding policy with campaign contributions from leading Republicans. This latest of a long series of attacks put forth by the exceedingly active Democratic publicity bureau breaks the record for misrepresentation.

It has long been an obsession of Mr. Garner that there is something suspicious, if not crooked, in this procedure by the Government of paying back money to which it is not entitled.

All tax settlements involving more than $50,000 must be approved by the general counsel of the Treasury. Any claim necessitating a payment of more than $75,000 must have the O.K. of the joint congressional committee on finance. And the appropriations for refunds are, of course, made by Congress.

The Democratic leader of the House is desperately hard up for an issue when he descends to such tactics. What he means to say, without making the charge directly, is that for a few thousand dollars in the form of a campaign contribution Republicans are buying tax refunds. Such an insinuation would indict the Secretary of the Treasury and his legal advisers, the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the joint bipartisan committee of Congress which passes upon all large claims, to say nothing of the courts whose rulings have directed substantial payments to claimants.

Mr. Garner's ridiculous attack, following the summer-long barrage of the Michelson press bureau against President Hoover personally and his Administration, deserves attention only as a sample of the campaign methods to which the Democrats are reduced in a year when they can not conjure up a shadow of an excuse for their restoration to power in Congress.

Tammany Under Fire.
New York Herald Tribune.

Tammany again is in the public eye and by the stupidity displayed by Big Chief Curry and a string of his lieutenants is playing directly into the hands of United States Attorney Tuttle and the other State candidates of the Republican Party. The facts concerning the sale of an office to a magistrate are plain enough. There is a settled belief that this sort of thing has been carried into judicial places.

A special grand jury is undertaking to investigate. Tammany leaders from Curry down were summoned to tell what they knew. All of them asserted that they had been "insulted" when asked to waive immunity. Each one may be personally innocent, but refusal to submit to questioning creates grave suspicion that Tammany methods and Tammany graft and corruption are being studiously hidden.

It is a trying situation for Gov. Roosevelt. To be elected he must receive a very large majority in New York City. He must depend upon Tammany to do its utmost. His disinclination to intervene is readily understood. But the necessity for some action on his part is apparent, especially so when it is remembered that his Republican rival for the governorship, United States Attorney Tuttle, has been delving into the Tammany mess and intends to make Tammany corruption a prominent issue in the campaign. So the governor has invited Mayor Walker to advise the Tammany leaders that they change their attitude and tell what they know to the grand jury. In addition he proposes a law that will deny the immunity plea to public officials.

But it is too late to remove the impression made upon the public that Tammany is concealing something that is very rotten.

Atlanta Constitution.

The suggestion is heard that the Democrats can make a well-balanced and persuasive presidential ticket for 1932 by making it read "Roosevelt and Reed"—meaning the Governor of New York and the former senator from Missouri.

There are angles from which that ticket could be viewed with both approval and hope. The Governor of New York, very sure to be re-elected in November, is a fine Democratic figure. He is an out and out Jeffersonian, showing strongly the philosophy and equitable principles of the immortal founder of our immortal American democracy. Former Senator Reed comes as near to showing the temper, courage and indomitable devotion to the people's rights, of Old Hickory Jackson as any Democrat now in the public eye. The two men joined in a party campaign would leave little more of statesmanship and Democratic principles to be demanded.

Of course, the suggestion of "Roosevelt and Reed" ticket is only tentative. Neither of those gentlemen might agree to the combination and it is certain that a great deal of argument would be needed to secure it a howling welcome throughout the national party.

South and West Coalition?
Richmond Times-Dispatch.

If the West continues dry in the Republican convention of 1932 and refuses to follow the lead of the East an interesting political development may ensue. The South, perhaps, will be equally unwilling to fall in line with Democratic wet sentiment. There is a possibility, then, remote as it may be, of a coalition between the two sections to preserve the integrity of the eighteenth amendment, against which recently there have been many vicious and uncompromising onslaughts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Rudolph Spreckels Holds That Short Selling by Americans Creates Internal Crisis—Proposes a National Conference.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In the September 25th issue of The Post I read two editorials, one entitled "Soviet War Methods," the other "Spreckels' Panacea."

In the first editorial you say, among other things, "The United States will be compelled to meet the communist challenge. American industry, agriculture and labor will not permit the Government to stand idle while a gigantic organized war is waged against them." . . . "A little more pain in the pocket nerve will cause American citizens to change this situation."

In your second editorial you say, "His first step would be to call a great conference in which every industry would be represented. These delegates would meet with a committee to be named by President Hoover from the two branches of Congress and the executive departments. Presumably it would be the duty of this body to 'allocate to each manufacturing company its legimate share of the existing demand' and to require every company 'to sell at a price fair to consumers which will insure a reasonable profit.' When that simple program shall have been carried out, Mr. Spreckels is convinced that 'confidence will be quickly restored.' The only preparation that would be necessary to usher in this industrial Utopia would be a revolution in American business methods and careful destruction of the Constitution, together with all the rights of private property."

It seems to me that you are quite inconsistent in suggesting in the first editorial that "American industry, agriculture and labor will not permit the Government to stand idle while gigantic organized war is waged against them" and in the second editorial disapprove my suggestion that "it is the duty of Government to bring industry out of kinks" and my idea that "a great conference should be called in which every industry would be represented. These delegates would meet with a committee to be named by President Hoover from the two branches of Congress and the executive departments."

You seem to think that American industry, agriculture and labor should demand that our Government act in the case of Russia's short sales of wheat, though small in comparison with short sales by American citizens, but that American industry, agriculture and labor should not require our Government to interest itself in the greatest internal crisis this country has faced since the Civil War.

Unemployment and widespread discontent offer a fertile field in which to propagate Soviet theories. Bread lines and riots throughout the Nation may awaken in you a better understanding of our internal problems and make you wish that you had encouraged the holding of such a conference as I suggested to formulate constructive plans by which the hardships of unemployment and business, agriculture and financial difficulties could have been avoided. It is not likely that you or I could offer a panacea, but it is unthinkable that the combined efforts of the representatives of American business, agriculture, labor and Government, in common conference, would be incapable of working out a solution. If you have a better plan to suggest, I would be among the first to offer you my support.

R. SPRECKELS.

Dry Brooklynite Pays His Respect to G. O. P. and Sounds Battle Cry for 1932.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The Republican party of New York has run counter to President Hoover, ignored him, in fact, and cast its future anchor in a sea of booze. What a spectacle! The Empire State sailing forth in a schooner of beer to battle the Constitution of the United States! Roosevelt holds aloft a bung starter as an emblem, while Tuttle rattles a corkscrew in one hand and a bottle opener in the other. Both are appealing to the lowest elements in New York State.

On the sidelines the Tammany Hall boys laugh merrily, while the Tiger winks and cries, "more meat," as the band blares forth, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

The Republican party will meet a well deserved defeat, in which it will be my pleasure to participate by voting for independents or dry candidates, as the G. O. P. has sacrificed principle for political expediency. Drys all over the country will now buckle on their armor and get ready to clean out the whisky and beer makers for good and all in 1932.

CHINESE REBEL HEAD DENIES PLAN TO QUIT

Gen. Feng Directs Battle as 50,000 Nationalists Are Rushed to Honan.

REDS PERIL FOREIGNERS

Shanghai, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Contradicting Nationalist statements that he was about to surrender, Gen. Feng Yu-Hsiang, colorful war lord, was reported today leading his rebel forces in sharp fighting against government troops in Northern Honan Province.

Although President Chiang Kai-Shek asserted Feng, leader of several revolts against various governments, was about to retire once more to private life, Chiang ordered 50,000 men rushed to Honan to reinforce his troops worn by six months of battle south of the Yellow River.

Chiang and Feng, China's outstanding generals, personally commanded their opposing troops in the struggle which Nationalists predicted would end in Feng and his army being driven across the river into the mountains of Shansi Province, terminating at least temporarily the civil war.

Meantime, taking advantage of the absence of Nationalist troops to repel northern insurgents, large forces of Communists pillaged towns along the Yangtze River. Firing on ships running the rapids between Ichang and Hankow continued.

Forty thousand Reds, after despoiling Hunan Province, advanced into Kiangsi, threatening Nanchang. The 2,000 defending troops hurriedly dug trenches while many well-to-do Chinese fled to Kiukiang.

The government promised troops to oppose the Red advance.

Changsha, looted and burned in July by Communists, was again surrounded by Reds. The city was reported helpless to repel attack. Foreigners were said to be unable to depart because of low water in the Siang River.

Unconfirmed reports from Hankow today said American and British residents of Changsha were planning to evacuate for the winter because of the persistence of the Communist menace there, but that the level of the Siang River was too low to permit unhampered boat traffic to Hankow.

With the river level so low, neither foreign gunboats nor commercial ships have been able to reach Changsha, thereby leaving the foreigners isolated there. The river offers virtually the only means of transportation between Changsha and Yangtze ports.

Two Reported Flogged By Enraged Floridians

Brooksville, Fla., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Chief of Police W. D. Clark, jr., said today that he had received reports of mob action near here last night in which a white man was flogged and another beaten and then tarred and feathered. He said he was informed that a group of men abducted J. W. Springhead, 60, a dairyman, and C. F. Berry, 30, a merchant, and lashed them heavily and put a coat of tar and feathers on Springhead as additional punishment.

He quoted officials in the office of Sheriff John Cobb, of Hernando County, as saying neighbors of the men reported Springhead had been accused of whipping his wife and that Berry had aroused the displeasure of many in the community because they suspected him of selling liquor.

Sales Gain 5 Per Cent On Chicago Stock Mart

Chicago, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The volume of trading on the Chicago Stock Exchange during the first nine months of 1930 has exceeded that of any similar period in the history of the exchange.

It was announced at the close of trading today that the nine months' total was 56,931,300 shares, against 54,144,000 for the first nine months of 1929, an increase of 5 per cent. Stock trading today was the largest since June 18 of this year and amounted to 430,200 shares.

members of the California Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade, failed to open today. The action was followed with announcement of its suspension from the exchange membership, and suspension of its brokerage license by the State corporation commissioner.

Harold G. Ferguson, president of the exchange, announced the suspension was due to the firm's refusal to submit its books for examination by the exchange committee.

"J. J. Loftus & Co.," said the corporation commissioner, "has been under investigation two or three months because of its financial condition. The circumstances of the firm are such that we considered it was not safe for the company to deal further with the public. An investigation now is underway to determine definitely the status of the firm. The license of the company will remain suspended until such time as sufficient capital has been put in to make the firm sound."

EARL OF BIRKENHEAD DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Former Chancellor Gained Admiration of All by His Rise to Power.

KING SENDS CONDOLENCE

London, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The Earl of Birkenhead, great lawyer, brilliant politician and one of the most romantic and colorful figures in British public life, died from pneumonia today at the age of 58.

His crowded political life included a role as prosecutor of Sir Roger Casement, Irish leader, who was hanged after conviction for treason; lord high chancellor and secretary of state for India.

The announcement by his physician said:

"The Earl of Birkenhead passed peacefully away at a quarter past eleven this morning. There had been a further increase in the pneumonic infection and the heart muscles, feeling the effect of this, dilated and failed."

Lord Birkenhead had been ill for some time and grave alarm was felt yesterday when it was announced that he was suffering from a recurrence of the lung trouble which troubled him in the summer.

King George and almost all the prominent figures in Great Britain today sent messages of sympathy to the bereaved family or otherwise paid tribute to the man who at the early age of 47 became lord high chancellor of England, and even statesmen who experienced the full bitterness of his political opposition testified to their warm affection for him as a personal friend.

To the man in the street, who even now is disposed to think of "Frederick Edwin Smith," or of "F. E." rather than the Earl of Birkenhead, it seems as if the world will be more drab for his passing.

"The Smith of my own fortunes," is the translation of the Latin motto he adopted when raised to the peerage, and Birkenhead's career will long be held an example of what brilliant intellect and hard work will do for a man who started with no advantages.

Lord Birkenhead's body was taken tonight to the chapel of Gray's Inn—one of the four famous "Inns of Court"—of which he was a member. It will remain there until the funeral, which will be held Saturday at the dead statesman's country home, Charlton, This is near Banbury, in Oxfordshire.

DOMINION LEADERS FETED IN LONDON

SESSION OPENS TODAY

London, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A Government banquet and reception tonight at Lancaster House, with a thousand guests attending, marked the first of the festivities which will attend the labors of the British Imperial Conference opening tomorrow.

All the statesmen participating in the conference attended the affair tonight, a gathering remarkable for the number of powerful dominion leaders present.

Canada has sent her recently elected Conservative premier, R. B. Bennett; J. H. Scullin, Australia's Labor prime minister, is paying his first visit to the motherland. From South Africa comes Premier J. B. M. Hertzog, who fought against the British forces in the Boer war. New Zealand's premier, G. W. Forbes, is present, as is Sir Richard Squires, prime minister of Newfoundland.

The Maharajah of Bikaner is the chief native member of the group from India, although Wedgwood Benn, secretary of state for India, officially heads the delegation.

The conference will be officially opened tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain welcoming the visiting statesmen in the reception room at the foreign office. He will indicate the lines the conference will follow and the heads of the various delegations also will speak.

The proceedings will be private but an official report will be issued.

FINANCIERS DRAFT BRANCH BANK PLEA

Banking Association to Be Urged to Drop Opposition; Rural Crisis Cited.

INDEPENDENTS HARD HIT

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—The increasing difficulty of some banks, especially smaller ones, to operate profitably as independent units, held the attention of the resolutions committee of the American Bankers Association tonight.

The committee had before it a recommendation that the association modify the stand it has taken in opposition to branch banking. The recommendation was made by the association's economic policy commission, which is the association's chief advisory body.

As an indication of the advisability of giving recognition to the branch banking movement, the report of the commission, presented by R. S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank & Trust Co., of New Orleans, and chairman of the commission, cited the increasing number of failures of unit banks and the growth of the group banking movement.

No Menace Seen.

The commission took into consideration opposition of many to large banking monopolies and said that while the question should not be ignored, it did not believe it presented a menace.

Hecht said that the movement of group banking is not a measure of Wall Street or any financial region to wrest control of this country's finances, but it arises out of present-day economic necessities.

"Official records show that in the year ended June 30, this year, there were 758 bank suspensions, with deposits of $353,500,000," Hecht said. In point of numbers this is the highest mortality in any year since the war except 1925, when there were 915 suspensions, and in 1927, when there were 831. In point of deposits it was the highest, even exceeding the $297,900,000 reported in 1924."

He said that during the last ten years about 5,700 banks have suspended, mostly in the agricultural districts, tying up gross deposits of almost $2,000,000,000.

Economic factors have recently arisen to hamper the operation of the small independent, Hecht said. "One is the constant shift of business from smaller to larger centers. Under the Federal Reserve System the small bank has lost a source of revenue as an intermediary in the making of mortgage loans," he said.

Farm Aid Felt.

Federal farm aid with the multiplication of facilities of agricultural credits was cited as an indirect cause of the small banks difficulties.

The report was considered the most important to be presented at the convention. The resolutions committee is expected to announce its action on it at Thursday's session when it will come up for vote.

There have been some recent signs that business is on the upgrade, John G. Lonsdale, president of the Mercantile Commerce Bank & Trust Co. and president of the association, told the convention. He said there are numerous adjustments to be made in business operations before permanent prosperity is assured.

MRS. MARGARET POU MORAN, daughter of Representative Edward W. Pou, who was yesterday granted a divorce in Reno from her broker husband, Carleton E. Moran.

Copper at Lowest Price Level of Last 30 Years

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Custom smelters today reduced the price of copper for domestic delivery one-quarter of a cent to 10 cents a pound, the lowest quotation for the metal in more than 30 years.

Some producers also quoted the metal at 10 cents, compared with the level of 10½ cents at which they had been holding the metal.

A cut of one-half of a cent a pound to 10.30 cents, C. I. F. European base ports, also was made by Copper Exporters, Inc., bringing the export price to a parity with the domestic level.

"Empire Jack" Held Suicide.

Alexandria, Egypt, Sept. 30 (A.P.). A verdict of suicide while temporarily insane was returned today at the inquest into the death of Sir John Norton-Griffiths, who was found shot to death last Saturday. Lieut. Col. Griffiths, engineer and soldier, was governing director of the Norton-Griffiths Co.

State Curb on Oil Production Upheld

Oklahoma Federal Judges Deny Injunction Asked by Company.

Oklahoma City, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A court of three Federal judges late today in effect upheld the constitutionality of State regulation of oil production. The request of the Champlin Refining Co., of Enid, for an interlocutory injunction against the Oklahoma corporation commission was refused.

The Champlin Co., in seeking to restrain State limitations of its production of oil in the Oklahoma City and Seminole fields, charged that the corporation commission was without jurisdiction and that its action countenanced price fixing by oil companies participating in the proration agreement.

The proration plan, intended to curb flush oil production and hold it to market needs, originated in Oklahoma about two years ago, and since has been adopted in other States, including Kansas, Texas and California.

Order Is Restored As Suspects Leave

Two Prisoners in Slayings Taken From County Jail to Birmingham.

Huntsville, Ala., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Order was restored in this harassed city tonight as two companies of Alabama National Guardsmen were demobilized and the two Negroes they were called to protect were removed from the Madison County Jail to Birmingham for safe keeping.

The Negroes, C. E. Henderson and Rufus McCoy, were sought by a crowd which gathered around the jail and was dispersed only after the guardsmen loosed tear gas bombs and advanced with fixed bayonets.

Henderson is held as a suspect in the slaying of H. E. Ross, prominent Huntsville business man, Saturday night, and McCoy is held for the slaying of J. C. Mathes, Phoenix, Ariz., traveling salesman. McCoy is said by police to have confessed to killing Mathes and throwing his body into the Tennessee River near here.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Mrs. Rogers To Be Feted By Veterans

Bay State Member of Congress Will Be Legion Guest.

WHILE legislators may come and go, Representative Edith Nourse Rogers, of Massachusetts, goes on forever—or at least the sparkling politician from New England eternally is bound for "somewhere," and always in the interest of her constituents or her devoted soldier boys. Yesterday Mrs. Rogers left for New York and will go on to Boston where she will be guest of the American Legion at the convention which opens on Saturday.

Generally Mrs. Rogers' objective is gained through rapid air transit, as she is a flying devotee and "on the wing" a great part of the time. Perhaps because she also will be an honor guest at the luncheon of the American Legion on Monday when President Hoover will be the guest of honor, Mrs. Rogers decided in favor of conservatism instead of modernism in her mode of travel, as she departed in a dignified manner on a fast train.

The popular representative from Massachusetts admits her fondness for flying and made her usual customary trips by air through the New England States during the summer conducting also in her own Fifth District in Massachcusetts a buying and "pay-cash-if-you-can" campaign. She is an advocate, she says, of spending one's money if one has it, and with her usual definite attention to the matter in hand lectured to put the idea across.

Mrs. Rogers is known as the "Pied Piper of New England," and again this summer renewed the war on rats begun a year ago when rodents of all sizes, she laughingly pointed out, played havoc with crops all over the State. Indirectly she flew hither and yon, mingling the campaign against the crop destroyers with her endeavor in behalf of war veterans whose welfare engages so much of her time.

The representative will be the guest at several luncheons, almost a "running series" of them, as arranged by the American Legion during the convention days. Mrs. Rogers is chairman of the hospital committee of the organization and will direct plans for its activity for the coming year.

Mrs. William De Witt Mitchell, wife of the Attorney General, entertained a number of guests at luncheon yesterday at the National Woman's Country Club, in Bradley lane.

Mrs. William Henry White is motoring in the Catskill Mountains. She will stop in New York before her return to Washington.

Fountain to Be Given McGill University.

As a gesture of friendship between the United States and Canada a marble fountain will be presented to McGill University, Montreal, on November 1 by a committee of Americans, including prominent Washingtonians. The fountain, which is just completed, was designed by Mrs. Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, whose Aztec fountain in the Pan-American Union ranks among the finest in Washington.

The presentation address will be made by Dr. John Finley, who is a member of the American committee for the gift. Officials in public life, the Army and others notable in educational and social circles include the Speaker of the House, Mr. Nicholas Longworth; Gen. John J. Pershing, James G. Harbord, Rear Admiral L. R. de Steiguer, commandant, United States Navy Yard; Maj Gen William N. Haskell, Mr. Frank B. Kellogg, Mr. James W. Gerard, Lieut. Gen. R. L. Bullard, U. S. A., retired; Mr. John Hays Hammond, former Secretary of State, and Mrs. Hammond; Mrs. Oliver Harriman, Mr. Charles E. Hughes, jr., former solicitor general; Mr. Owen D. Young, Mr. Newton D. Baker, former Secretary of War; Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury and many others.

Members of the American committee and Mrs. Vanderbilt will be present at the unveiling ceremony. Acceptance on behalf of the university and the people of Canada will be made by Viscount Willingdon, Governor General of Canada.

The fountain consists of three male figures, forming a group in a rectangular basin bordered with fruit and leavea. The figures, carved in white marble, are of heroic size.

Maj. Gen. Peter Edward Traub, retired, and Mrs. Traub, who now make their home in Augusta, Ga., although they lived for many years in Washington, when Gen. Traub was in active service, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Katherine Hamilton Traub, to Mr. John Clowsbury Cairns.

The wedding will take place on the afternoon of October 15, in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Augusta. A reception will follow at the home of Gen. and Mrs. Traub.

Miss Traub was graduated from St. Mary's School in Peekskill, N. Y. Mr. Cairns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cairns, of Waterbury, Conn. He was graduated from Yale in the class of '22 and later attended the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

The Right Rev. and Mrs. Philip M. Rhinelander are guests at Wardman Park Hotel.

Rev. Ulysses G. B. Pierce Returns From Abroad.

Among passengers arriving on the Red Star liner Lapland on Monday were the Rev. and Mrs. Ulysses G. B. Pierce, who are returning to Washington after spending some time in Europe.

Also among the list of incoming passengers is J. de Meester de Betzenbrbeck, vice president and delegate of the Royal Auto Club of Belgian, who will attend the sixth International Road Congress in Washington, October 6 to 12.

Miss Grace Abbott will be the speaker at the first meeting of the Twentieth Century Club tomorrow at 12 o'clock at Barker Hall in the Y. W. C. A. Building. Mrs. W. W. Husband, president of the organization, will preside.

Sails for Paris

MRS. ROBERT M. SCOTTEN left yesterday with Mr. Scotten for France, where the latter will enter upon his new post as First Secretary at the American Embassy.

Old Families To Be Joined By Wedding

Miss Schieffelin Will Be Married to Mr. Bosanquet.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, of New York and Tranquillity Farm, Asheville, Me., have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Miss Barbara Schieffelin, to Charles Ion Car Bosanquet, of Rock Moor, Alnwick, Northumberland, England. Both Miss Schieffelin and Mr Bosanquet are of distinguished ancestry. The former is a great-great-granddaughter of John Jay, First Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court and negotiator of the Jay treaty with England in 1795. She is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Schieffelin, the latter having been Miss Mary Jay, daughter of John Jay, who from 1869 to 1875 was United States Minister to Austria-Hungary.

Through her mother, who is the former Miss M. Louise Shepard, Miss Schieffelin is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard and a direct descendant of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt. Her father for many years has been chairman of the Citizens Union. Miss Schieffelin attended Miss Walker's School and Bryn Mawr College. She was presented to society in 1925 at a tea given by her parents and the following year she studied at Barnard College, where she received her A. B. degree. Since then she has spent a year abroad and has done research work for the Eugenics Research Association. She is a member of the Junior League.

Mrs. Frederick H. Osborn and Mrs. Charles Stelle Brown, jr., are her sisters, and Mr. William Jay Schieffelin, jr., Mr. John Jay Schieffelin, Mr. Bayard Schieffelin, Mr. Elliott Schieffelin and Mr. Henry Schieffelin are her brothers.

Mr. Bosanquet is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carr Bosanquet, of England. His father was one time head of the British School of Archeology in Athens, Greece. He is the grandnephew of Bernard Bosanquet, the Oxford philosopher, and a cousin of William Bosanquet, who several years ago married Esther Cleveland, a daughter of the late President Grover Cleveland, and the present Mrs. Thomas J. Preston, jr., of Princeton, N. J. Mr. Bosanquet attended Winchester School and Trinity College, where he was graduated with honors in the class of 1925. During that year he went to Geneva as private secretary to Sir Hilton Young, prominent British economist, and later served as a special financial reporter for the London Economist. Mr. Bosanquet is now manager of the research department of Lazard Freres, London bankers. His clubs include Brooks', the New University, and the Leander Boat clubs of England.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Maj. and Mrs. Edgar Hume and Edgar, jr., are guests at Wardman Park Hotel before going to Boston, where Maj. Hume will take up new detail.

Dr. P. J. Lennox Home From Europe.

Dr. P. J. Lennox, dean of the School of Letters of the Catholic University of America, has returned to Washington after spending the summer in Europe. He was a passenger on the liner Cedric and by chance had as fellow passengers Mgr. Bernard A. McKenna and the Very Rev. Dr. Patrick J. Healy, both of the Catholic University. Mgr. McKenna is in charge of erection of the Shrine of the Immaculate Conception.

Another interesting passenger on the same vessel was Mr. George Russell, poet and painter, and also head of the cooperative movement in Ireland. Mr. Russell is widely known under his pen name "AE." He has come to this country on a six months' lecture tour on the general topic of "Rural Civilization."

Mr. Will T. Hayes is awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Hayes and their daughter, Miss Helen Hayes, who are now en route to Washington from Knoxville, Tenn. While in Knoxville Miss Hayes sang several times over the radio and will broadcast a group of songs from Washington on her return.

Mrs. Anne E. Edwards is spending a few days in New York, where she is staying at the Park Central.

Mrs. Morrow Returns From Mexico City

Will Attend Opening of Daughter's School in Englewood.

Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow returned yesterday to Englewood, N. J., from Mexico in a special car from St. Louis. Ambassador Morrow left Washington yesterday for Englewood after several conferences with President Hoover.

Mrs. Morrow returned directly to Englewood for the opening of the "Little School," a kindergarten which her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Morrow, will conduct this winter.

An entire end of Mrs. Morrow's train was filled with furnishings from their home in Cuernavaca, and a large box of Mexican toys and books which Miss Morrow will use in her school.

Miss Morrow's Little School opened yesterday and will be conducted in the old Vanderback Homestead, where 40 boys and girls from 18 months to 5½ years of age will be the initial students. The children will listen to fairy tales and will be taught how to play games. Miss Morrow was graduated from Smith College in 1924. She has also studied at the Sorbonne and at the University of Grenoble in France. Last year while in Mexico with her father she taught English to two groups of Mexican children in the Albert Correra and Popez-Cotilla schools.

Mr. Horace M. Albright, director of the National Park Service, will join Mrs. Albright at their home in Spring Valley on Friday. He has been making a trip through the different parks in the West.

Miss L. N. Harrison has returned to her home at 1752 Q street for the winter, after spending the summer months in Monterey, Pa., and also in Virginia.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Kerr and their son, Peter, have returned from Europe, where they spent two months and are established in their home in Rock Creek Park for the season.

Mrs. Archie McDonald and small daughter, Louise Patricia, of Inglewood, Calif., are the guests of Mrs. McDonald's grandmother, Mrs. Alex. McVeigh Miller, at her apartment on Euclid street.

The fine arts committee of the Woman's Club of Bethesda is sponsoring a recital to be given by the Emlin Davis School of Dance at the clubhouse this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Bridge Parties Set By Clubwomen.

A series of bridge mornings will feature the program arranged for a period of three months by the National Woman's Country Club, the first to be held tomorrow at the clubhouse on Bradley lane, where all of the meetings will take place. Playing will begin at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Baker and their two children have returned to town from their summer home at Chaumont, N. Y., and have reopened their house on Connecticut avenue for the winter.

The marriage is announced of Miss Alma Lucille Lyttle and Mr. Eugene Wright Emory, the ceremony taking place on Wednesday, September 24, in Rockville, Md.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory will be at home after October 8 at 2013 New Hampshire avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Keith have returned from a ten-week trip in Europe. They were received by Pope Pius XI, and Dr. Keith represented the Geological Society of America and National Research Council at the centenary celebration of the Geological Society of France. He also represented the National Academy of Sciences at the International Geophysical Union meetings in Stockholm.

Dr. and Mrs. Keith will spend the autumn in their home at Greenfield, N. H., and will not return to their home in Washington until later in the season.

New Capital Hostess

Harris & Ewing.

MRS. LELAND HARRISON will take her place in the official circles of Washington, where Mr. Harrison, former Minister to Urugnay, has been appointed chief of the International Relations Division of the Tariff Commission.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY

State, and will come to the Capital in November for the season. The Remeys occupied the Gann house last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gann and the Vice President, Mr. Charles Curtis, who has been spending the summer with his brother-in-law and sister at their suburban home, are moving into the latter's apartment at the Mayflower today for the winter months.

Miss Evans Is Wed To Mr. H. R. Hendricks.

The marriage of Miss Gertrude Mae Evans, daughter of Mrs. John G. Bogart, of Berwick, Pa., to Mr. Homer R. Hendricks, of Washington, son of Mrs. Rufus Roberts Hendricks, of Waxahachie, Tex., took place at Hempstead, Long Island, on Monday afternoon.

The bride, who has visited in Washington frequently, was educated at Wyoming Seminary, Kingston, Pa. The bridegroom is practicing law in Washington. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, and attended Harvard Law School. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Phi Fraternities, the American Society of International Law and other legal organizations, and of the Racquet and University Clubs, of Washington. He served in the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh Texas Legislatures.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks will be at home at 2100 Massachusetts avenue.

Mr. Halvard R. Bachke, the Norwegian Minister, returned from abroad yesterday and is spending a few days at the Ambassador Hotel in New York before returning to resume his duties.

The newly appointed chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who is en route to Washington from the Philippines, sailed yesterday from Yokohama, for San Francisco, from where he will come to Washington.

Senor Jose T. Baron, Counselor of the Cuban Embassy and charge d'affaires ad interim, left yesterday for Port Washington, Long Island, to attend the funeral of Mr. Daniel Guggenheim, father of Mr. Harry F. Guggenheim, Ambassador to Cuba. Senor Baron goes as a representative of the Cuban government.

Capt. and Mrs. Barron P. DuBois have returned from their summer home at Marblehead, Mass., and are now established for the winter at 3317 Rowland place. Miss Catherine DuBois is attending school at Holton Arms.

Mr. Charles H. March, Federal trade commissioner, and Mrs. March have moved from 2101 Connecticut avenue to the Westchester Apartments at 3900 Cathedral avenue, where they will be for the winter.

Mr. James C. Park, of the American Consular Service, is sailing today for France on the President Harding, to take up his duties as newly appointed consul in Paris. Mr. Park has been on leave of absence in this country and has been dividing his time between Washington and North Carolina, his former home. Mr. Park has seen service in Lille, France; Cardiff, Wales; Luxembourg and Martinique.

Mrs. Park and their little daughter have been spending the summer with her parents at their home in Le Havre and will join Mr. Park in Paris on his arrival.

Also sailing on the steamer is Mr. Paul L. Hopper, assistant trade commissioner of the Department of Commerce, en route to his post in Bombay, India.

Mrs. Ogden L. Mills At Her Woodbury Home.

Mrs. Ogden L. Mills, wife of the Undersecretary of the Treasury, and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Fell, will not return to their home in Washington until November. They are spending the fall at their home in Woodbury, Long Island. Mr. Mills is already in Washington at their home on Eighteenth street for the season.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman is passing some time at Pine Lodge at Newport, before opening her home here for the winter.

Mrs. Ernest Thompson Seton, president of the National League of American Pen Women, has left her home in Greenwich, Conn., for a trip to the Orient where she will remain until May. Mrs. Seton will gather material for writing while on her trip.

Mrs. P. W. MacMillan has returned to her apartment at the Roosevelt after passing the summer in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy Moss have gone to New York to pass a few days visiting there and in Greenwich, Conn. They will return to Washington on Friday. Mr. Moss's mother, Mrs. Mckenzie Moss, has come from Philadelphia where she was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Howe, and will remain here until Mr. and Mrs. Moss return from their trip.

Representative Edith Nourse Rogers was among those lunching at the Carlton yesterday. Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson were also lunching there yesterday.

Mr. Eliot Wadsworth, who was recently appointed by President Hoover as special representative to study economic reconstruction needs in Santo Domingo, accompanied by Mr. J. F. McGurk, of the Latin-American Division of the State Department, has sailed from San Juan, Porto Rico, to assume the duties of his new post.

Mr. Wadsworth will remain in Santo Domingo for about two weeks while consulting with the American Minister, Mr. Curtis, and Dominican officials on the financial situation.

Mr. Wadsworth served during the Harding and Coolidge administrations as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Lord Marks, of London, entertained at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton, his guests numbering eleven.

Mrs. Marye Returns From Newport Home.

Mrs. George T. Marye has returned to her home on N street after passing the summer in Newport. She had with her over the week-end her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. William D. Thomas, who have returned to the former's station at Norfolk, Va.

Baron Paul Vrangell, of Paris, is the guest of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Silas E. Persons. He recently arrived in this country on the Britannia and plans to spend several months in travel and study in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert H. Grosvenor and their daughter, Miss Gloria Grosvenor, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Doeller are spending a few days in New York, where they are staying at the Madison.

Dr. and Mrs. MacPherson Crichton entertained at dinner last evening in honor of their guests, the former's sister, Mrs. Snowden Ashford and her son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. E. C. Metcalfe, of Annapolis.

Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Stuart D. Truesdell and their son, Charles Truesdell, have arrived in Washington from the Asiatic station, where they have been for more than two years. They are the guests of Lieut. Comdr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Tawresey at their home on Florida avenue until a suitable house is found as Lieut. Comdr. Truesdell will be stationed in Washington for a time.

Mrs. M. de Clare Berry has returned to Washington for the season after a sojourn in North Carolina and Virginia, where she went after closing her country home in Bradley Hills, Md.

Maj. and Mrs. Hicks Have Manila Guests.

Maj. and Mrs. Edward H. Hicks have as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Elser, of Manila, Philippine Islands, who are on a trip around the world. Mrs. Elser is a sister of Mrs. Hicks.

Col. Wade H. Cooper has gone to Cleveland to attend the American Bankers Association.

"An Evening of Travels" will be the feature at the Arts Club tomorrow night. The guest of honor will be Mr. John H. Gray, professor of economics in the American University Graduate School. Prof. Gray has studied European life and culture at close range during the summer with a party of 30 other American men and women. He will speak on "What I Found in Russia."

Members of the club will also be invited to recount their summer experiences. Mr. and Mrs. William Malcolm Corse will be the hosts.

Maj. John C. Gotwals, Engineer Commissioner of the District, left Washington last night for St. Louis, where he was Army district engineer prior to his appointment as a Commissioner of the National Capital. Maj. Gotwals is to return in a few days bringing to Washington Mrs. Gotwals and their two children, one of whom was born since Maj. Gotwals became Engineer Commissioner.

Mr. and Mrs. Truxtun Beale are spending several days in New York on their way to Washington from Newport, where they occupied their cottage during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Choose Daughter's Name.

Mary Hope Hurley is the name which the Secretary of War and Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley have chosen for their baby girl. No date has been chosen, however, for the christening.

Little Mary Hope is the fourth child. The others are Patricia, Ruth and Wilson. Debutante daughters of Cabinet members and collegiate sons claim the spotlight news from time to time and several members of the Cabinet have engaging grandchildren. But only the Hurleys and the Davises, the Secretary of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis, have juvenile sons and daughters.

District Supreme Court Swears In Two Clerks

Frank E. Cunningham, clerk of the District Supreme Court, yesterday swore in two new clerks, Harvey Given, handwriting expert, and James F. Howell.

The new additions it was understood, were necessary because two additional courts have been added to the District Supreme Court and more clerks are needed, Mr. Given formerly was a clerk.

HOW IT BEGAN... By Russ Murphy

How Ireland Got Its Name

AN OLD CELTIC LEGEND SAYS IRELAND WAS ALTOGETHER SUBMERGED, EXCEPT DURING BRIEF PERIODS, EVERY SEVENTH YEAR.. FINALLY AN APPARITION APPEARED AND DECLARED THAT THE ISLAND COULD BE RESCUED FROM THE SEA BY PLANTING A SHAFT OF IRON IN ITS HEART... A SWORD WAS ACCORDINGLY BURIED IN ITS HEART AND THE ISLAND HAS REMAINED ABOVE SEA EVER SINCE...BECAUSE OF THIS MYTH, IT WAS NAMED IRON-LAND OR IRELAND.—

Half-Mast Flags..

THIS CUSTOM AROSE FROM THE OLD MILITARY PRACTICE OF LOWERING THE FLAG OF THE VANQUISHED SO THAT THE FLAG OF THE VICTOR MIGHT FLY ABOVE IT... TO LOWER A FLAG IS A SIGNAL OF DISTRESS AND RESPECT FOR ANOTHER.

REQUESTED BY—BOB WHITE, DRAYTON PLAINS, MICH.

Answer the Door..

WE DON'T REALLY ANSWER THE DOOR BECAUSE IT HASN'T TALKED TO US...THE OLD ENGLISH 'SWEAR' MEANT LITERALLY TO AFFIRM SOMETHING...TO AN-SWEAR MEANT TO SAY SOMETHING BY WAY OF REJOINDER..FROM THIS WE DERIVED OUR WORD 'ANSWER'...

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

"She is Frantic."

DEAR Miss McDonald: I am writing to tell you my problem.

I have a friend whom I love and he wants me to marry him. Now, the trouble is this. My health has never been good, although most of my trouble is in my head, ears and throat. Nevertheless, I am frail in build and easily tired out. My friend himself is not in the best of health, but we have not discussed that. I have always intended asking my prospective husband for a health certificate, but now that I am so near to it, I find it hard to open the subject. Do you think I should tell him I have been under the care of a doctor for over a year, constantly? I have been and more or less for many years. Should I ask him to go to that doctor for an examination, and also while there have my doctor give him any information concerning me?

Another thing. If I were married, I do not know how to cook. I never had to cook at home and I have worked for almost 12 years. I do not want my sweetheart to know I can not cook but want to learn before he finds out. But how can I learn? I understand the cooking schools are not very practical. Or do you think it would be better for me to tell him and prepare him for the worst?

We are both in our early thirties and he is very urgent about marrying soon. I am in no hurry about it, but I do not want to lose him as I love him very much.

Please answer me soon, and tell me what you think best to do.

"FRANTIC."

Frantic? Why Frantic? Do you know, my dear girl, that probably all your ills come from tense attitude toward the business of living? Why are you all wrought up? Have you ever found it helped? Most of the people who die young, are people who dashed through life grim-faced, and wild-eyed while others were sauntering along taking things as they found them. Stop the terrible worrying. Here you are all in a knot because you can not cook, when half the married men in the world have lived through charred toast and weak coffee eras and emerged none the worst for their experience. Who on earth is this man, that you dare not confess the dread truth of your limited skill with the skillet? Never feel awe for any man, and least of all for the one you take on for life. There is nothing awe-inspiring about any of them, I can assure you. And you have no more reason to feel ashamed of your inability to cook than he has to feel ashamed of his inability to pay for having the cooking done.

Now, having got down to earth, let us see what is what. As to your physical condition. The man is surely entitled to know in advance that you require medical attention so constantly. Although I feel sure if you cultivated a different outlook, married a healthy, happy man you probably could say good-by to the doctors for keeps. But your husband should know just how things stand. It is incomprehensible that he already does not. How two people can contemplate the closest of unions and know so little of each other's problems is a mystery. Certainly such tension and such absence of understanding augurs ill for the success of the coming union. Marriage is senseless bondage if it is not the ultimate of confidential trust and understanding.

Make up your mind now that this man is one to whom you can tell anything and be sure of understanding and whole-hearted help, or that he is absolutely not the one you should marry. If he awes you, if you are afraid of him, if you simply can not feel close to him and bring him close to you then let him go, for marriage with him would be an ordeal.

Tell him the truth about the cooking, the doctor's bills, and your feeling about his health, tell him you believe the moon is the sun worn out after a hard day, tell any man anything you wish, for there is nothing any woman could believe that could compare with the abysmal idiocy of most of man's most cherished opinions.

Take the man or leave him, but right this minute stop being afraid of him.

This column is for you. Your experiences, opinions and suggestions will help those who read this page. Express your views and help those in need of advice. You need not sign your name.

BUCK ROGERS, 2430 A. D. — Sally Balks — More strange adventures in a full color page every Sunday. — By Phil Nowlan and Dick Calkins

HOW WAS I TO KNOW THAT AS SOON AS HE RECOGNIZED ME OVER THE TELEVISION, THE BUREAU CHIEF HAD SENT TEN MEN STREAKING DOWN TO ROCKDALE AGADEMY IN A ROCKET SHIP TO GET ME ANYHOW—THE DEAN GOT AWFULLY SOAPY WHEN SHE LEARNED WHO I WAS.
THIS IS VERY KIND OF YOU, MADAM.
TOO KIND- IF YOU ASK ME.
IF YOU'LL JUST STEP INTO THE VISITORS ROOM, I SHALL SEND MISS SALLY TO YOU. UMMM! YES!
IN A FEW MOMENTS—
SALLY!
BUCK! YOU OLD DARLING! GEE, IT'S GOOD TO SEE YOU! WHERE'S WILMA?
WAN-ER-THE TRUTH IS I DON'T KNOW WHERE TO FIND WILMA, AND I CAME TO ASK YOU HER ADDRESS.
OOOOH! SO YOU AND WILMA ARE SQUABBLING AGAIN, ARE YOU? NAUGHTY-NAUGHTY! — WELL I SPOSE SHE'S WRONG AS USUAL-BUT SHE'S MY SISTER, AND I WON'T TELL YOU! SO THERE!

YOU SEE, WALT, WE CAME DOWN THIS ROAD BUT INSTEAD OF TURNING RIGHT AS IT SHOWS HERE WE TURNED LEFT.
NO, AVERY, DON'T YOU REMEMBER? THAT'S WHERE WE WENT STRAIGHT AHEAD AND TURNED LEFT LATER.
YOU'RE MISTAKEN, EMILY, I REMEMBER TURNING LEFT RIGHT AROUND A RED BRICK HOUSE.
BUT, AVERY, THERE WASN'T ANY LEFT TURN. WE HAD TO GO STRAIGHT AHEAD AND DOWN A HILL.
WHY THERE WAS A DETOUR SIGN ON THAT ROAD STRAIGHT AHEAD AND WE HAD TO TURN. THERE WERE SOME MILK CANS THERE AND WE MET A HORSE AND BUGGY.
THAT WAS ANOTHER TIME. DON'T YOU REMEMBER WE WENT STRAIGHT AHEAD AND PASSED TWO GIRLS THAT WANTED TO HITCH A RIDE.
AND FARMERS WERE SELLING CHERRY CIDER ALONG THE ROAD.
ANYWAY, WALT, IT DOESN'T MAKE ANY DIFFERENCE. WE GOT INTO PECHORN JUNCTION SOMEHOW.

COAST GUARD BUYS FIVE BIG SEAPLANES

Twin-Motored Ships Will Be of New Type and Cost $316,696 in All.

1931 DELIVERY PROMISED

The purchase of five new type seaplanes for the use of the United States Coast Guard was announced yesterday by Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, Coast Guard commander. The planes will be built by the Fokker Aircraft Corporation, and the total cost, including spare parts for the planes, will be $316,696.

The design of the planes has been worked out to meet the special needs of the Coast Guard. A single cantilever wing is mounted directly upon a strongly built hull of duraluminum and steel, and two Pratt & Whitney wasp motors are mounted side by side well above the wing, each driving a three-bladed pusher propeller.

The planes were primarily designed to meet the requirements for strength which their work necessitates. The hull is of sufficient size to enable the plane to land and take off in offshore weather that would prevent such an operation by other types of planes. This would enable the rescue and observation work of the service to be extended to limits up to now impossible.

The Coast Guard Service for many years has been using a small type seaplane, carrying only a pilot and observer. They have proved their value for observing and reporting, but in many instances could do little more. The new type plane, carrying a crew of four and with a range of a thousand miles, is capable of making actual rescues from disabled craft.

The planes will be equipped with new and powerful wireless sets for code, direction finding and telephonic communication. Plans for bases and new uses of the planes are now being worked out, and it was said yesterday that the delivery of the planes would be made within six or seven months.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"LIBRA."

IF October 1 is your birthday the best hours for you on this date are from 9 a. m. to 10:15 a. m., from 4:30 p. m. to 6 p. m. and 11 p. m. to midnight. The danger periods are from noon to 1:30 p. m. and 8 p. m. to 9 p. m.

This will not be a date of great passions, great thoughts or great activities. Neither are there great sorrows or catastrophes predicted. Most things will be carried on as usual, only wtih a greater indifference to consequences. Some success in social affairs.

The child born on this October 1 will have a practical and somewhat material nature, with a small degree of imagination. It will be given considerable reserve forces; restraint, stability and reliance to its character. It will be fitted for a commercial or business life.

You have rather a shilly-shally and vacillating nature. It is most difficult for you to make quick decisions, to say Yes or No to this or that definite question. It is hard for you to end talking or thinking, and to clear the decks for action. You must learn to rise up and order the debate within to cease, and to take a vote by which you are willing to stand.

You admire positiveness and mental courage in others, and you long to but dare not imitate them. It is surprising how much you can do, how beautifully you blossom out, when some strong and loving force is behind you. You need to be a properly attached person. Although your virtues are mostly negative ones, you are not without some good ones. Your sins, too, are ones of omission, and not commission.

You seldom speak ill of any one, and you are truly long suffering. You are a sympathetic friend, a kindly neighbor, and a devoted family person. You are clean minded, moral living and definitely religious. You will not turn a blind eye to the blandishments of Cupid, and through love you will find your life and happiness. Your emotions are deeply stirred by good music, and you should be more than a good executant yourself. You often mistake the beatings of your heart for the working of your brain.

Successful people born October 1:
1. Benjamin B. Hotchkiss—inventor.
2. Henry Clay Work—composer.
3. William H. Jackson—soldier and capitalist.
4. Kate Field—actress.
5. Annie Besant—theosophist.
6. Emperor Paul of Russia.

Masked Band Kills Man Who Testified in Court

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Lacy Mitchell, a Negro, who testified sallants, who appeared to be white men charged with attacking a Negro woman, is dead—the victim of masked men who invaded his home Saturday night and shot him.

Members of his family said the assailants, who appeared to be white men, entered the house and started firing without explaining their reason. Mitchell lingered until yesterday. County authorities are making an investigation and have arrested several men for questioning.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

NUT HONEY CAKE.

(U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

2 cups brown sugar
2 cups honey
6 egg yolks
3 cups of flour
Speck of salt
1½ teaspoons soda.
1½ teaspoons ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ teaspoon allspice
1 cup chopped raisins
½ ounce of citron cut in small pieces
½ ounce of candied orange peel cut in small pieces
½ pound of almonds coarsely ground or chopped.
Whites of 3 eggs

Mix the sugar, honey and the yolks of eggs and beat thoroughly. Sift together the flour, salt, spices and soda. Combine all ingredients but the whites of eggs. Beat the whites of the eggs till they are stiff and add them last. Pour the dough to the depth of about half an inch into well-buttered tins, and bake in a slow oven one-half an hour.

Frosting for Nut Honey Cake.

1½ cups of sugar
3 egg whites
¾ a cup of water

Boil sugar and water until the syrup forms a thread when dropped from the spoon. While still hot, pour the syrup over the well-beaten whites of the eggs beating the mixture until it is of the right consistency to spread

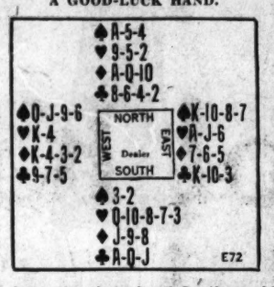
WORK ON BRIDGE

A GOOD-LUCK HAND.



With the above hand South would bid one Heart which at Auction Bridge might obtain the contract. East might bid one No Trump, but probably would think it safer to let South play the hand at Hearts.

At Contract Bridge South's one Heart would be jumped to two by North, who has just the minimum for that jump; East would pass and South would not go any further.

The North and South hands actually were played by two bidders who disregarded rules. After the jump to two Hearts, South bid three without any excuse for doing so; and North, equally without justification, bid four. They made their contract and game in what was possibly the luckiest hand ever played.

The Queen of Spades was led and won by dummy; the Heart Nine came next; it was finessed by South and taken by West's King. Two more rounds of Spades brought a trump from the South hand, and then South led the Jack of Diamonds and North played the Queen, although West did not cover; this was to make as many North entries as possible. When the Queen won, another Heart was led, taken with the Ace by East and the Jack of Hearts led to drop two for one. South then led the Nine of Diamonds, West again played small, North won with the Ten and led a Club. South won the finesse and led the Eight of Diamonds over to North's Ace for a second Club finesse.

So the adversaries took only three tricks, two Hearts and one Spade; game was won because three separate finesses worked to perfection in Clubs, Diamonds and Hearts. The finessing in Clubs was made possible because dummy was fortunate enough to obtain three Diamond entries.

ROSEBAY RHODODENDRONS.

THE rosebay rhododendron is probably the best broad-leaved evergreen for use in the shade. The flowers of this variety vary from rose color to purple and white.

When planting these shrubs I think it is best when possible to use a number of them in a group, and always to plant them quite close together, so that the roots are well shaded.

All varieties of rhododendrons are slow growers. This applies to roots as well as foliage; therefore it always takes a plant a full year to become really established in a new environment. This is the reason why the rhododendrons are expensive. The growers devote much time to developing a young plant for the market.

The first year is always the most important one for a rhododendron. I refer, of course, to a plant in the open garden. When first set out, a rhododendron seems quite undecided whether to live or die. Later, after the first year, it will require little care, but the first summer it demands some coaxing.

Always when planting a rhododendron in the fall be sure to prepare the soil properly. Then consider the location. The rhododendron will never, no matter what variety you plant, do well in any but a sheltered place. If you have a north angle of the house, where you feel sure plants will never grow, but which is sheltered, that is just the place where the rhododendron will flourish.

If you set out one of these plants this fall, dig the hole very deep, as much as three feet. Break the soil into very fine particles. The rhododendron will delight in any good loam, but you should incorporate a generous portion of peat or leaf mold with the soil. Be careful to see that the drainage is good, else the plant will die, or at least be only a very indifferent specimen.

During the growing season the rhododendron must be given a great deal of water.

A mulch is very necessary. This can be of leaves, peat moss or pine needles, and will effectually keep the soil from drying out. In their natural habitat we find the rhododendrons' roots always covered with dead leaves, and they are usually shaded by the great growth of forest trees. Never trim one of these shrubs, as you will be sure to cut off flowering wood. Carefully remove all dead florets or seed pods, so as to permit the development of next season's blooms.

This shrub is an addition to any garden. It flowers in late May and early June, and, being a slow grower, takes up little room. Even when the season of blooming is over the plant is ornamental.

Dare INTERPRETS the MODE

A gracious evening gown in white crepe de chine, cut to flatter the figure. (Courtesy of Philippe et Gaston, Paris.)

Paris, Sept. 30.

TO those who know that the mode depends upon perpetual and subtle change for its existence, does not come as a great surprise to see the famous Patou, who, such a few seasons ago, completely revolutionized the entire style industry by popularizing the longer skirt, nay the long skirt, should for the winter of 1930 and 1931 do something else again with the hemline. And this something else consists of making it not only shorter all around than last season, but with a decided upward movement in the front. Not, however, the up-in-the-front movement of quite a few seasons ago which showed itself in full skirts, but a decidedly new silhouette achieved by bringing the lines of the medium long and rather narrow looking skirt up in the front without in any way destroying its graceful line

And then besides this up-in-front movement of the hem, is Monsieur Patou tentatively expressing a preference for the up-in-the-front movement of the belt also? Several of his smart winter models show this belt effect rather decidedly. And if I may be allowed to express my opinion, this is one idea, or line, if you prefer to call it, which is not so good. And I predict that it will not be very enthusiastically sponsored even by women who are looking for novelties. This for the very simple reason that it is not flattering.

Two new long costume slips! have for your longer dresses, you That's what you simply must know, and that's what you can have, just as though you have brought them with you from Paris your very own self. Because I had two made like that by my lingerie woman in Paris, and then sat down and made you an illustrated leaflet telling you exactly how they are made. All for a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to the Dare Department of The Washington Post you have two new pieces of French lingerie, and two pieces that you need very much, I'm sure.

It's how the material is cut these days. And the Parisian dressmakers sit up nights to figure new and more interesting ways that material can be cut to flatter and fashion the lovely figures of women. Yes, they really do this, and how they have managed to disguise a bad line here, exaggerate a good one there, and be oh, so kind to we-who-have-hips!

Look at the thought in the cutting of the evening gown I have sketched for you today, for instance. The little figure shows the skirt rather more spread out than it would really be, of course but that is just in order to show you how the dress is cut. Isn't it gracious and lovely?

And just as Patou starts the up-in-the-front movement, Worth starts the up-in-the-back movement! May the best man win, and allow me a private guess of the winner—I won't even tell you.

IN THE PLAYHOUSE

By JOHN J. DALY.

GEORGE KAUFMAN, once a columnist in Washington, later a play reviewer in New York, and now one of the Nation's well-established playwrights, has to his credit the latest comedy hit in New York—"Once in a Lifetime." It is, willy-nilly, a satire on life as they live it in Hollywood. Yes, yes! Further, Mr. Kaufman himself, in person, plays the part of a disillusioned playwright. Several understudies are now being primed for the role—namely, Alexander Woolcott, Robert C. Benchley and Marc Connelly.

IN Newark town, just over the river from New York, Miss Lenore Ulric, in her new play, "Pagan Lady," succeeded Monday night in setting fire to a lot of copy paper, fresh from the typewriters of visiting and local play reviewers. After several more days of rehearsals, performances, and some rewriting, this play, which opened the season here, will brave the front-line trenches of Broadway. It's due to open in the Big Town next Monday night—either at the Cort, the Forty-eighth Street or the Fulton Theater.

R. H. BURNSIDE, general stage director for Charles Dillingham, producer of "Ripples," the Fred Stone show, came rolling into town yesterday, and immediately theatrical circles began to buzz. It was whispered that Mr. Burnside, who staged all the great works at the New York Hippodrome, and who put on the spectacle, "Freedom," at the sesquicentennial in Philadelphia two years later, is preparing something along that order for the bicentennial of George Washington—in 1932. Mr. Burnside's first concern, of course, was to see that "Ripples" was rippling.

RAY HENDERSON, who troupes all over the country, year in and year out, ahead of Miss Ethel Barrymore, rushes to town with what he calls glad news. It's this: Miss Barrymore, in her new play, "Scarlet Sister Mary," opened in Columbus, Ohio, last Thursday night and broke the house record for four performances. Last night the play went into Cleveland, with an advance sale of $14,724. Next week it's Pittsburgh, at the Alvin, where Mr. T. D. Bonneville, former manager of Poli's, is now officiating—and the week after that, October 12, Miss Barrymore arrives in Washington for a seige of the Belasco. She plays, in the Julia Peterkin dramatized novel a black-faced character—and she has with her young Ethel Barrymore Colt, making her stage debut.

Invaluable Specimens Lost in Museum Fire

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Priceless geological and anatomical specimens, the accumulation of more than 80 years, were lost today in a fire which swept Ward's Natural Science Museum. The damage was estimated at $200,000 by Frank Ward, director of the establishment.

Ward's Museum was famous throughout the world for its rare collections. Many of the most famous animal groups were mounted here and many scientific expeditions turned over their trophies to the museum for preparation.

MOTHERS now learn value of MAGNESIA

Because it is so helpful in keeping babies and children healthy and happy every mother should learn all about Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

This harmless, almost tasteless preparation is most effective in relieving those symptoms of babies and children generally caused by souring food in the little digestive tract, such as sour stomach, belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness, colic. As a mild laxative it acts gently, but certainly, to open the little bowels in constipation, colds, children's diseases.

A teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia does the work of half a pint of lime water in neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding and preventing hard curds. Its many uses for mother and child are fully explained in the interesting book "Useful Information." It will be sent you FREE. Write The Phillips Co., 170 Varick St.

In buying, be sure to get only genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

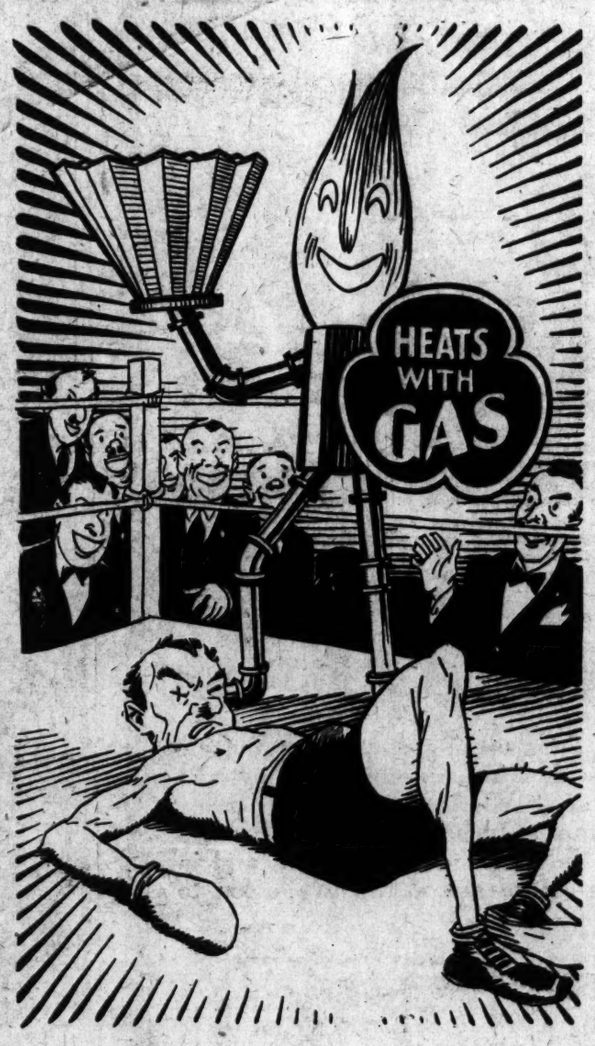
Kid Janitrol Knocks Out Old Man Sales Resistance



Wouldn't you like to make one match your winter's kindling; to know the temperature in your home will not vary more than 2 degrees, even on the coldest winter day; to free yourself of all ashes, dirt, dust, soot, vapors, fuel worries or furnace tending; to have the best heat obtainable—Automatic Gas Heat? You can have all of this at a reasonable cost. Call National 8280.

More Gas Home Heating Jobs Sold During Past Week Than All Last Year

OLD Man Sales Resistance has been knocked for a loop. Kid Janitrol, the gas conversion burner, has put him among the sweet peas. More home heating jobs were sold during the past week than during all last year.

Customers are flocking to take advantage of the special low price of $175, for which we have agreed to sell and install the first 500 Janitrols, complete with all safety devices.

Janitrol gives you Automatic Gas Heat in your present boiler or furnace.

Automatic Gas Heat gives you perfect heat, with no ashes, soot, dirt, vapors, fuel bin or fuel tank.

The new low rate puts Automatic Gas Heat, a rich man's luxury, within the means of the average man.

Let us give you a dependable estimate on what it will cost you to have Automatic Gas Heat in your home. Call National 8280, the House Heating Department.

There is a JANITROL for almost any type of furnace or boiler. This modern gas burner can be quickly installed in your present heating system. It will keep your home clean at all times.... It makes possible extra space for a recreation room or den. Let us tell you how easily it can be done.

WEATHER HOLDS UP YOUTHFUL AVIATOR

Robert Buck, Seeking Junior Record, Tries to Save One-Hour Lead.

STOPS OVER AT WICHITA

Wichita, Kans., Sept. 30 A.P.)—Unfavorable weather conditions over the Southwest caused Robert Buck, 16-year-old flier who seeks to break the junior transcontinental air record, to remain at this half-way point tonight, protecting his elapsed time lead of one hour fifteen minutes.

The Elizabeth, N. J., boy, flying from Newark, N. J., to Los Angeles, landed at the Municipal Airport at 3:15 p. m. (Central standard time) today after battling strong cross winds from St. Louis.

Informed by pilots that bad weather had prevailed several days over the air route to Amarillo, Tex., Buck elected to await meteorological reports here tomorrow morning. The youth said he had hoped to reach Amarillo, if not Albuquerque, N. Mex., tonight. Then he wired a message to his parents telling of his safe arrival.

His flying time on arrival at Wichita was 13 hours 45 minutes, one hour and 15 minutes less than the time of Eddie Schneider, 19, of Jersey City, holder of the record, for the same distance. Schneider's transcontinental record is 29 hours 40 minutes.

An error in marking of the plane was being corrected tonight by order of Department of Commerce officials. Insignia on the wings indicated the plane enjoyed a full commercial license, while tail markings showed it had been granted a restricted license. The wing markings were to be altered to conform.

Buck took off from Newark at 7:10 a. m. yesterday. Stops were made at Martins Ferry, Ohio; Columbus, Indianapolis and St. Louis.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Despite disturbance from stock market unsettlement, grain values showed a general trend upward today, with Russia and Canada reported as having curtailed wheat offerings abroad. Dry weather complaints from domestic winter territory and also from the Balkans and Australia were current. There were likewise reports of damage to unthreshed wheat in Canada by recent heavy rains and snow.

After a maximum gain of 2¾c a bushel, the Chicago wheat market closed nervous, ⅝@1c higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1⅞ to 3¼c advance, oats ⅜c to 1c up and provisions varying from 25c decline to 35c gain.

Unexpected sharp upturns in Liverpool wheat values preceded advances which commenced in the Chicago as soon as the market here opened. Announcement of less pressure to sell Russian and Canadian wheat at European centers led to expressions of hope that this would prove to be the turning point from world wheat price depression. The fact that upturns would be from the lowest level which wheat prices had reached in 25 years was strongly emphasized, and significance was also attached to signs that many previous sellers were changing their market position.

A statement ascribed to Chairman Legge of the Federal Farm Board that there was no actual surplus of wheat in the United States above feeding and milling needs helped to give impetus to the upward swing of prices. Meanwhile, too, a Chicago trade authority was out with a summary to the effect the United States was facing likelihood of reduced winter wheat acreage and lack of subsoil moisture, east of the Mississippi in particular. He further asserted that any adverse crop developments in Argentina or Australia would intensify a strong speculative situation. Moreover, Canadian country marketings of wheat, as reported today, were only 2,106,000 bushels, against 3,376,000 bushels a year ago. Profit taking, however, by early buyers, together with stock market weakness, acted as a handicap to friends of higher prices for wheat, and brought about late reactions.

For the most part, corn and oats swayed with wheat, but corn was given additional strength by predictions of heavy frost tonight. Scarcity of late offerings to fill September corn contracts brought about something of a flurry in the last few minutes of trading, and final transactions were at prices showing nearly 4c a bushel advance, compared with 24 hours before.

Provisions averaged higher with cereals notwithstanding a drop in hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—December, 76⅞@76¼, 80⅞@81; March, 79⅜, 84⅛; May, 82½, 86⅞@87. Corn—December, 77⅞@78, 81⅝@81¾; March, 78⅜, 82¾; May, 80⅝@80¾, 84⅜@84½.

PHILADELPHIA MARKETS.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—CHEESE Longhorns, round lots, 19¾@20¼; singir daisies, fresh, 19¾@20.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A sharp early decline in cotton prices today carried practically the entire list to new low levels and sent the old and new October contracts below the 10-cent level. The market later rallied on active covering as well as trade buying, and owing to less pressure in the way of Southern hedge selling. The new December contracts declined 6 points early to 10.18 and rallied later to 10.44, closing at 10.40, a net advance of 16 points, while the general market closed steady with net gains of 7 to 20 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 4 points and early in the season was irregularly lower under quite active Southern hedge and heavy liquidation of October contracts which apparently was influenced by the issuing of 44 notices on old October contracts and 31 notices on new October. The Liverpool cables were steadier than expected and around the opening there was some active buying credited to Liverpool account and which was believed to have been inspired by more favorable reports from India, relative to a breaking down of the boycott there against British goods.

During the midday session the market was dominated a good deal by the weakness in the October, the old contract at one time selling down 22 points to 9.90 while the new was off 8 points to 9.97 this being the first time since 1915 that cotton sold in the local market under the 10-cent level. Shorts seemed inclined to cover throughout the day, probably in advance of the Government report which will be published on October 8 and when it became evident the South was not following up its early selling the buying became more general and active toward the close. Old October advanced late to 10.19 and new October to the same figure while March after selling down to 10.48 advanced to 10.73 closing at 10.71.

A private crop estimate placed the indicated yield at 14,718,000 compared with last month's estimate by the same authority of 14,664,000. Liverpool cables said that the market there was influenced by covering and Manchester buying which absorbed early hedging and selling by Bombay. Exports today 57,907, making 1,142,775 so far this season. United States port stocks, 2,652,919. Port receipts, 123,-001.

MISS MYSTERIOUS - - By Larry Lawrence

Chapter XXXII.

"Darling, darling," Pete was pleading.

Babe faced him. Now she must tell him to leave her. He held out his arms. "No, Pete, no," she sobbed and then she was in his arms. They stood thus for a long time. Their lips met.

"We can go to Waukegan right now," Pete insisted.

Babe kissed him again. She could not lie to him. She could not tell him that she did not love him. That was impossible. But she had promised his father she would give him up. She would do it. She had learned discipline in the last month.

"Pete we must be sane now. Listen to me. Don't say anything until I have finished. I love you. You know it. I love you too much to ruin your life."

"Don't talk like that, Babe. The only way you can ruin my life is by not loving me."

"Pete, don't talk. It will only make it more difficult for us both. I have promised your father that I will not marry you. If I see you much I will not be able to keep that promise. So you must leave now and never see me again. I have promised."

"I know. Father told me. But you can't mean it, Babe."

"I do. The scandal would kill your mother. No one in your set would ever believe me innocent. They think I am an adventuress, a notoriety seeker, a worthless, vile person. Your father does. Your mother does.

"You must forget me. You must go back to school. I always seem to be sending you back to school." She laughed a dispirited flat little laugh.

"Your father is hard. He would never forgive you if you married me. Your life would be ruined."

"Babe, you can't mean it!"

"I do, Pete. I do. I love you enough not to stand in your way."

"We could go away from Milwaukee. I could get a job. We'll get along. We don't need any of father's money. I can earn a living."

Babe wavered. She would be willing to face the future with Pete without a cent in the world, but she had promised.

"Pete, I told you not to talk, not to plead. Now don't. My mind is made up."

"I will never give you up, never. What do I care for my family? What do I care for money?"

"You will care in time. You'll forget me, be happy, wealthy!"

"Never! Never!"

"You must! You must!" Babe screamed. She was almost hysterical now. She had to get him out before the temper in her steel resolution was burned out.

"Please go now, Pete. Please. I must not weaken." She realized then she had said the wrong thing. If she showed signs of breaking he would stay and carry her off to be married at once. She changed her tactics. Strength came back to her. "Pete! I will never, never agree. You must go. I order you to go." Pete looked at her for a long time. He saw she would not weaken again. Turning, he walked slowly out and down the corridor, then he raced back. The door was still open. "Kiss me good-by."

"No. Pete. No." Babe knew she did not dare kiss him again. She knew she could not keep her promise if she did.

That day Babe moved to a furnished room. She told no one where she was going. "I'll stay lost as long as I can," she promised herself. The next day she started looking for a job. It was the same old story. No one wanted an untrained girl. Office jobs could not be found. She tried the mills and factories.

Men looked at her in employment offices as if they recognized her. "Those pictures in the papers," she told herself caused this close scrutiny. For a week she was unsuccessful. The nights in her little room were lonely. She knew no one. Mac had not found her. She wondered what had happened to him. She wondered when Violet and Mac were to be married. But most of the time she wondered if that pain, that longing for Pete would ever leave her. At times she wondered what had become of Morgan and what his motives had been. Why had he been so anxious to marry her? Why had he stolen those antique brooches? This always led her to wonder what Forseith had meant in his dying words, connecting Morgan and the brooches. She got them out one night and studied them intently.

"I wonder if they belonged to my mother?" she said half aloud. What does Morgan know about them? She was tempted to start a search for him but decided that she would carefully avoid all adventure in the future. She had to earn her living. That should be her only endeavor until she had proved herself capable. She turned from the brooches to the want ads again.

Stenographers were always in demand. She counted her money again. All that she owned. It was not much but now she was worried about it. Too little to open an account at a bank. Too much to carry, too much to leave hidden in a furnished room. Less than $50 was left.

"Not enough to see me through a business school. Tomorrow I must find a job."

Babe answered several advertisements the next morning. But the jobs had been taken. At noon she stopped in a drug store for a sandwich. Then she bought a paper. A headline struck her between the eyes:

Gang Leader Slain.

"Scareye Matellini, leader of the West Side alky mob and wanted in Wisconsin on a murder charge, was shot to death Thursday as he was riding in his automobile. A rival gangster opened fire on him with two machine guns mounted in an automobile.

"Scareye was also known as the Boss——"

Babe read on. Yes, her name was mentioned again.

"Thielma Townley, the mystery girl, until recently a student at the University of Wisconsin, was present in Scareye's Wisconsin hideout when Clement Forseith was murdered."

There was more. The whole story retold.

"I suppose it will follow me forever," she groaned. "I don't blame Pete's mother—" But as she said it she knew it was not true. She did blame her and she blamed Pete's father, too. A feeling of resentment against them came to claim possession of her thoughts but she fought against it.

"Now I suppose I can never get a job in Milwaukee." There was one consolation to be found in the news. She would not have to testify against Scareye now. Mac had been right. The Boss would never be tried in a man-made court. She went to her room to rest and stayed in all afternoon and evening, not going out to get dinner. The cost of meals had to be considered these days.

But on the following day she was out hunting a job once more. She tried a candy factory. They needed chocolate dippers. She admitted that she had no experience but she looked so wistful that the employment manager gave her a chance.

Babe was awkward at first but soon got the knack. The job paid enough to cover her room rent and meals. No more. But it was a job. The girls she worked with were slow to accept her. Her clothes were not flashy but were much more expensive than the others wore. An apron hides a lot, however, and Babe tried to be friendly. She was very lonely and the companionship of these girls would have been welcome. For the first week they were aloof but Babe realized it was because she was from a different world and therefore tried to adapt herself.

The second week Mamie and Gladys who worked at the same table with Babe were talking in the locker room. "She ain't ritzy by nature," Gladys said. "And she's got more IT than this Garbo girl, but she don't try to make any of the bosses." "No, that's a fact," Mamie admitted. "I seen Wallie giving her the eye once and she didn't take a tumble. I guess she's no Whitefish Bay mammy out studying us dippers for social reasons."

"Naw, she's on the level, you know what I mean. She's trying to earn her cakes and socks like the rest of us."

"Where do you suppose she gathered in those glad rags?"

"Well, maybe it ain't any of our business. If she's square with us, that's all we need to know."

"You said a mouthful. Let's ask her to step out with us some time."

"Sure, why not."

Yes, Babe had won. In a few more weeks she would have been taken, heart and soul, into the sorority of chocolate dippers. It would have been a change from the dreary, small room where she spent most of her nights.

Some times she went to a movie alone and then went straight home. A month passed and Babe was more lonely than ever. She was fighting a good fight, but some times she felt she was doomed to fail in that battle with loneliness. She knew she could never get Pete out of her heart. Some nights she awakened with a start, thinking that Pete was near her. Often she dreamed of that night in the shack he built as a boy, dreamed of him running to fetch water, treating her as the princess of a medieval romance.

Out of the small salary Babe was saving a few dollars each week. She had enough clothes to last for months, perhaps years, if she did not go out any more than she did now. And the few dollars saved, put into a savings account at the bank, represented to her a monument to her steadfastness of purpose.

It hurt that Violet and Mac had forgotten her. But had they forgotten her? She had deliberately gone into hiding from them, from every one, that she might prove her ability to earn her living, might face the world with a straight eye and say, "I am who I am and I have made my way."

Yes, no matter how humble that way, she was making it. She was living up to the job she had found. Long nights they were in which to think and wonder what her father had been like, what her mother looked like. But she knew he was brave and honest, that no taint had been transmitted to her, and she found consolation in that.

Gladys had suggested a date with one of the fellows who went around in her gang.

"Of course, it's a blind date, but he ain't such a bad egg," Gladys was being conservative.

"Gladys, I would love to go, just love to go out with you, but tonight I have a date with—Thornton Wilder," Babe answered. She had been afraid to accept one of these blind dates and also afraid to offend Gladys. She did really want them to accept her and they were being quite friendly now. So in her haste to think up a plausible excuse she had told of the date with Thornton Wilder. It was true she had promised herself to finish "The Bridge of San Luis Roy," that night.

Babe trembled for fear her subterfuge had been discovered, but she stuck to her story, "I said Thornton Wilder."

"Well, I hope he ain't any wilder than the guy I had picked for you." Babe laughed and this was another band between them. They had laughed together over Gladys' joke so that had passed. But that night as she read she decided that she would go the next time Gladys was so thoughtful.

But there was no next time.

Something Babe read in the paper as she was riding home on the street car changed her life again.

Mrs. Madelon Battle Dies in French Hospital

Asheville, N. C., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Relatives here of Mrs. Madelon Battle, 47, Countess de Hellencourt, were advised today that she died last night in a Nice, France, hospital.

Mrs. Battle, under the name Sister Gloria Hancock, won international fame during the World War as a Red Cross nurse. She was born in Pensacola, Fla., August 30, 1883, where her father, Dr. S. W. Battle, a Navy surgeon, was stationed at the time.

Ocean Flight Again Halted.

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Capt. Erroll Boyd and Lieut. Harry Connor failed to get away today on a contemplated transatlantic flight this morning, preferring to wait for better conditions over the ocean. The weather here was fine.

W. C. T. U. Rebels Ousted by Police

Colorado Convention Is Continued Under Bluecoat Guard.

Longmont, Colo., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—By virtue of police aid, peace reigned tonight at the annual convention of the Colorado Women's Christian Temperance Union. The lull followed efforts of insurgents to unseat Mrs. Adri Hungerford as president at a stormy session police were called to quiet.

The storm broke today when Mrs. Hungerford announced an executive session would be held. She demanded that the room be cleared of all but accredited delegates. The insurgents, who backed Mrs. F. I. Smith, of Denver, to succeed Mrs. Hungerford as president, refused to leave until a report of the official board was made public. Some one called police and the police and the officers finally ejected the protestors.

What happened at the closed meeting was not made public.

Gen. MacArthur on Way Here.

Yokohama, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, en route from the Philippines to Washington to become chief of staff of the American Army, sailed here today for San Francisco.

Morrow Resigns Diplomatic Post

J. Reuben Clark Regarded as Likely Candidate to Succeed Him.

(Associated Press.)

The resignation of Dwight W. Morrow as Ambassador to Mexico was accepted yesterday by President Hoover.

Secretary Stimson brought the resignation to the White House after luncheon and it was announced that it was effective immediately.

J. Reuben Clark, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is looked upon as an outstanding candidate for the post. Mr. Clark, a former Undersecretary of State, is regarded by State Department officials as one of the best informed persons in the United States on American-Mexican affairs, having intimately dealt with them while attached to the State Department and later while working with Mr. Morrow in Mexico.

Because our facilities are usually taxed to capacity the first day of this annual sale, we have arranged two prior selling days for our customers this year. We can not possibly begin to list all the items that will be placed on sale. It is sufficient to say that we have not left a single thing undone to provide outstanding values in every department of the store, and even lower than usual prices will prevail in the entire store, including the Basement and Bargain Annex. If you have homes to furnish, if you have fall clothing to buy for yourself or your family, this is the opportunity of the season.

Earnings depend upon sturdy health

When your red blood cell count is only 80% you are not yourself ··· 60% is dangerous

EARNINGS depend largely upon effort . . . but you cannot do your best when you are only half well. Neither can you save without earnings—and by the same token sturdy health makes for steady employment.

A lowered red-blood-cell count makes the system an easy prey to infection and disease. Such a condition robs you of vigor and strength . . . and perhaps may affect your earnings.

Avoid going too near the danger line

When you suspect your health is gradually slipping away act wisely by checking this tendency before a crisis comes about.

The red-cells build muscular and mental energy. When you restore them body impurities silently pass away . . . then you possess a wonderful power of new life and vitality.

S.S.S. should be your safeguard

Take S.S.S. before meals. Millions of people have found this the easiest and surest way to keep themselves "fit." Your whole body will be strengthened, invigorated! S.S.S. successful record of over 100 years in building red-cells in the blood is a guarantee of satisfaction.

How to recognize a low blood count

Fatigue without any apparent cause, sluggishness, loss of appetite, loss of body weight, paleness, boils and pimples are outstanding symptoms of a LOW RED-BLOOD-CELL COUNT. The red-cells are your body builders. They carry nourishment to every part of the body. Also, they remove impurities from the tissues. When your red-cells drop to 80 per cent of normal strength, you haven't the proper number of workers to keep you "fit." 60 per cent of normal is dangerous.

S.S.S.—the great blood tonic—stimulates the blood-building organs to supply the necessary red-cells. Your appetite picks up, your body is strengthened, invigorated—you feel like yourself again!

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body. Also, they remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Anemic red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is responsible for body weakness, loss of appetite, underweight, paleness, sallow complexion, boils and pimples.

STOCK INDICES SINK TO NEW 1930 LOWS

Composite Price Slumps to Within 8 Points of Last November's Bottom.

4,496,000 SHARES SOLD

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.). — The stock market bade a frenzied farewell to the third quarter of 1930 today.

Liquidation and short selling, again appearing voluminously in the afternoon, coincident with the failure of an exchange member, plunged prices downward swiftly, before supporting orders took effect. The turnover reached the large total of 4,496,000 shares.

It was the heaviest selling of the current decline. Although the late covering movement saved the market from closing at the bottom, net losses averaged about 2 points and the 50-share composite price dropped another notch to within 7½ points of last November's low.

Pessimism, whether justified or not, was the dominant note in speculative circles. A stock exchange insolvency more out vague rumors that have been sobbing around the financial community for some time to the effect that the failure of the market to recover might be disastrous in some quarters, which had been counting on brighter days. However, the suspension of the member firm, although not surprising, was distinctly depressing to a market that trembles at the slightest flutter of unfavorable news.

Rally Ranges From 1 to 3 Points.

The decline, embracing a broad list of stocks, was stopped on the announcement of an extra dividend of 1 by American Can. It was refilled that the market's only rally last week resulted from a rumor that Can was planning such action; but the report was later discredited and the stock was sold short today. Hasty covering in this pivotal issue helped the general list and the rally ranged from 1 to 3 points from the lowest levels. Seasoned investment stocks closed with only moderate declines after virtually all of them had touched new lows for the year or for the movement.

A growing belief in commission house circles that banks have been liquidating security loans substantially was hardly supported by the weekly condition statement of the Federal Reserve members banks, for the total on this item increased $57,000,000 in the week ended September 24. There was a $21,000,000 drop in this account for the out-of-town banks, but Wall street was not inclined to view this as unduly significant.

The $24,000,000 decrease in "all others," or commercial, loans was used as a bearish argument, since the total of these borrowings is now only $50,000,000 from the year's low, reflecting the scant demand for bank credit. Other disconcerting sentiment included the cut in copper to 10 cents and the decline in August department store sales reported by the Federal Reserve monthly review.

Commodity Prices Gain.

Stocks moved against the trend of the leading commodity markets, which were considerably improved. Wheat failed to hold the top, but closed ½ cent to 1 cent a bushel higher, while corn rallied 2 to more than 3 cents net. Cotton, after early weakness, recovered for gains of 35 cents to $1 a bale.

Domestic bonds of savings bank grade moved ahead, but there was considerable unsettlement in foreign issues.

Call money firmed to 2 per cent, natural trend in view of the proximity of the month-end settlements. Rates on time accommodations, however, eased and prime commercial paper was shaded. Neither of these developments was particularly encouraging at a season when rates should be higher, although the bond market might be expected to profit thereby.

Radio Hits New Low for Year.

Share prices rallied moderately for an interval in the forenoon when leading issues got 1 to 3 points higher. On the break, however, United States Steel, American Telephone, American Can and virtually every other favorite made new post-June lows and Radio, Standard Oil of New Jersey and General Electric, among scores of others, dropped into new low ground for the year.

The close found United States Steel down 1 point, whereas it had been off 2. Losses in American Telephone, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, Montgomery Ward, Atchison, Anaconda, Auburn Auto, General Motors, Westinghouse Electric and International Harvester ran from a fraction to 2 points. American Smelting, Gillette, Canadian Pacific, Standard Oil of New York, New Haven and a few other important stocks closed higher. There were spectacular net declines of 24½ and 21 in Jersey Central Railroad and Detroit Edison, respectively, while Diamond Match lost 1, and Case, 8. American Can was off 3.

Foreign exchanges eased. The German mark and the Spanish peseta made new lows.

FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Paris, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Prices improved on the bourse today. Three per cent rentes, 88 francs 5 centimes; 5 per cent loan, 101 francs 75 centimes. Exchange on London, 123 francs 84½ centimes. The dollar was quoted at 25 francs 48 centimes.

London, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Bar silver, 19 3/16d per ounce. Money, 2 per cent. Discount rates—Short bills, 2⅛@2.5 per cent; 3 months, 2⅛ per cent.

WASHINGTON: WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1930. 17

GROVE LIKELY TO FACE GRIMES IN SERIES OPENER TODAY; PRESIDENT AMONG 40,000 TO GREET BASEBALL'S CLASSIC

A's Counting On Winning Shares

Mack Says Club Is Ready; Players Not So Conservative.

Street and Cardinals Are Confident of Taking Title.

By WILLIAM HENNIGAN.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—There he sat in a big lounge in the lobby of the Benjamin Franklin Hotel with Bill McKechnie, now manager of the Boston Braves. He didn't seem nervous or fretful about the opening game of the world's series at Shibe Park tomorrow afternoon.

He had mapped out his plans with his players on the long ride from St. Louis and he is confident that his baseball strategy will overthrow the Athletics and give the St. Louis fans another world's championship.

He talked with McKechnie, the man who won the pennant for the Cardinals in 1928, in a soft and low voice. That was when he wasn't interrupted by this or that baseball notable who came over to congratulate him on winning the National League flag. On one occasion a woman reporter of one of the Philadelphia papers came over to him and wanted his opinion in the world's series.

"The Cardinals will win," he declared, still talking in a low voice. "We won 30 out of the last 35 games and with a fair break in luck we'll beat the Athletics."

Then he sat down and started talking again to McKechnie, as if this world's series was just an everyday event in his life.

That was the way that Charles "Gabby" Street, manager of the Cardinals, spent most of the afternoon on the eve of the 1930 world's series.

Grimes Also Has Winning Complex.

Over in another corner of the lobby of the hotel sat Burleigh Grimes, spitball pitcher extraordinary. Like Street, Grimes has a winning complex and if he doesn't beat the Athletics tomorrow it will not be for the lack of courage of a fighting heart.

"Sure, I'm going to pitch the opening game," said the spitballer in a la Jack Sharkey manner, when some one asked him if he were going to start the series. "And I'll beat them, too.

"You know, old Red Faber gave Foxx, Simmons and Cochrane plenty of trouble this year with his spitter. I'm faster than Faber and should beat the Athletics. In fact, I know I'm going to beat them."

That's Grimes, maybe a bit boastful, but that is the kind of a pitcher who wins ball games and pennants, and that's the reason Gabby is going to throw Burleigh at the Athletics tomorrow.

Street figures Grimes will win the opening game and that he will be able to work three times if the series lasts six or seven games.

The other Cardinals, while not as optimistic as Grimes, feel sure that this is going to be a National League year, and that they'll take the world's crown away from the tall Connie Mack.

As for the Athletics, some of them are counting their world's series money. While they are well acquainted with the Cardinals' great drive which carried them past the Robins, the Cubs and the Giants and to a pennant, they figure the St. Louis Club is not any stronger than the Chicago Team of last year and that Grove, Earnshaw and Walberg will stop the big hitters of the National League champions just as easily as they did Wilson, Cuyler and Hornsby last October.

The astute Mr. Mack was at the ball park early this morning. While Connie has not officially announced his pitcher for the opening game, Cochrane, Foxx and several of the other players said today that Grove is surely going to face Grimes.

Macks Appear Ready For Battle.

The Athletics indulged in a light practice themselves before the Cardinals took the field. Cochrane batted a few into deep center field and Foxx and Simmons clouted the ball into the left-field stand. Apparently they are ready for Mr. Grimes, and maybe they'll prove to Burleigh that the Athletics in a world's series can hit a spitball just as well as a fast one or a curve.

"We'll pin Mr. Grimes' ears back for him," said one of the Athletics at the ball park this morning, "and if you're inclined to bet, go out and get a winter coat by putting your money on the greatest manager of them all—Mack is his name."

Connie himself refused to declare his Athletics will win. "My team is ready and in a fighting mood," said Mack. "All of my players are in good condition, and there should be plenty of real baseball before the series is over."

PHILS PASS UP HAUSER IN DRAFT

Select Bolen, Baltimore Hurler; Red Sox Get Moore.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Selection of Stewart Bolen, crack left-handed pitcher of the Baltimore Orioles, by the Philadelphia Nationals, and Wilcy Moore, right-handed veteran pitcher of the St. Paul Club, by the Boston Red Sox tonight featured the annual draft meeting of the major leagues, presided over by Baseball Commissioner Landis.

Bolen, who won nineteen and lost nine games with Baltimore this year, was the first choice of the Phillies, who had the pick of the field because of their position at the bottom of the National League. He formerly twirled for the St. Louis Browns and the Athletics.

The Phillies selected Bolen in preference to Joe Hauser, the veteran first baseman, who hit over 60 home runs for Baltimore this year, breaking all baseball records. Hauser, therefore, could not be drafted under the rules limiting the selection to one man from the "AA" class clubs.

Moore gained fame by playing a big part in the 1927 championship season of the New York Yankees. It was his first year in the majors. Subsequently his arm failed him, but he staged a comeback this season with St. Paul, winning 22 and losing 10 games in the American Association.

Brillheart Goes to Red Sox.

In addition to Moore, the Red Sox also obtained a southpaw pitcher, J. B. Brillheart, from the Minneapolis Club of the American Association.

The Phillies, besides Bolen, drafted Fred Koster, Little Rock outfielder and considered one of the fastest men in the minors.

Altogether, 21 minor leaguers were acquired under baseball's selective system, which has been the source of frequent clashes between the majors and minors. The prices paid of the drafted players scale down from $7,500, the price for men taken from the three "A" circuits, International, American Association and Pacific Coast Leagues.

The Boston Braves drafted the most, three players, including Earl Sheely, first baseman of the San Francisco Seals, who hit .415 in the Coast League this year.

The New York Giants obtained the former Florida football star, Tom Nash, who has been outfielding for Asheville in the South Atlantic Association.

The Detroit Tigers and Pittsburgh Pirates did not make any selections.

The completed list of selected players:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Phillies—Stewart Bolen, southpaw pitcher, Baltimore; Fred Koster, outfielder, Little Rock.

Literary Ghost of "Connie Street" Sends Few Lines for the Home-Town Publication

Players, Not Seeking Money, Proud to Win for City.

By CONNIE (WESTBROOK PEGLER) STREET.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 30.—Well, here we are on the eve of the beginning of a new world series, and I want to tell you right here and now it is a relief to have the strain of the season over with and done with.

Thousands of my friends throughout the country have been deluging me with wires asking me how it feels to be up there again in the old fall classic of the national pastime. Well, I want to say right here and now that it feels mighty good, and I feel mighty proud to be leading such a fine aggregation of athletes in the blue ribbon event of the national pastime.

Support of Fans Helped Win Flag.

I want to take occasion right here and now to thank the millions of faithful fans throughout this great country of ours who have stuck with us faithfully throughout the season and given us loyal support through thick and thin. And I want to tell you that there are times in the course of a season when the support of the fans counts more than I can tell you, and this goes for the rest of my boys, too, down to the last man. It is easy enough when you are out there in front in the old flag race, but when the fans stick with you loyally and faithfully when other clubs are showing you their heels, then is when faithfulness and loyalty help a manager in the struggle for the old gonfalon.

I feel mighty honored to have brought the pennant to this town because I know of no town more deserving of the honor, because the fans stick to you faithfully and loyally regardless of how badly things may be going at the moment.

Well, I suppose a lot of my friends will want to know how this old fall classic will turn out. I only wish I knew myself. This much you may be sure of, however—we may not win but our opponents will know that they have been in a fight and the team that wins the series will have to beat a mighty good aggregation of stellar stars. I was just saying to an old loyal friend of mine who called me up as soon as he heard my boys won the pennant, that never in the history of the classical autumn show down, has a team gone in there to play for the highest honors as confident and imbued with such a fighting spirit as the athletes who will represent their city in this series.

Fans Don't Appreciate Finer Points of Game.

Now, don't get me wrong. I do not mean that our opponents are not also a fine, stellar aggregation of baseball stars and worthy of being the champions of their league. Nor are we overconfident, because I have always maintained that anything can happen in a short series. For example, look at the world series of 1901. Why could not the same thing happen and history repeat itself all over again just as it happened in 1904?

The fans probably don't appreciate the finer points of baseball strategy because they are sitting up there in the stands or in the bleachers where you find the real dyed-in-the-wool fans, who are practically the backbone of the game and support the game faithfully year in and year out but that is the way it has always seemed to me. In other words, I always figure that the team that gets the breaks is the team that wins in an evenly matched contest between two well-matched aggregations like this.

That is one of the things why baseball is such a fascinating spectacle to both watch and also to play as a fighter in the contest. The point that I am trying to bring out is that a good team make their own breaks and that is what my boys have been doing all year when things looked like they were going dead against us. They were still going ahead making the breaks and making them count for something every time, regardless of how things went against us throughout the long derby route to victory and world series glory.

One point I am trying to bring out is that these ball players are just human fellows, just the same as you and me. They have hearts and they have souls, just the same as you or me, or anybody else, for that matter, and, in this particular instance, it is purely and simply a case of where the boys are in there fighting, not for the few dollars we will get out of the gate, but they feel a genuine loyalty to their manager, who I have the honor to happen to be this season, and to the host of devoted fans who have supported them from beginning to end of the season.

Sometimes folks are apt to think a ball player is in there just for the ready cash there may be in the game, but you would not think so if you knew them as well as I know them.

I suppose our friends are anxious to know who I am going to use to pitch the first game, but I can truthfully say that I will not know until the morning of the afternoon of the day of the first game of the classic. The average outside fan thinks it is easy for a manager to go over his list of hurlers and pick out some one who they may think is the logical man to send out there on the firing line. But if you consider what happened in 1921, for instance, when a left-handed pitcher was knocked out of the box in the opening game because the manager didn't stop to consider conditions, you would know what a responsibility it is for a big league manager to contend with in picking out his hurling selections.

Of course, I realize that the fans would like to know. So would I, but I can only say now that you had better not be too sure as I am likely to cross everybody up by selecting a dark horse at the last moment. This crosses the opposition because just when they figure that you are going to give them right-hand slants to shoot at and you give them a portsider, the result is confusion and there is a break for you right there. That is the point I was trying to bring out where it is possible for a team to make their own breaks, although, as I say, you can't be too sure even then.

Well, fans, there is just one more thing that I want to get across with the boys who will be the fans and the future great players of tomorrow, and that is that success does not come so easy.

Players Have Struggled for Years to Make Good.

It may look easy, but I wish the little, dirty-mouthed kids playing ball with an old taped ball on the sand lots of our land could only realize how hard every member of my team has been struggling for years to make themselves perfect specimens of sportsmanship and a credit to our country's favorite pastime on the diamond.

Yes, you see them there, fielding perfectly, and it looks easy, but let me tell you it is not so easy and perseverence is what counts in the long run in baseball just as it does in the great game of life. We are meeting a great baseball machine and if beaten we will not be disgraced, as to always win is not the way life goes.

We are ready for the fray and may the best team win.

Nats Draft Outfielder Jordon From Newark

Special to The Washington Post.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—The Washington Ball Club netted one player in the draft of minor leaguers by the majors at a meeting at baseball headquarters tonight. Baxter Jordan, left-handed outfielder of the Newark International League Club, was obtained by President Clark Griffith at the draft price of $5,000.

Griffith had sought to acquire George Davis, heavy hitting St. Paul outfielder and a right-hander, but the drafting of Pitcher Wilcey Moore by the Braves precluded Griffith's choice as a result of the ruling limiting draftees from the same club to one. Washington was in a poor position to claim players as a result of finishing second with first choices awarded to clubs lowest in the standing. Jordan was scouted by both Joe Engel and Griffith last season. He is 22 years old and batted .340 last season.

We're Ready for Battle, May the Best Team Triumph.

BEAR YARNS TOLD AT PHILLY

Cardinals Ready for Morgue, According to Stories.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—As Philadelphia simmered late tonight in the crackling grease of a new world series enthusiasm, one could almost see the pretty little pink and green and yellow and polka dot bears rolling around the thoroughfares.

One didn't have to go very far through the lobby of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel here to know that there was a world series brewing. One couldn't have gone far without tripping over one of these little bears, most of them wearing the livery of the St. Louis Cardinals, who are to begin their championship fight against the Philadelphia Athletics here tomorrow.

Mr. Sam Breadon, the urbane owner of the St. Louis Club, must have brought half the St. Louis Zoo's world champion collection of bears with him, he was that surrounded by the grotesque animals. There was the little Frisch bear, which said Frankie Frisch, the great second baseman, had pain in his back that was intended to fit a dromedary. Then there was the Jimmy Wilson bear, which said that Mr. Wilson, the splendid catcher, wouldn't be able to play and there was the Ray Blades bear, which had a number of things wrong with the utility outfielder.

There were numerous other bears about, nudging their cute little noses into the flanks of the bigger bears or licking wistfully at the boots of sports writers, who threw them orange peelings, hard rolls and second-hand cauliflower and encouraged them to go through their didoes.

Some said that Chick Hafey would not be able to play the entire series because his eyes were out of plumb again, one looking up along the part of his hair while the other stared down the right side of his neck. Another had it that Flint Rhem, the celebrated ghost drinker, wasn't in proper fettle and might not be used.

Nothing Wrong in Camp Of Mackmen.

There didn't seem to be any such prize collection of bears around the Athletic camp. Every one seemed to be in apple pie shape and that gaunt man of 30 managerial campaigns, Mr. Cornelius McGillicuddy, otherwise Connie Mack, was as serene and pleased with himself as the city he represents, for Philadelphia is pleased with herself tonight and the smugness with which her citizenry accepts this world series and the coming Athletic triumph is enough to try the patience of a more phlegmatic man even than Charles (Gabby) Street, the rustic manager of the St. Louis Club.

One sensed the feeling of complete security among Philadelphia's baseball folk. When one mentioned that Frankie Frisch had an ailing back and had been reported in bed most of the day, and a Philadelphian heard it, he merely lifted his eyebrows and said it was too bad, but that the Cardinals would have had to take a shellacking anyway, and that Mr. Frisch, considerable as his genius might have been, wouldn't have been able, single-handed, to turn the tide of the business. They would miss Mr. Frisch, they intimated, because they liked to see Messrs. Grove and Walberg strike out renowned artists like him, but that was all.

As a matter of fact, Frisch is not nearly so ill as he has been represented to be, and you can bet that he will be playing second base for the Cardinals when they face the Athletics at Shibe Park tomorrow.

Mr. Wilson's case is a little different. He has been ailing for a pair of weeks, and when Mr. Wilson ails there is a great deal of ailing going on, simply because there is a great deal of Mr. Wilson to fill up when ailing. Moreover, he ails in his legs and any one who ever looked upon Mr. Wilson's pianolike understructure will understand readily that this is a serious thing. Indeed, comparable only to the unhappy predicament of Mr. George Herman Ruth with a stomach ache or a hippopotamus with trench mouth. If Mr. Wilson is not around tomorrow, the catching burden will be taken up by young Gus Mancuso, a busy little Italian, who is a robust swatsman, as the baseball fellows say, and a thoroughly able catcher under all circumstances, but scarcely a Wilson.

32,000 Expected to See Opening of Chicago Series

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—A season's debate over the merits of the downtrodden White Sox and the somewhat haughty Cubs drew to a climax tonight as the teams finished preparations for their interesting series for the baseball championship of Chicago.

The series opens tomorrow at Comiskey Park, home of the White Sox, and continues until one team wins four games. Rogers Hornsby and his Cubs were heavy favorites, but a hard-fought series was anticipated because of the admitted superiority of White Sox pitchers and their top-heavy record of victories over the 1929 National League champions in the past.

More than 32,000 were expected to attend the first game of the series.

Manager Hornsby tonight indicated he would send either Pat Malone, his fire-ball ace, or Bud Teachout, his young southpaw, to the mound in the opening battle, while Manager Donie Bush of the White Sox expected to employ his knuckle-ball ace, Teddy Lyons. Malone beat the White Sox twice in the 1928 series, which the Cubs won, but did not defend in 1929 because of their participation in the fall classic last year.

Except for pitching and left field, the Cubs admittedly had a wide edge on the White Sox, who finished seventh in the American League. The big bats of Hack Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson and Gabby Hartnett gave them a superior attack, while their defense also looked better than that of their South Side neighbors.

No Mystery Shrouds Pitching Plans of Manager Street.

Aims to Follow With Pitcher Flint Rhem Tomorrow.

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor).

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Despite bearish reports throughout the day about his ailing back, Frankie Frisch, keystone man of the St. Louis Cardinals, will take the field tomorrow when President Hoover tosses out the first ball for the opening world's series battle between the National League champions and the Philadelphia Athletics, two-time American League title holders and present world's champions.

Frisch's backache, diagnosed as a plain case of lumbago, was the principal topic of conversation today as the baseball brigades answered the rallying call to arms for the season's big climax. When the one-time Fordham flash, whose second base work and hitting is of the utmost importance to the hopes of the Cardinals, did not appear for the final practice at Shibe Park, reports circulated quickly that he might not be in condition to start the series.

Frisch's Absence Would Cause Shift.

It looked very dubious to the experts when they discovered Frisch in bed at his hotel, surrounded by medicinal lamps, bottles of sure-cures contributed by well-meaning friends and a staff of aids that would do credit to a hospital, but the ball player declared the situation to be greatly exaggerated.

"I will play tomorrow, backache or no backache," Frisch declared. "I could have been out there working today and, as a matter of fact, I wanted to, but Doc insisted I take it easy. In order to be sure of being on the job for the first game."

The medical verdict was that Frisch, although not in first class condition, would be able to perform. Manager Charles (Gabby) Street echoed this opinion, while at the same time preparing to meet an emergency.

The loss of Frisch would be a stunning blow to the chances of the Cardinals, whose defense is largely built around the brilliant second baseman, in addition to which his bat is considered one of the most potent in the line-up. It will be a severe handicap, anyway, with his actual playing condition in doubt until he gets into uniform. Should Street be forced to make a switch, he will move Earl (Sparky) Adams over to second base from third and put the handy utility man, Andy High, on third.

Mack Box Starter Uncertain, As Usual.

Aside from the case of Frisch, the only other major uncertainty in connection with the opening game concerns the pitching selection of the Athletics. Most of the experts believe it will be the No. 1 man of the A's staff, Robert Moses Grove, but many of them lean to the opinion that Connie Mack will pull another world's series surprise and assign knuckle-ball Eddie Rommel to the opening job.

If Mack had made up his mind, he did not indicate it today. Not even his closest counselors and associates professed to have the slightest idea who would oppose Burleigh Grimes, veteran spitball star, who has been definitely chosen to do the hurling for the Cardinals.

If Mack has any idea of placing the main burden on Grove and his big right-handed ace, George Earnshaw, he must start one or the other tomorrow. He might attempt to win quickly with these two by starting Grove in the first game, Earnshaw in the next two games, split by an interval of travel to St. Louis, and then come back with the famous southpaw in the fourth contest. On the other hand, Grove might be held back exclusively for relief duty, with the idea of having him save as many games as necessary or possible with his blinding speed, after the starting efforts of

BONER COSTS COLONELS GAME

Poor Head Work by Barnes Lets Rochester Win, 8-6.

PARKWAY FIELD, Louisville, Ky., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Rochester made it 4 to 2 in the little world series, winning today's game, 8 to 6, from the Louisville American Association champions. Quick thinking by Shortstop Wilson of the Rochester Team turned the tide in the eighth, along with slow headwork by Catcher Barnes and the other Louisville players.

Wilson, with two out and a man on third, reached second when Barnes caught the third strike on the bounce and failed to throw to first. Florence singled to right to score both runners, and Pitcher Berly tripled to send his battery mate home. Louisville was leading, 5 to 4, when the inning started.

Brown led off the ninth with a single to left and was sacrificed to second by Toporcer. Martin fanned, but Pepper slammed a triple to the scoreboard and scored Brown to make it 8 to 5, for Rochester.

Louisville made a bid in the ninth, Herman scoring after walking, being advanced on an infield out, stealing third, and being driven in by Marcum's single.

TAMBOUR BEATS JUVENILES IN FEATURE AT GRAW

Burch Racer Eased Up at Finish

Dark Edwina Second; Avenger, Favorite, Is Third.

Dunlin's Lad Victor in Opener; Fifth to Fire Opal.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.
Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE RACE TRACK, Sept. 30.—The Gadabout, 5½-furlong feature, attracted 8,000 spectators here today and saw Preston M. Burch's Tambour register her second victory of the meeting when she raced the distance in 1:07. Schaefer broke the 2-year-old bay daughter of General Thatcher—Castanet with the leaders and half way down the back stretch was a short head back of Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Dark Edwina.

The leaders fought it out around the turns, but, once straightened out in the home stretch, Tambour easily drew away from her field. At the end she was being eased up.

Avenger, Choice, Finishes Third.

Dark Edwina was just as handy a winner of the place over Harry Payne Whitney's Avenger, the favorite. The latter was in tight quarters soon after the start and when she got to racing, the first two money horses were so far in front that it was all over in so far as her chances were concerned.

Avenger closed gamely to save third money and thus keep the form players from suffering a total loss.

Elmer Trueman, popular Washingtonian, who handles various thoroughbreds for a half dozen sportsmen, has put over a pair of good things here in two days. Yesterday he won with Bal Parr's Her Grace, and today he captured the opener with the same sportsman's Dunlin's Lad. Trueman, who had been training Dunlin's Lad for J. Nesbitt, yesterday bought the colt for his present owner. Trueman was mighty high on the 2-year-old son of Dunlin-Supress and informed all his friends that he would win today.

Very few paid any attention to him, but when Dunlin's Lad won at odds of $14.70 and in doing so beat War, one that cost Mrs. Margaret Amory the sum of $45,000 as a yearling, they realized the former rider knew his business.

Dunlin's Lad broke fast today and, saving ground via the rail, was in command at the far turn to win going away from War, with Stellanova third.

Poor Ride Costs Victory to Buckeye Poet.

A weird ride by Elm Shropshire cost Edward Riley Bradley's Buckeye Poet, the favorite, the purse in the six furlongs of the second.

Away slowly, Shropshire went up fast on the outside of the field of five but for some unexplained reason he ducked toward the inside at the far turn. Going around the elbows, Shropshire was in a pocket and had to sit still until the stretch turn, where he tried to go through on the rail and was promptly pinched off.

Despite these setbacks, Buckeye Poet was still good enough to come on and finish a bang-up third to the Dixanna's Voltear, who whipped the Justa Farm Stable's Mud.

The Audley Farm's Conamore, who graduated from the ranks of the maidens on Saturday, came right back today to whip a fair field of platers over the mile and one-sixteenth of the fourth.

Eddie Watters, who was aboard Conamore, registered his seventh victory of the meeting and took a 2-point lead over Sonny Workman in the race for the $500 gold stop watch, which General Manager Edward Burke of the Harford Agricultural and Breeders Association, is offering to the leading winning rider at this meeting.

Conamore took pace from Coin Collector to the turn for home, where she went on top and withstood a long stretch duel with the pacemaker, to win going away. Coin Collector easily saved the place from Aziz, who led home Ormonbird, the favorite.

Moe Simon's Fire Opal, 6-year-old daughter of Under Fire—Yellow Blossom, found a field she could whip today when she ran a mile and one-eighth in 1:56 1-5 in the fifth, to lead home Daddy Nelson, with Corbeau third.

Wayfarer Shows Way Home In Sixth.

The mare was restrained back of the pace for three-quarters, where she was taken the overland route and closing gamely through the stretch, outlasted Daddy Nelson for the purse.

Dick Pending's Wayfarer raced a mile and one-eighth in 1:55 4-5 to lead home J. B. D. Baker's Frances Cooper and C. Hazleton's Vowed Vengeance in the sixth.

Leishman, who was aboard the winner, registered his second score of the day and tied Sonny Workman for the runner-up position in the race for jockey honors here.

Mrs. F. I. Vanderbeek's Five Oaks, the favorite, had little trouble winning the last race on the program, finishing four lengths in front of Mary McNeil, which was five lengths in front of Cogwheel.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DUNLIN'S LAD, $14.70, $4.00, $2.90; WAR, $2.90, $2.20; STELLANOVA, $2.90.

DUNLIN'S LAD, away in the first flight and following in near pursuit of WAR MINISTER, displaced the latter when ready, drew into a good lead when straightened into the home stretch and held WAR safe under pressure. Latter a forward factor throughout, closed courageously, but was held safe. STELLANOVA secured racing room the last half mile and was easily best of the others. WAR MINISTER had good speed for a half. BOUNDLESS DEEP showed a good test.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 2:50. Off at 2:51½. Winner, Dixiana Stable's b. g. (4), by Volta—The Wife. Trained by P. M. Burch. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 2-5, 0:47 3-5, 1:13 3-5.

LADY CAPULET	112	2	2	2h	3½	4h	4h	Kennedy	2.85
MADELAINE	110	3	5	5	5	5	5	Quackenbush	30.00

Two-dollar mutuels paid—VOLTEAR, $8.40, $4.70, $2.90; MUD, $6.10, $3.70; BUCKEYE POET, $2.80.

VOLTEAR, favored by good handling and sent along in contention from the start, raced MUD into submission, was stoutly urged when moving to the front and had enough left to withstand BUCKEYE POET. Latter reached contention rapidly while on the outside, but was badly blocked when SHROPSHIRE attempted to go through on the inside at the turn, was forced to take up and finished fast when clear. He would have been a keener factor with more intelligent handling. LADY CAPULET had no mishaps. MADELINA was never a factor.

THIRD RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,300; allowances. For 2-year-old fillies. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:20. Off at 3:27. Winner, P. M. Burch's b. f. (2), by General Thatcher—Castanet. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 1-5, 1:07.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—TAMBOUR, $13.80, $6.90, $3.40; DARK EDWINA, $6.10, $3.80; AVENGER, $2.70.

TAMBOUR began swiftly, displayed good speed, resisted a bold effort from DARK EDWINA in the last furlong and drew out slowly in the last sixteenth. DARK EDWINA, hard hustled all the way, faltered after a stout bid entering the home stretch. AVENGER could not trouble the leaders seriously. FRIARESS broke well, but lacked early speed and was unable to make up any ground when reaching forward position. POLLY PLAY stopped.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, easily. Went to post at 3:55. Off at 3:57½. Winner, Audley Farm's b. f. (3), by High Cloud—Billie Doux. Trained by S. M. Henderson. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:23 4-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:14, 1:40 2-5, 1:47 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—CON AMORE, $18.00, $8.50, $6.70; COIN COLLECTOR, $5.90, $4.80; AZIZ, $19.00.

Watters rode a well judged race on CON AMORE, took the latter under slight restraint on back stretch and permitted COIN COLLECTOR to set the pace, moved up on outside of latter entering home stretch and, fighting it out all last furlong, outgamed COIN COLLECTOR at end. COIN COLLECTOR met with no mishaps. AZIZ hung after making her effort at top of home stretch. ORMONBIRD lacked early speed and was held safe. RAUCONA had no mishaps. YANKEE DOODLE stopped badly.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:25. Off at 4:27½. Winner, M. Simon's b. or br. m. (6), by Under Fire—Yellow Blossom. Trained by owner. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24 1-5, 0:49, 1:15, 1:42 2-5, 1:56 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—FIRE OPAL, $6.70, $4.10, $3.00; DADDY NELSON, $11.50, $5.80; CORBEAU, $5.40.

FIRE OPAL, restrained off the pace for the first six furlongs, moved to her field steadily, gained command in the final furlong and held DADDY NELSON safe under stout pressure. Latter, slow to get going, circled his field to finish stoutly. CORBEAU, reserved early, came with good speed in the final drive. LA GRANGE was made too much use of forcing the early pace and tired. HIGH DELL went evenly. FRANCES ST. L. and SEA RIP were rushed off their feet in the early stages.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:00. Off at 5:02½. Winner, R. Pending's ch. g. (3), by Waygood—American Beauty. Trained by L. E. Phillips. Value to winner, $950; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Time, 0:24, 0:48 4-5, 1:15, 1:42, 1:55 4-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—WAYFARER, $9.70, $6.50, $4.70; FRANCES COOPER, $19.70, $9.70; VOWED VENGEANCE, $3.40.

WAYFARER, hurried into a forward position, responded readily when called on, came stoutly to wear down VOWED VENGEANCE and, continuing gamely, outstayed FRANCES COOPER. Latter, well up from the beginning, finished with a rush. VOWED VENGEANCE weakened after shaking off KEITH. Latter was hard ridden and weakened in the final issue. STANDARD BEARER collided with SPORTING GRIT at the first turn. He showed a good test. DRUGGIST was held safe. CHEROKEE MAID raced in dull fashion.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stalls. Won easily; place, same. Went to post at 5:30. Off at 5:31. Winner, Mrs. F. I. Two-dollar mutuels paid—FIVE OAKS, $6.30, $3.30, $2.40; MARY M'NEIL, $4.90, $2.80; COKWHEEL, $2.50.

FIVE OAKS, assuming command at once, was rated in front until approaching the home stretch, was shaken up mildly and came away at will in the last sixteenth. MARY M'NEIL, under steadying restraint early, made a stout effort at the far turn, but was no match for the winner. COGWHEEL held on well after going forwardly.

(Reg. U. S. Patent Office.)

—Havre de Grace Selections—

By J. B. SNODGRASS

HAVRE DE GRACE RACE TRACK, Sept. 30.—The Old Dominion Handicap, tomorrow's feature here, will see many of the 3-year-olds which raced in the $20,000 Potomac Handicap last Thursday in action again over the mile and a sixteenth route. GONE AWAY and SNOWFLAKE are the only two listed to go in the Old Dominion which did not race in the Potomac.

Joseph E. Widener's MR. SPONGE ran a very good race in the Potomac, considering he set a fast pace for his opponents. At the end the son of Stefan the Great was second, beaten a length and a half by Spinach. He doesn't meet the Ziegler runner this time and he drops 2 pounds. Figures make MR. SPONGE best in the Old Dominion. George W. Foreman's NED O. may be the one to beat. The son of Campfire's Potomac effort has to be thrown out. He left the stall gates walking and lost all chance at the break. NED O. flashed his best form here the first day of the meeting, when he beat Full Dress, Buckeye Poet, Her Grace and others over the mile and 70 yards route.

SUN FALCON ran a good race to be fourth in the Potomac. He has only to repeat that effort to get a piece of the Old Dominion purse. GONE AWAY failed badly the first day of the meeting when he was third to Hot Toddy and Caruso. The latter was far back in the Potomac. GONE AWAY has a good chance, however, on New York form.

MARYLAND NOT EXCITED IN PREPARATION FOR YALE

Biggest Game Holding No Worries

Old Line Eleven Seen as Stronger Than That of 1929.

Team Feels That Season Is Not Lost if Elis Triumph.

By JACK ESPEY.

NOT a nerve twitches, not a heart palpitates, no sleep is lost and nobody's head aches among the Maryland University football warriors because Yale's Bulldogs are to be their opponents in New Haven Saturday.

Here are these Marylanders just four days away from their hardest game of the season—yes, even their hardest game in two seasons—showing no more concern than if the game were to be played with a team in their own class.

But they are not conceding the victory.

Coach Curly Byrd and his Black and Gold aray have their feet on the ground and their minds made up in regard to the battle awaiting them. It is to give their best that they are aiming for, and literally nothing else.

A team in Maryland's place might logically be expected to betray great fear or worry because certainly the 1930 Yale Eleven is not the team that Maryland tied, 13 to 13, last fall. The Bulldogs have been pointing for the Old Liners, summoning their most ferocious spirit to enable them to avenge in a great big way what was almost as bad as a defeat at the Old Liners' hands last year.

Maryland knows that Yale will be a better team than it engaged in 1929. The Blue last year had already experienced three tough battles when it took on the ambitious crew from College Park. But this season it is meeting Maryland in the second game of its schedule at full strength and tugging at the leash. All of its power, which is greater than all of Maryland's power, will be available.

It will be a capable Maryland team, however, that enters the Bowl Saturday afternoon. Well conditioned, well trained and well equipped, it has speed, weight and brains, a strong sound defense and an offense that is more clever than a Maryland eleven has had in several years.

Jack Norris and Al Pease are tall, rangy ends, who will cause Yale a lot of trouble at the flanks and show a thing or two in the way of pass catching. Bill Fisher and Ernie Carlis are veterans in tackle play, both being rugged enough to give and stand the most strenuous football.

Courtney Hayden and Jess Krajcovic, the guards, are comparatively inexperienced, but their speed and shifty footwork on both offense and defense makes up for their failings. The center, Parker Faber, is a scrapper from hair-end to toe-tip, though handicapped by lack of weight.

The back field of Al Woods, quarter back; Ray Poppelman, full back, and George Chalmers and Louis Berger, half backs, is an improvement over the 1929 ball toting quartet. There is versatility galore in this array that makes Maryland really formidable on offense.

Then there is doughty Bill Evans, who is at home in any back field position and who occupies the distinction of being Maryland's most reliable player. Evans will be held on the bench until something goes wrong, and it will be he who corrects the trouble if anybody does.

Thus Maryland is situated with its hardest test drawing near. It naturally wants to win, will strive mightily to do so but will not feel that life is not worth living if it fails.

Blind Lane Captures Feature at Aqueduct

Aqueduct Race Track, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Blind Lane, owned by the Goodstone Stable, scored impressively in the Beldame Handicap, 5-furlong feature here today. She picked up 118 pounds, made all the pace and traveled the distance in the fast time of 0:59 1-5. Mrs. John Hertz's Risque was second and Robert L. Gerry's Straying, third. The race carried a net value of $4,525.

The start was poor, but Blind Lane got away flying and Walls never let her stop. He kept the filly going at top speed all the way and she swung into the stretch leading by two lengths. She managed to hold this advantage to the finish, winning easily. Risque beat Straying a like distance for second money.

Semifinals Are Carded In Edgemoor Tourney

Play in the third annual Edgemoor Club closed tennis tournament will be resumed today at 4:30 when Commander C. G. Gill, defending champion, locks racquets with Jack Purinton, veteran Treasury Department mainstay, in a semifinal match which will decide who will meet Colin Stam, now resting in the final round.

Gill, who defeated Bob Considine last Sunday, rules as a favorite over Purinton. The match will bring together two of the steadiest backcourt players in local competition.

W. & L. PREPS FOR SPIDER CONTEST

Coaches Aiming to Check Fumbling by Saturday.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., Sept. 30.—All the footballs, however ancient they may be, that the Washington and Lee athletic office has stored away in Doremus Gymnasium will be pumped up and brought into use during this week's practice in preparation for the third game of the season with the University of Richmond Spiders at Richmond Saturday.

The large number of pigskins will be freely distributed among the Blue and White gridders as they go through their training paces for Coach Dobson's Spiders, in the effort to have the men secure the "feel" of the ball.

Too Many Fumbles by Generals.

Fumbling has marred both of the Washington and Lee games, and although the Generals haven't suffered in an appreciable way from these miscues, the precautionary measures are being taken so as to cut down the fumbles to a minimum.

In the game against V. M. I. last Saturday, which the Spiders lost, 12-0, the Dobson-coached players showed that they could take advantage of miscues by recovering several made by the Keydets.

There is a healthy respect for the Spiders in the Washington and Lee camp, for Dobson's men play hard football. All the rest of the week the Generals will concentrate on smoothing out defects in the offensive, as the defensive power of the W. and L. team worked as well as could be expected against Hampden Sidney.

The Tigers scored but two first downs, both of which were in their own territory, and Coach Bernier's backs reeled off but 40 yards from scrimmage, while the Generals were tallying fifteen first downs, thirteen of which were in Tiger possessions, and the Washington and Lee backs gained more than 300 yards from scrimmage.

The passing attack will get a general running over, as it is still not clicking, but in the interval between today's practice and the time the Generals entrain for Richmond, the long hours spent in practice will have somewhat rounded out the W. and L. attack for their third State foe.

Both Randolph Macon and Hampden Sidney have fallen before the Generals, the former by a 32-0 tally and the latter with a 15-0 score.

The Spiders will be the last game in which the whole of Washington and Lee's team can be tested, for on the following weeks West Virginia and Kentucky are met abroad.

Hurdle Champ Signs As Washington Coach

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Steve Anderson, Seattle, national hurdle champion, signed a contract today as assistant track coach under "Hec" Edmundson at the University of Washington.

Anderson was graduated from Washington last spring. He competed in the last Olympic games, won the national low hurdles title last year and the national high stick crown this season. He has tied the world's high hurdle record of 0:22-5 seconds eight times.

Havre de Grace Notes

Special to The Washington Post.

HAVRE DE GRACE RACE TRACK, Sept. 30.—At the conclusion of this meeting, Race Secretary Joseph McLennan will visit Kentucky and New York to interest horsemen in the stakes to be run during the winter at Jefferson Park and the Fair Grounds at New Orleans.

Jockey I. Gordon, who was injured during the Cumberland meeting, will resume his saddle activities tomorrow astride Colonel Seth.

Tony Wallace, race secretary at Miami, left last night for Chicago. He plans to return to Maryland late next month.

Trainer W. Mulholland will ship the Brandywine Stable's horses to Laurel on Monday. Jimmy McGee is moving over on Friday, while Bill Brodie is seding his stable down on Saturday.

Andrew J. (Cy) Cummings, president of the Maryland State Fair, Inc., who is a daily visitor here, is of the opinion that the 23 days racing beginning October 7 at Laurel will prove the best sport since that track was opened.

W. E. Merson, of Chicago, who claimed Blazing Cinch yesterday for $2,750, has turned the plater over to Buster Bedwell, of Savage, Md., to train.

Belgian Lass, First Mission and Watch the Time were added to the schooling list.

R. F. Carmen, trainer of the Nevada Stock Farm's horses, states that Siskin and Tarpaulin, who fell in the Eastern Shore on Saturday, are none the worse for the experience.

Walter J. Salmon has sold Annapolis at private terms to the Montpelier Farms, which is trained by J. P. Jones.

B. S. Michel, former trainer of Reigh Count, was an arrival. He was accompanied by Jockey Meade, who is said to be a likely looking saddle prospect.

When today's racing got under way, E. Watters, with six winners, and Sonny Workman, with five, were setting the pace in the fight for the $500 gold watch offered by General Manager Burke to the leading winning rider at this meeting.

ARCADIANS SEEK GAME.

Many of the offers presented here will be gone tomorrow.

VA. GRIDMEN PREP FOR DUKE

Cavaliers Not Fooled by Showing of Foes in S. C. Game.

Special to The Washington Post.

UNIVERSITY, Va., Sept. 30.—Virginia is not one bit fooled by the showing of Duke, against South Carolina last Saturday. The Cavaliers are drilling long and hard in preparation for meeting next Saturday a gridiron foe that will be all the more dangerous because it was deprived of victory last week by a turn of fate.

Gus Tebell and Joe McConnell, of the Cavalier coaching staff, who saw the Blue Devils in their opening game, report a fast, hard-charging, clean-playing team that is sure to profit by mistakes made against the Gamecocks.

On Lambeth Field the Virginians are trying to turn to advantage what the scouts saw in Durham. They are devising a special defense to check the attack that kept South Carolina on the defensive through much of the contest last Saturday.

Duke Outgained South Carolina.

Duke outgained South Carolina by a considerable yardage in total ground covered from scrimmages and by three first downs. Two of the Gamecocks' touchdowns came as the direct results of breaks of the game. And misfortunes robbed Duke of several chances to score.

The Cavaliers also know that the Blue Devils were without the services of several of their best men. Most of these expect to be able to play against Virginia.

Consequently the Cavaliers are not counting on luck to bring them any returns in their first Southern Conference contest. They are polishing their attack to have it ready for the Blue Devils, and they are strengthening defenses by scrimmages against the scrubs.

Bill Thomas, Herbert Bryant, Frank Sippley and Jim Beury will probably be the back field quartet that will be given first chance to work against Duke. But Coach Abell is not letting any of these four feel certain they'll start, and he has been grooming Pinder, Gravatt, Myers and others as possible replacements.

Walter Johnson Given Va. Hunting License

Special to The Washington Post.

Warrenton, Va., Sept. 30.—Mayor Thomas E. Frank, of Warrenton and Sheriff W. S. Woolf of this county presented Manager Walter Johnson, of the Nationals, with a non-resident hunting and fishing license and button Sunday. Walter had expressed a desire to hunt up here this fall and arrangements have been made for him and possibly Capt. Joe Judge to come to Fauquier and try their luck with some birds.

Hunters around here report the quail fairly plentiful despite the hot dry summer. Some of the local fans who are bird shots as well, will accompany Walter and Joe on their hunt shortly after the opening of the hunting season, November 15.

LIONS CHALLENGE.

The Lyon Park Lions, fresh from a 12-to-7 victory over Falls Church yesterday, are looking for games in the 125-pound gridiron class. Call Manager Taylor, at Clarendon 2077.

MERIDIANS PRACTICE.

CAPITAL CITY GRIDMEN MEET

150-Pounders Organize at Meeting Tonight.

STRINGENT eligibility standards have been adopted by the nine teams who will compete in the 150-pound section of the 1930 Capital City Football League, as usual, sponsored this fall by The Washington Post. Coaches and managers of these clubs will gather at French's Sport Store tonight at 7 o'clock to draw up schedules, assign playing fields, appoint officials, and formulate definite arrangements to weigh in players.

A player limit of 25 has been set for each team to carry through the season. Provided they have not played in a higher football class, two men can weigh over 160 pounds. Of the others, six can tip the beams between 150 and 160 pounds, and the remainder must weigh 150 pounds or under.

Prep, High, College Players Ineligible.

Any man who competes with a prep, high school, college, or unlimited eleven this year automatically becomes ineligible for league play. All players are required to sign up and weigh in by Wednesday, October 8. Club managers must submit complete eligibility lists to William Flester at French's Sport Store or to The Washington Post by October 9.

Each team must pay a league franchise fee of $10. This fee must be paid by tomorrow and will be returned at the end of the season. Any eleven forfeiting a game will lose one-half its franchise money. A second forfeit will result in immediate expulsion from the league and the forfeiture of the rest of this fee.

Unless shorter periods are agreed on by the manager of each team before the game starts, each contest will be played with 15-minute quarters.

Representatives of the seven clubs who constitute the unlimited section of the Capital City League will meet at French's tomorrow night for the same purpose.

Navy Drills Against Notre Dame Aerials

Special to The Washington Post.

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 30.—Naval Academy gridders today had a taste of Notre Dame's offensive style. The back field lined up in a lengthy dummy scrimmage against second-stringers, who used the wary aerial game as flashed by the Rooknemen.

The back field this afternoon was composed of Denny at quarter back, Gannon and Kirn at the halves and Oscar Hagsberg at full back. This combination had good success in batting down and intercepting the aerials. The flank positions were handled by the veteran, Byng, and N. M. Miller, a newcomer, who shows plenty of promise. Tuttle was worked hard at center, while the tackles and guards were not inserted into the skeleton line-up.

Navy is preparing for Notre Dame, and in meeting William and Mary this Saturday expects a stout workout. The Tars, unless surprised greatly by the Indians, will use only straight football, although it is the Navy's plan to begin its big team to see just what they can do. Head Coach Navy Bill Ingram and Commander Jimmie Hall scouted the Indians last Saturday and reported them to be fast and probably a bit heavier than the Middies.

FRISCH TO PLAY DESPITE HANDICAP

Rommel, Shores, Walberg, Mahaffey or even Quinn were exhausted.

No Mystery Shrouds Street's Pitching Plans.

Street's pitching plans are cloaked in no such mystery. The Cardinal pilot has indicated he will follow Grimes with Flint Rhem, fast right-hander, and Wild Bill Hallahan, faster left-hander. The veteran Jess Haines may be the fourth starting pitcher, unless Grimes is ready to work again by the time the fourth contest rolls around.

The Cardinals believe that Grove is the only rival moundsman they need to worry about and predict that if they tame the southpaw ace, the series will be over in short order in their favor. They point out that Earnshaw has not gone so well in his appearances in the closing weeks of the season. They do not fear any of the other Mack twirlers, but so far as that goes the Cubs did not fear Howard Ehmke last year until he had fanned thirteen of them in the opening game.

The Athletics, nevertheless, are favorites and the odds of around 7 to 5 in their favor will lengthen if it develops tomorrow that the Cardinals can not rely on the usual brilliancy of Frisch's all-around play. The main factors weighing the "dope" in support of the A's are:

(1) The confidence aroused by their present hold on the world's championship, plus the crafty leadership of their manager, Connie Mack.

(2) Possession of perhaps the greatest pitcher in baseball, Lefty Grove.

(3) The backstopping of Mickey Cochrane, greatest catcher in the game.

(4) The clean-up wallop of Al Simmons, outstanding slugger of the contending teams.

EAGLES IN WANT.

Skinker Bros. Eagles are looking for a baseball game for Saturday against a strong unlimited team to be played at 3 o'clock on Skinker Field.

Manager Clipper, of the Eagles, wishes that the manager of the Silver Spring Giants would get in touch with him about their tentatively arranged Sunday game.

Takoma Tigers May End Capital City Race Sunday

Dixie Pig Nine to Have Back to Wall in Play-Off for Championship and The Post's Gold Baseballs.

THE climax of The Washington Post's 1930 Capital City Baseball League competition will be reached next Sunday when the Takoma Tigers, divisional winners of Montgomery County, will clash for the second time with the Dixie Pigs, champions in the Prince Georges County division. The battle will be staged on the Silver Spring diamond and will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Intercounty interest is at a high pitch and a record crowd is expected to be on hand for the clash. If the Tigers win the championship The Post's gold baseballs will be theirs. But should the Pigs come through with the decision, another game will be necessitated, to be played probably the following Sunday.

By virtue of their 7-3 triumph over the Pigs several weeks ago, and their overwhelming 20-7 defeat of the Anacostia Eagles, District section champs, last Sunday, the Tigers are favored to defeat their rivals and win the League title. But Coach Hugh Waldrop's men, with their backs to the wall, are certain to give the Montgomery players a terrific fight.

Pigs Have Shown Ability to Rally.

The odds which exist against the Pigs almost are equalized when their proverbial fighting spirit is taken into consideration. And it is just such a situation in which they find themselves at present that more than ever brings this spirit to the front, as it has in other crises when they were considered the underdogs.

It was the indomitable spirit of the Pigs which was very much in evidence when they came from behind to take the honors in the Prince Georges County circuit of the league. Rallying in the closing stages of the county race, the Pigs tied Mount Rainier for the leadership, and then came through in the play-off to beat their rivals in a double-header and cinch sectional honors. And it was this fight which enabled the Pigs to check the pennant march of the Anacostia Eagles, after the District title holders had cut a wide swath through opposing ranks and seemed almost unbeatable.

Whereas the Prince Georges Standard bearers licked the Eagles, 5-1, the Tigers almost annihilated the Anacostia nine under a barrage of base hits. A comparison of scores means little in this instance, however, as the caliber of Eagle pitching in the Pig triumph was far superior to that exhibited against the Montgomery County champs.

Tigers Have Clean Slate.

Manager Paul James' nine has taken the measure of every other club entered in the championship series. In addition to stopping the Pigs and Eagles, his outfit also has defeated the Bauserman Motor Co., Virginia sectional finalists, who were set back 9 to 5. As a result the Tigers boast a clean slate of three wins and no losses, compared to the Pigs' total of one victory and one defeat.

The Takoma team is confident that it can repeat its previous triumph over Manager Waldrop's combination. In Ray Davidson and Dick Hughes, Manager James has available for duty two of the finest sandlot hurlers in this vicinity. In addition, he has one of the hardest hitting clubs ever to participate in Capital City League play.

Northern Virginia Officials To Organize Association

Meeting Listed Tomorrow Night; Bell Haven Women Golfers Reach Semifinals; Whirlwinds Planning for Basket Ball Already.

ALEXANDRIA, Sept. 30.—A Northern Virginia Officials Association will be organized on Wednesday night at a special meeting to be held in the Gazette office, 317 King street, at 7 o'clock. The object of the new association is to place competent football, baseball and basket ball officials in charge of the various sports in this section.

The association will have as its charter members, Doc Dreifus, Billy Wood, Raymond Peverill, Ross Walker, Robert McDonald, Rube Hayman, Maurice Given, Bill Entwisle and Jack Tulloch.

Association Hopes to Give Better Service.

These men engage in officiating in games in this section and by organizing the association they plan to give the teams and schools involved better service.

A charter from the State Corporation Commission of Virginia will be asked. Officers to guide the body also will be elected.

The semifinal round has been reached in the two flights of play for the woman's golf championship of the Belle Haven Country Club. In yesterday's matches, Mrs. G. L. Boothe 2d, club champion in 1929, defeated Mrs. F. W. Hunter, 8—7, in the second flight, while Mrs. J. W. Howard won from Miss Elizabeth Boothe, 3—2, in the first flight. The two winners of each division will meet Sunday for the title.

More than fifty golfers are taking part in the men's championship qualifying round. Two flights of sixteen each will qualify. The finals will be fought out over 36 holes on October 12. Charlie Rollins, of Fredericksburg, won the title in 1929.

Cecil Jackson has been elected as president of the Virginia Midgets. He will preside at an important meeting of the club to be held Wednesday night at 7 o'clock. Paul Humphrey is manager of the football. The Virginia Midgets will open their season Sunday.

Whirlwinds Planning for Basket Ball.

The Whirlwind A. C. will organize for the basket ball season Wednesday night, when an important meeting will be held at 7 o'clock at 1503 King street. The following players are requested to report: Howard J. Moore, G. Moore, D. Simpson, J. Simpson, E. Zimmerman, J. Sperling, Embrey, Mendelson, Carey, Godfrey, Mankin and Garvey.

Joe Hamilton, star end with the St. Mary's Celtics football team last year, signed today to perform with the Alpha Delta Omega Eleven. Hamilton will join the fraters at the conclusion of the local baseball season. He plays outfield for the Celtics.

Sid Hancock, full back for the Fraters, was injured in Sunday's Fort Myer tussle and will be on the sidelines in Sunday's game, as Coach Goldman does not want to take a chance in getting him crippled up before the Capital City League season opens.

Lealie Deavers, manager, hopes to play the Quantico Aviators in Sunday's engagement at Hunton Field.

Mrs. T. Schroyer starred for the Deborah team in the Rebekah Bowling League when she rolled a 299 set. The Deborah defeated the Ruth bowlers, 1,311 to 1,213.

Gerard Edwards, Gillie Lee and Rip Hicks are playing with "Win" Connell's All-Stars. They starred in Sunday's games in Richmond. The All-Stars were beaten in this contest.

LEWIS STARS AS EMERSON TRIUMPHS

Business Is Routed by 24-0 Margin; Draper Shines.

EMERSON INSTITUTE'S "All-High" team experienced no trouble, injury or loss of time yesterday in defeating Business High's eleven by the score of 24-0. The game was played on the Monument Grounds near Seventeenth and B. About 500 attended.

There is little to report except that Business was put to rout by a team of veteran youths who having played with various local high schools until tackled by that specter full back, scholastics, took up Emerson's maroon as a stepping stone into college. Business was embarrassingly outweighed, outplayed and outmaneuvered, as befits a green team when lined up against one that is far from that color.

Draper, Lewis Perform Well.

Bill Draper and Jakie Lewis played a good game of ball throughout the game. Draper hit Business' featherweight line with almost illegal force. His resolute charges, combined with a pointed noseguard, gave him the unreal aspect of a robot.

Lewis has lost none of the skill which stamped him as one of the best broken field runners the local schools have ever developed. His spurts around either end yesterday were a source of wonderment to Business tacklers.

Lewis and Draper marched to Emerson's first tally before half the first quarter had ticked away, Draper alone gaining 45 yards in three plunges through the line. Draper put it across in another 15-yard pull with a few Business men on him.

Emerson's attempts at the extra point, after this particular goal and the three others they scored, showed the need of much practice along these lines. Lewis was the prime offender.

Whistle Saves Business In Second Period.

Before the end of the first quarter Business again faced a Maroon wave on its one-yard line, brought there mostly by Draper's 33-yard run and subsequent plunging. Business' plucky young line withstood for the moment that ended the first quarter.

Draper took the ball across on the second try of the second quarter after muffing the first. Lewis failed for the extra point. Before the quarter ended the oval was again on Business' 10-yard line. The whistle saved another count.

Business, although badly battered, held firm in the third period but in the final section Emerson's weight and craftiness took its toll. Lewis bounced across on the first play and failed in an attempted drop kick for the extra point. Lewis a few minutes before the end tossed to Freer, who ran a few steps for the fourth tally.

FOREIGN BONDS LOSE AS RAIL LIST SCORES

Many Secondary Domestic Issues React to Lower Trend of Stocks.

SEABOARD AIR LINE OFF

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Factors highly divergent in the character of their influence were at work in the bond market today.

The result was an irregular session in which reinvestment demand coincident with the approach of interest and dividend-paying time carried high-grade railroad and utility issues forward to new highs for the year and a weak stock market and a pessimistic view of the foreign situation sent a large number of loans to new 1930 minimums.

The most marked reactionary trend developed in the foreign list were recessions ranging in many instances from 1 to 4 points depressed more than 50 bonds to new low prices for the year. The domestic list of secondary bonds and stock privilege issues reacted to the lower trend of stocks, and in some instances best grade issues were off fractionally as speculators sold their investment bonds to cover their marginal accounts in the share market.

The volume of business showed a big jump over Monday, surpassing $14,000,000. Much of the buying was attributed to the payment of dividends and interest on securities, due tomorrow, and was reflected in the strength of both seasoned railroad and utility issues and United States Government.

Canadian National Railway 4½s, Canadian Pacific Railway 4½s, Chicago & Alton 3½s, Big Four general 5s B and 5s D, Colorado & Southern Refunding 4½s, Illinois Central 4s, Kentucky Central 4s, New Haven debenture 4s, Northern States Power 5s A, Oregon Shore Line guaranteed 5s, Union Pacific 4s established new highs on gains that in some instances were a point or more. Many other rails and utilities sold off fractionally from their high prices of the year.

Republic Steel 5½s Sink.

Liquidation in the industrial list brought sharp reductions in bonds of sugar, oil and amusement companies, and some railroads whose earnings have been sharply curtailed. The drop of sugar futures to a new all-time low record forced Cuba Cane Products 6s, Cuba Sugar 7½s, and East Cuba Sugar 7½s to new 1930 lows on losses of 1 to 5 points. Armour & Co. 5½s, St. Paul Adjustment 5s, Childs Co. 5s, International Hydro-Electric 6s, International Telephone, Parmelee Transfer 6s, Republic Iron & Steel 5½s, Richfield and Shell Union oil bonds, and several issues of the Seaboard Air Line reached new 1930 bottoms.

The buying of French 7s and 7½s, at the highs of the year, together with the advance of Belgian issues and the firmness of Japan and British issues, stood out in sharp contrast with the new low levels sought by virtually half of the foreign bonds traded today. Both European and South American issues were affected by the selling movement, German 5½s, Italy 7s, Chilean 6s, Bolivian 8s, 7s and 6s, Argentine 6s, Australian 5s and Brazilian 8s were among the active Government issues to reach new low ground for the year.

P. BLAIR LEE JOINS BROWN BROS. & CO.

Son of Former Senator Is to Be Associated With Investment Firm.

NEW BANK STUDIES SEEN

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

P. Blair Lee, native of Silver Spring, Md., and son of former Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, has been admitted to partnership in the investment banking firm of Brown Bros & Co., according to announcement by that firm yesterday. In taking up the partnership, Mr. Lee has resigned as vice president of the First National Bank of Philadelphia, a post he has held since January 1928.

Following his graduation from Princeton in 1918, he served overseas in the World War as a captain of Infantry, Eightieth Division. For five years he was associated with Birdsboro Steel Foundry & Machine Co., Birdsboro, Pa., and for two years engaged in the real estate business here.

Believing that unless bank personnel is increased, a peak will be reached in class attendance with an inevitable decline, officials of Washington Chapter, American Institute of Banking will plan a program of new courses to interest students completing all now offered.

Seven Courses Now Required.

Need for this is not yet urgent for while the foregoing situation will be met with soon in the beginners' class, in banking fundamentals, the necessity for beginning students to complete the seven, and next year, eight courses to obtain standard certificates, will postpone it with regard to the school as a whole.

Aware of its eventuality, however, officials now have under consideration a course in real estate as related to banking, as well as courses in bank accounting and bank auditing. Later the curriculum may be augmented by timely, desired and attractive postgraduate courses.

Arthur Forraker, Washington manager for Eastman, Dillon & Co., announced yesterday the association of Charles Ashmead Fuller with its local office. A native Washingtonian, Mr. Fuller has been confidential secretary to Clarence F. Norment, Jr., banker, and prior to that was a sales manager for the Wardman organization. He is a governor of Chevy Chase Club, where he has been a golf champion for several years and has many friends in business circles.

Henry Camp Gets a New Job.

Henry M. Camp, formerly associate manager of the local office of Harriman & Co., and in charge of its statistical department, has joined the local office of Fenner & Beane, members of the New York Stock Exchange, taking up his new duties yesterday. Mr. Camp, well known in the financial district of Washington, is a director of the International Exchange Bank, member of the National Press Club, Washington Board of Trade and a Mason.

For many years he was connected with the trade association movement in Washington when he engaged principally in financial and business research for the building and construction industry. He has served in various capacities of a political nature, in organization and publicity work for the Republican national committee, the Republican National League and the local Republican organization for the past twenty years.

The August report of the Fidelity Investment Association reveals an increase in contracts issued compared with August, 1929. Volume reached $3,502,000 compared with $3,388,000. September will exceed all previous monthly records, according to a report by D. A. Burt, president of the association.

Volume of business in the first eight months of 1930 totals $30,126,000, an increase of $8,378,000 or 38½ per cent over the similar period of last year. The 1930 eight months' volume exceeds the entire volume of 1928, 1927 and 1926 by 40, 104 and 273 per cent, respectively.

2,000 Visit Acacia Club.

More than 2,000 guests have visited the Acacia Club since January 1, according to officials of the Acacia Mutual Life Association, operating the club as a service to its members.

Since its inception two years ago, the club has entertained more than 6,000 of its total membership of more than 50,000. Despite restricted travel this year, hotel reservations have been made for more than 312 parties, sight-seeing tours arranged for 180 parties, and train reservations for 44 parties. Every State in the Union is represented by this year's visitors, and, in addition, there have been guests from Alaska, Canal Zone, Philippine Islands, Canada, the Netherlands, Poland and Denmark.

Washington bank clearings for September totaled $97,868,931, a decline of $17,118,007 from the month a year ago. For the eight months they are $979,919,220, or $127,166,856 under those of last year.

Sept. 29, 1930, Washington, D. C.

Curb Review

New York, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Curb market stocks again plunged precipitantly today, several issues breaking through the low levels established last November.

The decline reached a climax during the middle of the afternoon, when failure of the investment house of J. A. Sisto & Co. was announced. For a time the market for several stocks of companies in which the Sisto firm was interested was completely demoralized, but bids began to appear before the close, and the market, as a whole, made moderate recovery from the day's lowest levels. The day's total sales aggregated 1,145,100 shares, the largest in more than three months.

Cuno Press, of which Mr. Sisto is a director, sold as low as 16, cutting in half the previous final price. It later rallied to 23¼. Cosden Oil, which sold early in the year at 74¾, was traded as low as 8. Sisto Financial, which closed yesterday at 18½, dropped to 10. For a time it was 2 bid. Hygrade Food sold at 2⅝, and closed at 4⅜, off 2½.

The utility shares remained the most active group, and declines were less precipitant here, although such issues as American Superpower, Middle West Utilities, and Niagara Hudson recorded new lows with declines of 1 to 2 points. Electric Bond & Share sagged nearly 3 points, to a new minimum for the year, at 63½, and closed at 64. Last November, however, it sold as low as 50. Associated Gas A rose fractionally, against the general trend.

Among the more prominent industrials, Aluminum Co. and Dere dropped 10 and 3, to new lows, although the former later recovered half its loss. Ford, Ltd., and American Cyanamid B, however, were steady. Newmont Mining broke 5 points to 73, also a new minimum. In the oils, Gulf lost 3 points, going below 100 for the first time this year. Most of the prominent investment company issues also recorded new bottom levels. United Founders dropped to 12½, a record low, but closed at 13⅝, off only 1⅝.

Produce Prices Change Slightly

Onions and Celery Dip While Sweet Potatoes Prove to Be Firmer.

The last of September found produce markets still dragging along with no startling changes either up or down, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture.

Some firmness developed in prices of sweet potatoes, potatoes and cabbages. Onions and celery sagged a little, but prices of tree fruits were fairly steady. Lighter shipments of sweet potatoes in late September tended to strengthen prices a little.

Virginia yellow varieties of sweet potatoes sold at a general level of $3 to $3.50 a barrel and brought as high as $3.50 to $4 a barrel in some cities. Bushel hampers of stock from Maryland brought $1 to $1.25. Apple shipments from the Cumberland-Shenandoah-Potomac district were rather light in late September. As compared with a year ago, output from this region is slightly less than one-third as heavy.

No Business Cycles

THE business cycle has completed its swing, some economists say, predicting that business is on the upturn . . . and on the turn of the wheel the stock market reacts—prosperity . . followed by depression . . . followed by prosperity—BUT—no one can tell when the wheel will turn—

And for those wise investors who do not depend on speculative stocks, the turn of the Wall Street wheel is a matter of slight importance . . . for they KNOW that their money, placed in a sound, never failing security, will always be safe . . . always working and earning for them . . .

That is why so many hundreds of people have placed their funds in the 6 per cent First Mortgage Notes sold through Swartzell, Rheem & Hensey Company. They know that for more than 61 years, these Notes have always paid a steady, unfailing interest return—despite the widest fluctuation in the financial market. There are no business cycles governing the value of First Mortgages—nor affecting the payment of interest on them.

Income... how much do you want ...at 30 ...at 40 ...at 50

PERMANENT income brings future happiness and financial independence. Under The MANDEL PLAN it may be accomplished in a surprisingly short time. Just tell us how much permanent income you feel you want at 30 . . . at 40 . . . at 50, and we will show you the possibilities to create it under The MANDEL PLAN.

For example, you need $100 a month before the end of the next 10 years. Very well—let us show you why we believe that only $440 a year invested under The MANDEL PLAN, with pay-backs and dividends reinvested, should produce $100 a month income for you.

Our new booklet covers the facts and completely details the splendid possibilities of The MANDEL PLAN for you. The coupon means what it says—No obligation. Send it.

Ohio Hunters Report Plane Falling Aflame

Bethesda, Ohio, Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Possemen and residents from here today searched the heavily wooded district near by for an airplane reported to have been seen falling in flames by two fox hunters about midnight last night.

They described hearing a whirring noise and then seeing the flaming carrier plunge earthward. They ran toward the place they thought it fell, but discovered nothing.

CLAIRVOYANT
THE MAN WHO KNOWS
608 12th St. N.W.
Over Woolworth's 5c & 10c Store

This strange man sees the way and tells it all. Just what your life has been, just what it will be. Tells you when and whom you will marry; whether husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false. Tells as to changes, travel, lost or absent friends, divorce, wills, deeds; whether it is best to buy or sell. He tells the good and the bad. A visit will convince you of his wonderful power.

Something tells you this is the man. You feel the impulse to call. Do not delay.

ALEXANDRIA VIEWS EXHIBITS OF LEGION

Attendance Exceeds That of Opening Night; Armory Decorations Lauded.

ROTARIANS HEAR SPEECH

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The second night of the American Legion trades exhibit and style show was patronized by even a larger attendance than the opening night. The decorations of the armory and of the 25 booths of Alexandria merchants are striking, and the many colored lights have transformed the bare walls of the huge structure into a place of beauty.

The great variety and profusion of merchandise being exhibited exceeds any previous exhibit ever given in Alexandria. Prizes are being distributed by the exhibitors, and in addition a door prize of a $2.50 gold piece is being given by the Legion post each night.

The main feature, and the one attracting the most attention, is the style show, in which four living models, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Meeks, display the latest creations in women's wear each night. The models, all of whom are connected with the American Legion, are Mrs. Eura Haslett, Miss Anita Noble, Mrs. May Moore and Miss Dorothy Penn. George P. Birrell acts as master of ceremonies.

The entertainment program given in the course of the evening included a skit by J. William May and D. C. Givens; selections by the Alexandria Hawaiians and classical dancing by little Miss Vera Shepherd. The Golden Castle Orchestra, of Fort Humphreys, furnished music during the evening for all the features.

The exhibitors having booths in the trade exhibit are the Alexandria Awning Co., Alexandria Gazette, Auto Accesories Co., American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, T. J. Fannon & Sons, G. Raymond Gaines, R. E. Knight & Son, Michelbach, Mutual Ice Co., J. C. Penney Co., Thomas C. Rawlett, John H. Ruff, George H. Railing, A. M. Remschell, Southern Sign Co., Swan Bros., Virginia Public Service Co., Warner-Gray, J. Kent White and H. H. Watkins.

The show will continue throughout the week, and the proceeds will be used by the legion post in meeting the interest charges on Gadsby's Tavern, which historic building has been acquired by the post as a home and as a memorial to the Alexandria boys who lost their lives in the World War.

Rotarian Albertus Perry, of the Chestertown, Md., club, the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon in the George Mason Hotel yesterday, declared that the English are responsible for advancement of the Rotary clubs in Europe. An Englishman, he said, carries his Rotary club affiliations with him wherever he goes. He described the great strides made by the Rotary clubs in the Far East, and said that the club of Alexandria, Egypt, has the distinction of being the only club in the world that gathers once a week for its luncheon and business meeting on a boat.

Mr. Perry described conditions in Jerusalem, whose Rotary club was formed with eighteen members, of whom five were Jews, one Arab and the rest Englishmen. In Africa, he said, international peace is the main object of the Rotarians. He expressed the hope that the Alexandria club would be represented at the next international convention of Rotary in Vienna, Austria, when it is expected that more than 4,000 delegates from the United States will be present.

Judge William S. Stone presided and announced programs that have been provided for future meetings. He said that he and Robert L. May would be absent Tuesday, as they are going in quest of bluefish at Killmonic, N. C.

Rotarian Everett Swan led the club singing and Rotary membership diplomas were presented to two new members—Abe Martin and Talbert Haslett, Judge Snow making the presentation.

Richard Wilmer Bolling, brother of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, has purchased one of the houses in the 100 block Prince street, which he intends to restore to its original condition. This is the seventh of the old houses on that block which have been acquired, the intention being to completely restore that particular block to its condition as it was in colonial days, every detail, including the flower gardens, trees and street paved with cobble stones, which were brought to this country from England as ballast in sailing ships, being given careful attention.

The movement to restore this block was started by Mrs. Charles Hooff, formerly Miss Carlyle Herbert, who has made a careful study of conditions as they existed in the olden days, and has interested many prominent and wealthy Washington people in the project.

John U. Reardon was yesterday named by Judge William P. Woolls, of the corporation court, as a member of the Alexandria Zoning Commission, to fill the vacancy caused by resignation of Harry Hammond. Other members of the commission are George E. Garrett, Nicholas J. Lawler, B. B. Ezrine and Robert L. Kane.

The first matter to be referred to the new commission by the city council is that of a permit for a gasoline station at the southwest corner of Washington and Wilkes streets. Attorney Gardner L. Boothe, representing the Standard Oil Co., filed an application for this permit, or rather, for an extension of the original permit granted by the council to Mrs. Agnes Cael, former owner of the property, asking that the permit allow the filling station to occupy 124 feet frontage on Washington street instead of 58 feet as originally provided. Mr. Boothe presented this petition at the last regular meeting of the council, but when he found it was to be referred to the zoning commission, he asked leave to withdraw it, as he stated prompt action was imperative. At the special meeting Monday, however, he again presented the petition, which was referred to the zoning commission with a request for prompt action.

The work of reading all gas meters in Alexandria preparatory to the turning over by the city of the gas plant to its new owners, the Alexandria Gas Co., was virtually completed yesterday; and, beginning today, bills will be rendered by the new company. City Collector Purvis Taylor stated yesterday that the final bills for the city will not be presented until about October 10 or 12, when the consumers will receive two bills, one for the old reading and the other for the final reading of yesterday.

A jury in the Corporation Court, Judge William P. Wools presiding, has awarded a verdict of $300 in the suit of Bruce T. Stambaugh against E. J. Nevitt, of Newington, Fairfax County, for damages resulting from an automobile accident July 9. Stambaugh sued for $10,000, alleging that he received personal injuries.

Attorney James Reece Duncan represented Stambaugh, with Harry F. Kennedy appearing for Nevitt.

Fire of undetermined origin early yesterday morning destroyed an unoccupied one-story frame building in the alley at the rear of the warehouse of J. Dreifus & Son, 117 South Union street, and caused considerable damage to the warehouse and its contents, the latter consisting mainly of rubber and paper. The amount of the damage has not been definitely fixed. No insurance was carried on the building or contents, according to Mr. Dreifus.

WAR MOTHERS PLAN VIRGINIA CONVENTION

Initial Meeting for State Group Will Be Held at Falls Church.

WILL OPEN TOMORROW

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The first State convention of the American War Mothers of Virginia will be held tomorrow and Friday in the Columbia Baptpist Church, on Washington street, in Falls Church. The Piedmont Chapter will act as hosts, with Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, of Falls Church, presiding. The State organization includes the chapters at Falls Church, Alexandria and Norfolk. The opening session of the convention will be held in the Sunday schoolroom beginning at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. This session will be devoted to the report of the various committees. A luncheon will be served to the visiting delegates and their friends. The afternoon session will consist of election of officers and installation and addresses.

At 6 o'clock tomorrow evening a dinner for the State officers and guests will be served at the Washington Golf and Country Club, on Globe road. This will be followed by an open meeting at 8 o'clock, to which the public has been invited. Special invitations have been extended to the members of the American Legion and Auxiliary. The program will consist of special music and addresses by national officers of the organization.

The session Friday morning will open at 10 o'clock with a pilgrimage to Arlington Cemetery. There the presidents of the two visiting chapters, Mrs. Norman T. Williamson, of Alexandria, and Mrs. Oliver Jordan Wample, of Norfolk, will place wreaths on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The members of the pilgrimage will be the guests of the American Legion Auxiliary at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Arthur J. Porter in Clarendon.

Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, president of the State organization, has appointed the following persons on the various committees: Reception committee, Mrs. W. L. Turner, Mrs. C. T. Howard, Mrs. Norman Williamson and Mrs. Spofford; music committee, Mrs. George Fadely and Mrs. John W. Garner; program committee, Mrs. C. N. McGroarty, Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, Mrs. W. L. Turner and Mrs. George N. Lester; banquet committee, Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, Mrs. W. L. Turner, Mrs. T. T. Taylor, Mrs. Samuel H. Styles and Mrs. George Newell; automobiles, Mrs. T. T. Taylor, and publicity, Mrs. G. N. Lester.

Mrs. W. L. Turner, president of the Piedmont Chapter, has appointed the following committee to serve the luncheon Thursday: Mrs. J. Oliver Williams, chairman; Mrs. Nobel Moore, Mrs. M. Sission, Mrs. L. Wakefield, Mrs. J. W. Garner, Mrs. Cumberland, Mrs. M. Bean, Mrs. J. Oliver Frank, Mrs. S. H. Styles, Mrs. M. E. Church and Mrs. J. T. Shotwell.

The new officers of the Piedmont Chapter, which were installed last week, include: Mrs. W. L. Turner, president; Mrs. George N. Lester, vice president; Mrs. T. T. Taylor, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Samuel H. Styles, recording secretary; Mrs. George H. Fadely, treasurer; Mrs. W. S. Orr, chaplain, and Mrs. M. C. Bean, custodian of records.

Mrs. Turner has appointed her standing committees for the year as follows: Magazines, Mrs. N. C. McGroarty; legislation, Mrs. T. M. Talbott; hospialization, Mrs. J. Oliver Frank, Mrs. W. O. Williams, Mrs. G. B. Fadely, Mrs. M. C. Bean and Mrs. M. E. Church; memory tree, Mrs. T. T. Taylor and Mrs. J. W. Garner; Americanization, Mrs. Samuel H. Styles and Mrs. M. Sission; welfare work, Mrs. G. M. Newell, Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, Mrs. George N. Lester and Mrs. W. L. Turner; publicity, Mrs. George N. Lester.

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors will hold its regular monthly meeting this morning in the board room of the county courthouse. Several questions concerning future policies of the board will be discussed.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Clifton will hold a meeting this evening. Officers will be elected and its work for the coming year will be planned. An entertainment program will be presented by the faculty of the school.

The Fairfax County Welfare Board is sending an appeal to the various organizations of the county and the residents for contributions of clothing and other wearing apparel suitable for use by school children. Early last spring Mrs. Louise S. Manghum, county superintendent of public welfare, established a clothes closet in the basement of the courthouse under the direction of Mrs. Amos H. Chilcott, where the supplies were collected, assorted according to sizes and ages and stored until needed. There was a generous response made by the citizens at that time, and many needy families were outfitted. Leaders of the welfare work state that at the present time the calls for clothing is urgent as needy children starting to school this month must be outfitted immediately. All contributions may be left at the office of the Fairfax County Health Unit in Fairfax or the local representative of the welfare board in each community.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Southern Methodist Church at Andrew Chapel will hold its meeting this afternoon.

The Blessed Virgin Sodality of the St. James Catholic Church at West Falls Church will hold its meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. David Patterson.

The School and Community League at Oakton will hold its meeting this evening in the schoolhouse there. Patrons of the school are considering the advisability of connecting the school water system with an old well nearby so that an adequate supply of water can be maintained at all times.

The Fairfax Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy will meet today at the home of its president, Mrs. Nora V. Allison, in Fairfax.

PILOT OF ZEPPELIN TESTS HYBLA VALLEY

Washington Trade Board and Alexandria Body Buy Instruments.

Intricate and expensive instruments to test wind and other climatic conditions have been purchased by the Washington Board of Trade and the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce and installed at Hybla Valley as part of a survey being conducted in this country by Dr. Hugo Eckener, pilot of the Graf Zeppelin, with a view of establishing a large transoceanic airport.

Hybla Valley is one of three sites being considered by Dr. Eckener for the airport. With transportation and other facilities convenient to this site, it is believed by many to be the most favored. The others are at Richmond and Baltimore. Dr. Eckener, in his search for a site, asked interested communities to finance the climatic tests that he desires before he can make a final decision.

As Hybla Valley, if chosen as the site, would be beneficial both to Washington and to Alexandria, the two prominent trade organizations of both cities decided to cooperate in the purchase and installation of the necessary instruments. About twelve of these instruments, of a highly technical nature, have been placed at Hybla Valley. Readings are being taken daily and the results sent to Dr. Eckener's representatives in New York City.

Van Orman, the famous balloonist, is one of Dr. Eckener's chief representatives in this country. The balloonist was in conference yesterday with representatives of the local Board of Trade and the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce. He was reported to be highly pleased with the progress made so far in the climatic survey.

Heads of the two trade organizations are also discussing plans with Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad officials for the extension of a two-mile spur track to Hybla Valley if the airport is established at this site.

Dr. Eckener made a personal visit to Hybla Valley the last time he was in this country. His announcement that it was one of three sites under consideration followed soon after this.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR BETHESDA WORK

E. S. Ryan Low Bidder for Job of Improving Streets in Montgomery.

THREE ESTIMATES MADE

Contract for street improvements in Bethesda district yesterday was awarded E. S. Ryan, low bidder, by the Montgomery County commissioners following opening of bids. The contract calls for improvement of Willow lane, Elm street and Forty-sixth street. The low bid was $1,916.60.

The work will require excavation of 125 square yards, 700 square yards of paving, 665 square yards of plain curbing and 170 square yards of pavement to be removed. Other bids submitted were Raymond H. Burrows, $1,941, and F. I. Ray, $2,233.

Fines and costs collected by Judge A. L. Wilson, of the Takoma Park Police Court, totaled $19.50 in the month of September, according to a report submitted to the county commissioners yesterday by the judge. Ten dollars of this amount represents automobile law violations and will be forwarded to the commissioner of motor vehicles at Baltimore.

Mayor J. Roger Spates and members of the Rockville Town Council will meet tonight with representatives of the Washington Gas Light Co. to discuss the installation of gas mains in Rockville. At a meeting Monday night, a tentative agreement was reached but several details still remained unsettled. It is expected that tonight's meeting will result in the granting of a permit to install approximately 12 miles of gas mains in the town at a cost of approximately $60,000 to the gas company.

A baby clinic will be held at Silver Spring tomorrow morning from 10 to 12 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal Church on Georgia avenue, under the auspices of the Mothers Study Club.

Dr. Bradley B. Hodgkins, a practicing pediatrician, will be in charge of the clinic. He has served on the dispensary staff of the Children's Hospital since 1924 and has had two years' post-graduate work in the Public Health Service at Baltimore. He was graduated from Georgetown University.

Suit for absolute divorce was filed in circuit court at Rockville yesterday by Lowell Milton Smith, of Washington. In his petition, filed by Attorney William Wendell, of Washington, the husband claims that Mrs. Mary Annie Smith, of Silver Spring, deserted him more than three years ago. The couple was married August 18, 1923, at Washington.

FIFTH RESERVE AREA SEES UPWARD TREND

Seasonal Improvement in Certain Lines Noted; Far Behind 1929.

COTTON PRICES DECLINE

Richmond, Va., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—There were signs of seasonal improvement in certain lines of trade in the Fifth Federal Reserve District during August and the first half of September, but the increase was less than in most years, and on the whole recent developments were unfavorable for early resumption of active business, William I. Boxton said today in the Monthly Review of the Fifth District.

The drought has continued, and further reduced agricultural prospects, the Review said, and there were no upward trends in prices for agricultural products in so far as the leading money crops were concerned —"cotton prices continuing to decline, and tobacco markets opening at or near record low levels."

Regarding Reserve Bank credit, the review said the credit needed in the district did not increase between the middle of August and the middle of September as it usually does, but the volume of reserve notes in circulation turned upward slightly about a month later than in most years.

Bank Conditions Change Little.

Member bank conditions changed little during the month, there being relatively small demand for loans. Debits to individual accounts in leading cities declined during the four weeks ended September 10 in comparison with the debits during the four preceding weeks, and the corresponding like period in 1929.

Business failures last month in the fifth district compared favorably, Mr. Hoxton said, with the national record, being fewer in number and lower in liabilities than in August, 1929, while for the United States on the whole increases both in number and liabilities in August, 1930, were reported.

Employment showed little or no change in the month.

Coal production in August showed a seasonal increase over July production, but the increase was relatively small and the output was considerably below the tonnage mined in August last year.

Textile Situation Unchanged.

The situation in the textile field, which the report said, "has been very unsatisfactory for many months," changed little in August.

Building permits issued in the leading cities of the district during the period covered by the review, were fewer in number and lower in estimated valuation than those issued in August, 1929.

Retail trade, as reflected in department store sales was 5.6 per cent less in dollar amount in August, 1930, than in August, 1929, and wholesale trade in August was "much below the volume of business done last year, the declines ranging from 10.3 per cent in groceries to 29.3 per cent in dry goods."

Civil War Veteran, 88, Is Dead at Cumberland

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 30.—Charles Augustus Floto, 88, Union veteran of the Civil War, died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William B. Frazier, this city. He had lived here 10 years since his retirement as a cigar manufacturer at Berlin, Pa., where he resided many years and where his body will be taken Thursday for burial. Coming from Hamburg, Germany, when he was 4 years old, he ran away from home when he was 14 and enlisted in the Union Army at Harrisburg, Pa., serving four years. He was present when Lee surrendered.

Mr. Floto was a Lutheran, Mason and Odd Fellow. Besides his daughter is survived by his wife and two sons.

Noted Sculptor's Bust To Be Placed in Gap

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., Sept. 30.—A life-sized bust of William Randolph Barbee, famous American sculptor, the work of his son, Herbert Barbee, 74 years old, will be unveiled in Thornton's Gap on top of the Blue Ridge, 7 miles east of Luray, Saturday afternoon. Dr. John W. Wayland, Virginia historian, will deliver an address.

William Randolph Barbee was born in 1818. During the administration of President Buchanan Mr. Barbee did a great deal of work at the National Capitol. In 1858 Mr. Barbee went to Florence, Italy, where he studied for ten years. The bust to be unveiled Saturday will stand near where the father of the late William Jennings Bryan was born more than 100 years ago.

THE ONCE OVER

MIDGET GOLF A LA LONGFELLOW.

UNDER a spreading chestnut tree
The Tom Thumb golf course stands.
The oaf a busy man is he,
With corns upon his hands,
And he's wrong about the putting grip
And wrong the way he stands.

HIS stance is bad, his form is worse,
His face is seamed by care,
His brow is wet with honest sweat,
He has a vacant stare,
He putts a little ball around—
And it goes most ev'rywhere.

WEEK in, week out, by day and night,
You can hear his language flow
As he gives the pellet tap by tap
With backawing crude and slow,
And groans as he beholds it roll
To the place it shouldn't go.

AND children coming home from school
Look in thru the picket fence;
They love to see him miss a putt
And note his pose so tense
And catch the burning words that fly
Like sparks from a blaze immense.

HE goes on Sunday to the church.
And as the parson prays
He thinks of holes-in-one he missed
And thinks of certain ways
To go around the course in par
And win a little praise.

HE thinks about the seventh hole,
The one that's a cushion shot:
He needs must think of his last score—
It was a twelve he got—
He thinks how he took up the game
And wishes he had not!

TOILING, rejoicing, sorrowing,
Onward through life he goes—
A victim of this midget golf
With all its bitter woes;
No matter how he dubs around,
Its hold upon him grows.

THANKS, thanks to thee, my goofy friend,
For a lesson strong and true!
Great nuts from little courses grew
And they make a funny crew;
Do you think I play the damphool game?
You can betcher life I do!

TOBACCO MARKETS OPENED IN VIRGINIA

Few Lots Bring From $20 to $30 Per 100 Pounds at Petersburg.

CROP OFF 50 PER CENT

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 30.—The bright tobacco market in Petersburg opened this morning with offerings of about 30,000 pounds, consisting principally of primings, which sold at prices ranging from $11 to $12 per 100 pounds, while some of the individual lots brought prices ranging from $20 to $30 for 100 pounds.

The tobacco of inferior quality, while it brought prices considered good, served to curtail the market price average on all offerings. The opening day was considered satisfactory among producers, buyers and warehouse men, especially in view of the fact prices here have proved much better than those recorded for initial sales on several other Southern markets.

Danville, Va., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—Light tobacco markets of Virginia opened today throughout this section with the State crop estimated to be less than 50 per cent of the average.

The local market opened with 500,000 pounds. With two sales instead of four it appears that the sales will be in block. The third and fourth sales will be in force within two weeks. The leaf color was poorer than last year but the better grades were bringing fair prices.

Tobacco Factory Destroyed by Fire

Plant Contained 200,000 Pounds of Rehandled Product.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., Sept. 30.—Fire of undetermined origin starting this morning on the third floor of the three-story frame tobacco factory of the W. E. Sawyer Tobacco Co., on the corner of East Washington and Jefferson streets, destroyed 200,000 pounds of rehandled tobacco. The fire was the most disastrous that has occurred in Petersburg for a long time and was witnessed by a crowd estimated at 3,000 persons, including 500 pupils from the Duncan Brown Public School, in close proximity to the fire, which was emptied by the pupils in 45 seconds.

Another large tobacco factory firm across the street from the fire narrowly escaped being burned, as did also a number of houses close by.

Sixty or more employes were in the factory at the time of the fire, all of whom escaped without injury. The factory was erected 25 years ago by the William B. Beach Co., but has not been used by them for a long time.

Man Uses Trick Faucet To Produce Home Brew

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., Sept. 30.—William H. Yutzy, of Mount Savage, Md., was fined $100 and costs following a plea of guilty of possession of beer. He had been found not guilty of sale of beer and maintaining a nuisance by the jury.

Federal agents testified that Yutzy at his place of business had a double pipe tap for real or near beers, that he had demonstrated to them in making sales that when the faucet lever was turned to the right, fly-weight near beer was produced and when to the left, high-test home brew would come forth.

Winchester Girl Is Married.

Winchester, Va., Sept. 30 (Special).—George Clayton, Ritter, Martinsburg, W. Va., and Miss Mary Margaret Stryker, daughter of Mrs. Mary Massey Stryker and the late J. P. Stryker, were married Monday at the Church of the Sacred Heart by the Rev. Robert E. Hannon, according to announcements today. Miss Marshall Stryker, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Paul Tomney, this city, best man. The couple will reside here.

ARMY WORMS INVADE FREDERICK COUNTY

Pest Adds to Depletion of Crops Already Hit by Drought.

DESTROYS NEW WHEAT

Frederick, Md., Sept. 30 (A.P.).—In the wake of the destructive drought, Frederick County is suffering from an invasion of army worms, according to reports from various sections of the county to Henry R. Shoemaker, county agent.

The presence of the pest is largely due to the lack of rainfall. Around Burkittsville, Buckeyestown and Lewistown, as well as in other vicinities, it has been eating and destroying new wheat, rye, oats and forage crops not already a prey to the drought.

The worm made its appearance here in 1912, 1920 and 1924, with the first and last years named the most noticeable. It does the greater part of its damage to forage crops and the normal period of outbreak is the last of August or the first of September. Fall winds generally carry the moths of the worms into the north.

Some idea of the disastrous effects of the drought in Frederick County may be obtained from the fact that from about 20 acres of corn Prof. Amon Burgee, he reported, failed to realize a single ear of matured corn. He was obliged to buy feed in Canada for his stock.

Another farmer near here said he realized enough for two meals from a field of eight or ten acres, and another farmer near Walkersville said he got four dozen ears from a large field.

The most practical control measure for the army worm, according to the Department of Agriculture, is to broadcast poison bran mash made by mixing Paris green and bran—two pounds of the former to 50 of the bran. After mixing this should be wet with one gallon of molasses added to six gallons of water. The mixture should then be broadcast over affected fields at the rate of about 10 pounds an acre. Or it should be spread about the edges of a field already invaded and from which the worms are migrating to other areas.

U.D.C. Convention Opens in Staunton

35th Annual Parley Begun With Welcome by City Manager.

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., Sept. 30.—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of Confederacy, was opened here, this evening with a session devoted to addresses of welcome, followed by a reception for State officers and other visitors. The convention will hold morning, afternoon and evening meetings Wednesday and Thursday, closing Friday morning. Between 125 and 150 delegates are expected to be here before opening of the first business session tomorrow morning.

Tonight Staunton's welcome was extended by City Manager Willard F. Day, in the absence of Mayor Julius L. Witz. Col. J. Wellington Spitler, commander of Stonewall Jackson Camp, United Confederate Veterans, brought greetings to the visitors.

This is the first time Staunton has entertained the State daughters since 1919.

Farmer Struck by Auto Dies; Wife Cut, Bruised

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Sept. 30.—James N. Frye, 49, farmer, struck by an automobile Sunday evening while walking with his wife to church services at Capon Bridge, W. Va., died today in a hospital here of multiple injuries including a skull fracture, broken leg and six fractured ribs, which caused lung puncture.

Lee Whitacre and a youth named Brown, occupants of the machine, alleged to have been on the wrong side of the road, are in the Romney jail charged with manslaughter. A third man has not been arrested. Mrs. Frye, daughter of Mrs. Gustav Lentz, Washington, was cut and bruised.

REGISTRATION LIGHT IN PRINCE GEORGES

Hyattsville Former Mayor Is Elected Head of New G. O. P. Club.

MEETING TO BE TUESDAY

Though workers of both parties were active yesterday in attempting to bring out the voters to register in Prince Georges County, registrations were light. Political leaders attributed this to the fact that a heated primary fight had resulted in most of the voters being already on the books.

Most of those persons who appeared yesterday were new voters who had come of age since the primary elections were held. Only eleven voters had been added to the election lists in Marlboro precinct yesterday afternoon, though this polling place has one of the largest count of ballots.

Although there were no reports of persons being brought to the polling places in party autos, and efforts to get out the registrations were by no means so pronounced as efforts to get out the voters, both parties maintained watchers at the registration places.

It was thought by some observers that registration in the metropolitan area would increase toward sundown, as citizens working in Washington would register as they returned from work. There is one more day on which they may register.

Changes were announced yesterday in the speaking schedule of Mayor William F. Broening of Baltimore, Republican candidate for governor, which affect party meetings in Prince Georges County. The rallies at Hyattsville and Mount Rainier have been set up one day, from October 9 to October 8, in order that the candidate may speak at a meeting in Laurel on the 9th. This, however, does not involve any change in the afternoon meeting in Upper Marlboro on October 8.

Two rallies at which county Republican candidates will speak have also been scheduled. Both will be on October 21 in Capitol Heights and Fairmont Heights at 8 o'clock. Others will be held in nearly all districts, but the dates have not been set.

William A. Brooks, former Mayor Hyattsville, was elected president a Republican club formed in the town Monday night. Otway B. Zantzinger, jr., is secretary, and A. Eugene Burgess is treasurer. Another meeting of the club, which is one of a group of such organizations being formed in the county, will be held next Tuesday night.

Newton A. James was appointed chairman of a committee which will have charge of receiving the Republican candidates when they speak in Hyattsville.

Reversing a decision they made last week, the town council of Hyattsville granted a permit to Dr. Jacob Waldman to erect a $50,000 office building at Rhode Island and Johnson avenues. The first vote resulted in a tie and Dr. H. T. Willis, mayor of the town, was forced to cast the deciding vote. Last week the council had stopped work on the project by refusing a town permit for the work.

The meeting was marked by a declaration by T. Howard Duckett, counsel for Dr. Waldman, that the town has not the power to establish building lines in sections zoned for commercial purposes.

Four thousand feet of sidewalks, to be constructed each side of the newly widened Baltimore Boulevard through the town of Riverdale, was authorized at a meeting of the town council. Property owners will be assessed the full cost of the 4½-foot sidewalk and the sum will be paid in twelve semi-annual installments. Bids on the improvement will be opened on October 20.

Following the report of two new cases of typhoid fever near Upper Marlboro, 35 colored persons in the vicinity were inoculated against that disease yesterday. Fourteen of them were from the Marlboro colored school and 21 residents of the neighborhood. Twelve children from the Forestville Colored School also were vaccinated.

Candidates of both parties for the office of governor and other aspirants for public office will be invited to attend the laying of the corner stone of the new Tuxedo fire house on October 11. Property for the building was donated to the newly organized company by Thomas N. Mohler and J. T. Pryor.

Lester Berry is chief of the new department, with E. H. Mohler as assistant chief. Other officers and trustees have also been named.

Wealthy Tanner Dies In Frederick County

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., Sept. 30.—Luther Brill, 75 years old, for many years an outstanding citizen and business man of the Star Tannery section of Frederick County, died at his home late yesterday, following several months' illness. Starting life with little or nothing, he became one of the wealthiest residents of that section. He was for many years associated with the late Thomas Cover, sr., millionaire tanner, in the leather business in the mountains. In later years, after the Cover interests were sold to the United States Leather Co., he operated a flour and feed mill.

Surviving are a widow, formerly Miss Annie Pifer; four brothers, Dorsey, Clarence, George and Russell Brill, and one sister, Mrs. John Robinson, of Washington, D. C. The body will be interred in Mount Hebron Cemetery here Thursday.

Gas Plant Franchise Is Granted by Luray

Special to The Washington Post.

Luray, Va., Sept. 30.—For $1.00 the Luray town council has granted a two-year franchise to the McBeth Co., Inc., New York, for "lighting and heat purposes." The MacBeth Co. has posted $5,000 bond not to disturb and mutilate the streets of Luray in installing its plant.

The MacBeth Co. a few weeks ago secured a similar franchise from the town of Shenandoah, this county. Gas will be manufactured in Luray from a liquid preparation known as "butane."

Physician Reports $50 Theft.

Dr. Charles B. Pulghum, 2145 C street northwest, yesterday told police that $50 had been taken from a bureau drawer in his apartment between 5 and 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, during his absence. He said that the thief evidently used a pass key.
